TURNER SETS EAST TO WEST FLYING RECORD

Glendale, Cal., May 27.—[Special.]—Col. Roscoe Turner, flying at Lockhead Vega monoplane, landed at Grand Central air terminal at 7:46:34 o'clock this evening, completing a one-stop dawn-to-dusk transcontinental flight and clipping 26 minutes and 58 seconds from Capt. Frank Hawks' record. His elapsed flying time was 18 hours 43 minutes and 34 seconds.

Turner left New York at 1:04.40 a. m., arrived at Wichita at 10:45 a. m. and left Wichita at 11:16 a. m. for the coast. In making his record Turner battled strong headwinds from Roosevelt field to Wichita. He had a mascot lion cub in the plane with him.

POLICE FEAR MORAN AID IS GANG VICTIM

Police suspected last night that trouble had overtaken Willie Marks. It was even suggested that the chief lieutenant of the Moran-Aiello gang might have been taken for a ride.

A lawyer filed application for a writ of habeas corpus for Marks and one George Jordan yesterday afternoon before Chief Justice Normoyle in Criminal court. On the assumption that Marks and his companion were incarcerated, a date was set for a hearing on the writ and the police were instructed to produce the prisoners. The books of the 41 police precincts established that neither was in custody.

Little Mary Loses Job as Little Mother

It was a strange place for a child's birthday party, but Mary Cummings was delighted nevertheless with the ice cream and cake served to her small sisters and herself yesterday by the matron in the State street police station. "Yes, ma'am, it's such a nice surprise," said Mary, who is just 11 years old.

Mary and her sisters, Janet, 9 years old, and the twins, Julia and Frances, 6, were pupils at the Haven school, 1472 South Wabash avenue. The younger three attended regularly but Mary had been absent for the past three weeks and no excuse came from her mother.

So a truant officer, Mrs. Mary Feeney, was notified. Investigating the supposed delinquency, Mrs. Feeney discovered an example of what she and the police considered rare fortitude in a child. Hence the birthday party.

A Faithful Housekeeper.

In a woman's housecap and an apron that hung to her heels, Mary came to the door when Mrs. Feeney called at the tenement at 1614 South Michigan avenue. She had been scrubbing the floors and her hands were red from hot soap suds.

Glancing around the bare but spotless two rooms, Mrs. Feeney decided that Mrs. Cummings was at least a neat housekeeper. She asked for the mother.

"She's been gone three weeks," said Mary. "Daddy came home and said she had been going through his pockets for money. He was sick from moonshine and punched her. Mother was sick too, from an operation, and I guess she couldn't stand it any more, so she left.

"I'm the oldest so I stayed home to keep house. Mrs. Keim upstairs and the lady that sold daddy moonshine and the other neighbors gave us soup and bread."

"The neighbors!" exclaimed Mrs. Feeney. "Where's your father? Doesn't he work?"

"Yes, ma'am; he sells needles on street cars," Mary answered. "But when mother went away he got sad and drank more moonshine. After a week he went away, too."

Keeps Family Together.

Mrs. Feeney decided the case was one for the police. Mary was unwilling to go until the truant officer assured her she would not be separated from her sister and Pal, her tan and white dog, who at night "kept the bogey man away."

"I wish I had a little girl like you," said one of the bachelor sergeants at the station. He handed her a dollar and Mary's face lighted up with gratitude.

"Can't we have a birthday party?" piped Janet. So the sergeant went out for cake and ice cream and the children had their feast.

Before the sisters were sent to the juvenile home last night Mary had received other birthday presents to the sum of $5.

PAIR OF ROBBER SUSPECTS SHOT BY POLICEMAN

Elgin, Ill., May 27.—(AP)—Two men, stopped for questioning by Patrolman Oscar F. Gener tonight, engaged in an argument with the officer and before they reached the station, about a block away, all three had been shot and wounded. The men were held as robber suspects. One gave his name as Stanley Warwick, 25, and said he lived with his sister at 3317 South Wall street, Chicago. The other refused to give any information about himself other than the name "Jack."

They drove up to a stop light at what Gener said was an excessive rate of speed. He stopped them and began to question them. The officer said they became abusive and he ordered them to drive to the police station. They drove past it and tried to talk him out of arresting them. Driving around the block, the policeman said, they tried to bribe him. The third time around the officer drew his pistol, forcing them to halt. He seized Warwick and forced him from the machine. Jack fired at the officer, missing him and shooting two fingers from one of Warwick's hands. A second shot struck Gener in the chest but was deflected by a notebook.

Gener wounded Jack seriously. All three were taken to St. Joseph's hospital for treatment.

SHE IS 82, BUT SHE WON'T GO TO OLD FOLKS' HOME

Before Judge Heller in Grand Crossing court yesterday came Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, 82 years old, homeless and destitute but with a spirit still independent. The police had taken her into custody at 63d street and Cottage Grove avenue Monday night when she admitted she had no home.

"I won't go to the Old People's home at Oak Forest," Mrs. Mills declared. "I was there for a while two years ago and couldn't get along with the rest."

"All right," said the judge, and he called for contributions. A collection among bailiffs, clerks, and others netted $50. Mrs. Mills left the courtroom promising to find living quarters and a job.

WOMAN LOSES $67 IN TAX CUT SWINDLE GAME

Mrs. Nicholas Albergo, 2166 North McVicker avenue, discovered yesterday that she had been swindled out of $67 by a man posing as a representative of a "tax bureau." The man, claiming influence at the city hall, said he would reduce her taxes to $67.20 if she would give him the money to make the payment. He got the money and told the woman to call at the county building for her receipt. She called and learned that she had been swindled.

COOK COUNTY WINS A POINT FOR TAX RELIEF

Downstate Agrees to Armistice.

BY PARKE BROWN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 27.—[Special.]—With the sanction of Gov. Louis L. Emmerson an armistice between the Cook county delegation and the downstate bloc in the special session of the general assembly was put into effect for at least one week.

Gov. Emmerson not only yielded to the insistence of Chicago and its suburbs that action on the proposed amendment of the constitution be deferred until the Cook county financial relief bills have had a chance, but he indicated that important changes must be made in the pending resolution for the constitutional amendment which was passed by the senate last week.

The governor's position was made known in a conference with leaders of the house of representatives who were called to his office. Later he told newspaper men that he saw no objection to two changes proposed in the amendment resolution and that two others should be considered.

Take Up Amendments Tuesday.

Upon this basis the members in conference with him reported back to the house an agreement covering operations for the next week. Tomorrow amendments to the constitutional resolution will be introduced, but they will not be taken up until next Tuesday.

The house took no action upon the suggested outline of procedure and Representative Homer J. Tice, who disclosed the plan on the floor, said that it was nothing more than a suggestion and was not binding upon the house. But the Chicago group was quick to act and upon motion of Representative David I. Swanson immediate consideration of the bills brought down by the Strawn committee was begun. It occupied the rest of the day.

Meantime the senate, which last Wednesday by 38 to 8 approved the exact form of amendment, was gathering for the first time this week in its chamber at the opposite end of the statehouse, the members of the Barr-Emmerson majority expressing irritation that they had been led into placing themselves on permanent record as favoring the provisions of a constitutional proposal that they now described as having been left an orphan by the disclosure of the governor's present position that it is unsatisfactory.

Incline to Reconsider.

There were reports that some of the senators who last week believed they were following the wishes of the administration in hurrying the revenue commission's resolution along were inclined to favor reconsideration to erase last week's record, but if this plan was proposed to the leaders it was overruled in favor of standing pat and waiting for the house to rewrite the document.

In preparation for the expected showdown, five members of the Cook delegation constituting a steering committee selected last week met before the first call to order of the day. They were Representatives Elmer J. Schnackenberg, David I. Swanson and William G. Thon, Republicans, and Michael L. Igoe, Democrat, and Senator Edward J. Hughes, Democrat. They drafted two changes that they will urge the second Cook county conference to stand by as a unit.

BY GUSTAF KAUDER.

[Correspondent of The Chicago Tribune and the New York Times aboard the Graf Zeppelin. Copyright: 1930: In the United States and Canada by the New York Times company; elsewhere by Ullstein A.-G. All rights reserved.]

PERNAMBUCO, Brazil, May 27.—The departure for Havana and Lakehurst, N. J., of the Graf Zeppelin has been set for 7 o'clock tomorrow morning [5 a. m., Chicago time]. The passengers have been ordered on board by 6:30 o'clock, but an additional twelve hours' delay is possible because of a two hour interruption in the delivery of hydrogen due to entanglement of the hoses. A two to four hour stop is planned at Havana.

Because the trip to Havana presents the most difficult part of the voyage, due to little known weather conditions, Dr. Eckener has had the airship carefully overhauled.

Will Carry 19 Passengers.

The Graf Zeppelin's passenger list for the trip northward to Havana and Lakehurst includes nineteen persons.

The American group is now the strongest numerically. It includes Mrs. Mary Pierce of New York and Mrs. Laura Durston of Syracuse, William B. Leeds, New York millionaire; Joseph H. Durrell, vice president of the National City bank; Capt. Harry E. Shoemaker, U. S. N., who is stationed at Lakehurst; George Crouse of Syracuse, Mrs. Durston's brother.

The Spanish passengers are the Infante Alfonso, cousin of the king of Spain; Col. Herrera of the Spanish aviation service; Dr. Megias, physician to the Spanish king, and Señors Sanchez and Herrero.

Tour Tropical Forests.

This afternoon we were invited with Dr. Eckener by the governor for a two hour automobile trip through fantastic tropical country and primitive forest, including luncheon at the great water works in Gurjahn park, which has transformed Pernambuco into the healthiest city of the tropics, free of fever.

An agreement has already been reached making Pernambuco the terminus of a regular Zeppelin service.

POLICE PISTOL EXPERT FIGHTS GUNMEN; 3 SHOT

In Fountain square of downtown Elgin last night two Chicago gunmen tried to shoot it out with Patrolman Frank Egner of the Elgin police, who in a marksmanship contest the day before had won the championship of the department. All three were wounded, one of the gunmen seriously.

Suspicious of the pair, Egner had climbed into their car and ordered them to drive to police headquarters. The driver refused to stop at the station and halted two blocks beyond when Egner drew his gun.

Both drew guns as Egner pulled one of the men from the car. The patrolman disarmed the man in his grasp as the other fired a shot which pierced his comrade's hand and struck Egner in the side. Egner ended the combat by shooting the driver in the face and in the neck.

The man with the wounded hand said he is Stanley Warwick, 25 years old, 3317 Wall street, Chicago. He said he knew his unconscious companion only as "Jack."

N. U. Co-ed to Face Court Today as Reckless Driver

Miss Blix Nichols, 1424 Judson avenue, senior at Northwestern university and member of a prominent Evanston family, will be arraigned today before Police Magistrate Harry H. Porter in Evanston on a charge of reckless driving. She was arrested after her automobile collided with one driven by Miss Emma Siefert, 1314 Adams street, North Chicago, at Sheridan road and Dartmouth avenue, Evanston.

BATTLES IN 4 CITIES CAUSE DEATHS OF 84

Police and Troops Fire on Rioters.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, May 27.—(AP)—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Rangoon reported today that fifteen Indian coolie women had been massacred by coolie mobs during riots. Some of the women were said to have been tortured first.

BOMBAY, India, May 27.—(AP)—Riot and tumult, or their aftermath of chaos and uncertainty, reigned today in four great cities of Britain's Indian possessions. A rough computation of official figures showed that in Rangoon, Lucknow, Dacca, and Bombay 84 persons had been killed, 863 injured, and thousands arrested.

Over the week-end the riots have broken out of the bounds of the civil disobedience campaign. They overshadowed the salt raids of Mahatma Gandhi's volunteers and made of "nonviolence" a merely academic term.

Rangoon Beleaguered City.

Rangoon, the Burmese capital, tonight was a beleaguered city. Soldiers and police were striving desperately to maintain a hold, already precarious, over fighting coolies and lawless bands.

Fifty-four bodies lay in the city mortuary, and many others are believed to have been carried away by friends or kinsmen. The official death list stands at 60 and the injured list at 740. These figures are considered much below the unobtainable totals.

No less serious were conditions in famous Lucknow, the great British stronghold of the Indian mutiny of 1857-'58. A roll of four dead and 30 injured there represents a casualty list that seems likely to be considerably increased. Bands of rioters paraded through the city after having been dispersed in a skirmish with police and soldiers at Aminabad park. The police fired 57 shots at close range into a mob attacking one of the outposts. Fourteen policemen were taken to hospitals.

Looting and Stabbing.

At Dacca, ancient Bengal city, 150 miles from Calcutta, rioting and fighting between Hindus and Moslems left the streets deserted and peaceful inhabitants within doors. Business was at a standstill.

Looting and stabbing continued today as sequels to the communal riots which began on Thursday. They have so far caused the deaths of fourteen persons and the injury of forty.

Bombay itself was quiet tonight after yesterday's and today's riots, but still tense. Six persons were dead and fifty-three badly injured.

Riots Racial in Origin.

The important feature of these disorders is the fact that they have no direct connection with Mahatma Gandhi's campaign. In both Rangoon and Dacca they have been purely racial in origin. That an indirect connection, however, exists between the riots and the Nationalist campaign is considered undeniable by experienced British observers, if only from the fact that the difficulties caused the authorities by activities of the volunteers give scope and pretext to all the forces of disorder.

Reports of minor incidents throughout India flooded into Bombay in such number that it was impossible to recount them all.

Among these was the arrest at Delhi of Miss Satya Vaty, granddaughter of the late Swami Shradhanand, influential Satyagraha leader. Miss Vaty refused to give security for good behavior and was sentenced to six months' simple imprisonment.

Pandit Malaviya attempted to force an entrance into Peshawar, turbulent city of the northwest frontier province, but was stopped by police. He was not arrested.

Fight All Night Long.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

BOMBAY, May 27.—At least six persons were killed and over fifty injured, including several European officers of the Bombay police, in rioting late last night and this morning in the Moslem quarter of Bombay.

The immediate result is that tonight the Moslems, who have refrained from participating in the independence drive, appeared for the first time in a vast joint demonstration with the Hindus in the Esplanade Maidan, after a mass procession of protest was abandoned at the instance of the congress headquarters, because it was considered too dangerous in the present mood of the people.

The disturbances began last night outside the police barracks in Bhendi bazaar, the Moslem quarter. A quarrel between a European sergeant and a young Moslem led to revolver fire. This enraged a mob of 3,000. They stormed the barracks, to which the sergeant had retreated, hurling sticks, stones, brickbats and all kinds of missiles.

Fire Into Rioting Crowd.

Reinforcements of European police soon arrived and fired into the crowd. The battle continued until nearly 1 a. m., when the rioters closed in and, pouring gasoline on the wooden window sills, tried to set fire to the police barracks. Three officers, including J. H. Coghlan, deputy commissioner, meanwhile had been seriously wounded.

Commissioner Healy called out the troops and four platoons of an East Lancashire regiment arrived. Desultory firing took place throughout the night, but it was not until 9:15 a. m. that a renewed attack was made by a mob in greatly increased numbers. Fresh detachments of Lancashires had arrived and were entering the building when the jeering crowds descended on them with stones and bricks.

The troops, under orders, retired to cover inside the building, but British police officers, with armed Indian police, opened up with revolvers and rifles. Here three more European officers were injured.

Rioters Surround Building.

The troops took up positions in windows. Women refugees came screaming into the building, seeking shelter. The rioters, momentarily driven back, two hours later again surrounded the building, their stones crashing against the bayonets of the British troops until the police, establishing a cordon across the intersection of the wide street, drove them off with rifle fire.

All shops were closed in both the Moslem and the Hindu quarters of the city this afternoon. Angry throngs of Moslems with wooden staves and other weapons prowled menacingly through the streets, inciting Hindus to join them in further disorders.

Fight Gun Smuggling.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 27.—The recent reinforcement of British naval forces in Indian waters, it is learned, is due partly to the systematic efforts at gun smuggling along the coast. Most of these weapons come from Persia, and some have been identified as rifles which Italy recently sold to Turkey.

BRITISH LABOR RULE FACES TEST ON JOBLESS CRISIS

LONDON, May 27.—(AP)—Great Britain's second labor government tonight faced a precarious political situation on the unemployment problem, which the Conservatives will make a test of strength in the house of commons tomorrow.

The Conservatives will bring to a vote a motion to reduce the salary of J. H. Thomas, lord privy seal and minister in charge of unemployment. This is a time honored parliamentary method of expressing a want of confidence in a minister and in the government.

Defeat for labor in the house almost certainly will entail the dissolution of parliament and a call for a general election. With this threat hanging over the house, the Liberal party at a meeting this evening unanimously voted to abstain from voting tomorrow.

Harold Lloyd's Champion Great Dane Dog Poisoned

Hollywood, Cal., May 27.—[Special.]—A champion great Dane dog, imported by Harold Lloyd from Germany and valued at $25,000, died fifteen minutes after being removed from a show bench at a kennel club today, and Lloyd today charged that the dog was poisoned.

DUNCAN LEADS "SALT STRIKERS" IN N. Y. PARADE

Curious Crowd of 5,000 Watches Sea Hike.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 27.—[Special.]—Raymond Duncan's Grecian robes swished busily over soft rugs tonight and his five league sandals went pitty-pat as he circled around a small teakettle filled with sea water bubbling happily on an electric stove. An aroma of salt hung over the room, but there was no thought of dinner. From time to time the Duncanji took his ease on a fur covered bed, for his had been an arduous though triumphant day.

The tunic clad brother of Isadora Duncan had marched to the sea; he had "made salt" at the Battery as a token of sympathy with Mahatma Gandhi, India's imprisoned leader, and he was confident he had sorely vexed King George.

Two Policeman Escorts.

Across 5th avenue, hard by broadway on the west side, two perspiring cops sat nursing what they called their dogs. They, too, had hiked from 50th street to the Battery as escorts to Mr. Duncan and his twelve male and female co-sympathizers. The cops had gone along when they had heard the paraders' cries of "salt and Battery," eagerly at first, for the crusaders all carried little tin pails—like the old beer days—and then under orders, as the crowd grew larger and merrier.

There was salt for the Gandhi, and the great parade of sympathy was an imminent success. The hoofers to the sea swung down 5th avenue into Broadway and on through the financial district, where every one turned out for lunch and the "salt raid."

Crowd Mystified at First.

"What the hell!" was the expression most heard when the procession halted at the Battery seawall. "Throw him in," invited 5,000 ardent sympathizers who just happened along. "I'll rescue him," volunteered a physical culture professor whose office is a bench in Battery park.

Nothing like that happened, however, as the Grecian clad apostle of the art of living, his long hair waving in the wind, dipped away. Bucket after bucket was filled to the brim with brine and passed back to the Duncan paraders. They were handled gently, and not a precious drop was spilled. If there is anything to chemistry and the New York harbor water is up to standard, Gandhi is going to get about half a pound of Duncan made salt, unless his majesty's postman falls down on the job.

After the pails had been filled and the affair was all over, the marchers shouted for taxicabs and, zealously guarding their "bootlegged" salt water, headed for the Duncan salon.

German Fascist 'War' with Reds Costs a Life a Night

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 27.—Guerrilla warware in Germany between communists and Fascisti has cost an average of a life per night during the last week. At Ketzin-on-Havel a communist was killed when communists attempted to beat up police with beer bottles. In Pirmasens, near Frankfort, two policemen are dying of wounds received while trying to separate communist-Fascisti knife battlers.

ASK FREED DRY LAW VIOLATORS TO WAIVE RIGHT TO GUARD HOME

Lansing, Mich., May 27.—[Special.]—Prohibition law offenders, before being released on parole, are being asked to sign waivers of their constitutional rights in regard to search of their homes, it was revealed here today by Arthur D. Wood, commissioner of pardons and paroles.

Mr. Wood denied that those asked to sign the waivers are being placed under any degree of compulsion or that their paroles are being conditioned on their action in this regard. He said, however, that the step is taken that the released prisoner may evidence his good intention to refrain in the future from engaging in illegal manufacture, transportation, sale, or possession of intoxicants.

By waiving his rights, which bar illegal search, the paroled man formally permits searches of his home by enforcement officers at any time, whether with or without warrants. Experience of the department as to the percentage of freed convicts signing the waivers was not disclosed by Mr. Wood.

CANADA'S FIGHT TO CUT IMPERIAL TIES STIRS UP ROW

Cabinet Chief Assails Foe in Commons.

BY GEORGE SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., May 27.—Describing as "reactionaries" those Canadian imperialists who, like Richard Bennett, conservative leader, contend against Canadian nationhood, Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, in the house of commons today reaffirmed the Mackenzie King government's position that the dominion is now a full-fledged nation with full legislative and treaty making powers.

Mr. Lapointe charged Mr. Bennett with "fighting a rear guard action" in his declaration that Canada was "cutting the painter, binding her with Great Britain" in seeking equality of status with England.

Bennett Calls It "Idiotic."

On a motion to ask the imperial parliament to ratify the transfer from federal to provincian hands the prairie province's nature resources, Mr. Bennett said that "in the face of the admitted necessity of imperial parliamentary concurrence in a Canadian constitutional change, it was idiotic for the government to go on claiming nationhood."

The house, however, gave unanimous approval to the 1929 London conference findings which removed numerous imperial restraints. It also concurred in the Canadian-American halibut treaty by which the two countries agree upon preservation of the North Pacific ocean halibut fisheries by declaring a closed season each year from Nov. 1 to Feb. 15.

Senate Widens Pension Field.

Handling of civil war pensions in the United States was referred to as "scandalous" and was held up to Canada as an example not to be emulated in the Canadian senate today when approval was given to legislation widening the pensions field for Canadian war veterans. Canada so far has spent $626,000,000 for disabled war veterans in pensions, Senator Laird stated.

JONES SAYS HE'LL VOTE WET IF HIS STATE ORDERS IT

Suggests Referendum to Find Out.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 27.—[Special.]—Senator Wesley L. Jones [Rep., Wash.], author of the Jones "five and ten" law and one of the outstanding prohibitionists of congress, today surprised wets and drys alike with a proposal for a prohibition referendum in his state and a promise to abide by a decision of the voters.

Senator Jones suggested the wet and dry vote in a statement commenting upon the action Saturday of the Republican state convention in Washington in indorsing modification.

Asserting that the action of the convention represents the sentiment of "a small fraction" of the people of Washington, Senator Jones criticized the delegates for not having "the courage to follow the course laid out by the people themselves."

Suggests a Referendum.

"Our state has provided a referendum system by which questions may be submitted to the people," said Senator Jones. "Why not ask for a referendum on the repeal or modification of the 18th amendment? That is the proper and courageous thing to do. Give the people a chance to express themselves on a provision looking to legalizing the sale of liquor, and I have no doubt of the result.

"I have no hesitation in saying to the people of my state that, while not adhering to my personal conscientious views on prohibition, if they, in the duly constituted way, ask congress to submit an amendment to the 18th amendment repealing or modifying it, I will vote for such submission if a member of the senate at the time such request is submitted."

Defends Indicted Dry Officials.

Senator Jones issued a second statement vigorously defending the group of dry officials, including Prohibition Administrator Roy C. Lyle and his legal adviser, William M. Whitney, who were indicted by a federal grand jury in Seattle yesterday following an investigation of graft, bribery, and conspiracy charges. Lyle and several others involved in the investigation received their appointments through the influence of Senator Jones. Lyle, Whitney and Earl Corwin, a prohibition agent named with them in the indictment, were suspended today by the treasury department pending the outcome of their trials. Maurice Smith, an assistant administrator, was named to succeed Lyle temporarily.

"I not only clothe these boys with the presumption of innocence which the law throws around them, but I believe most sincerely in their innocence," said Senator Jones. "Why the government would not allow them to go before the grand jury under the special circumstances, I do not know. These indictments have been made on secret, one sided charges urged largely by confessed and convicted law breakers.

"They will have to be tried, however, in the open before an impartial jury and with the witnesses face to face with those accused. I have no doubt of a triumphant acquittal."

Seven Plead Guilty in Wyoming.

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 27.—(AP)—Seven of the nine city officials of Thermopolis, Wyo., indicted on a charge of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law, changed their pleas of not guilty to guilty in federal court today and each was sentenced by Judge T. Blake Kennedy to pay a fine of $250.

ILLINOIS DRY LEAGUE TO IGNORE LIQUOR REFERENDUM FIGHT

Springfield, Ill., May 27.—[Special.]—The Illinois Anti-Saloon league has turned thumbs down on the proposal for a dry-wet referendum of the voters in this state at the next November election.

Proposed a few days ago by leaders in both Republican and Democratic camps as a means of learning again how the people of Illinois look on the Volstead act and the state search and seizure law, the referendum plan gets a quick wallop from F. Scott McBride and the league. They will have nothing to do with it, they say.

The matter came up here today at the annual meeting of the state Anti-Saloon league, and the temper of those present was indicated when they cheered Mr. McBride's advice: "Don't be drawn into contests that mean nothing. Don't go chasing after stuffed rabbits. The people who contribute to the Anti-Saloon league don't want you to fritter away their money conducting straw vote campaigns."

In previous advisory votes of the same sort as the one now proposed for the election next fall the McBride organization has adopted the same policy of nonvoting.

In today's meeting the organization elected the following officers: President, J. H. Hauberg, Rock Island; secretary, Mrs. Ettas Root Edwards, Pinckneyville; treasurer, John Rudin, Chicago; state superintendent, George B. Safford, Chicago.

DR. BUTLER RETURNS FROM ABROAD PLEASED WITH WETS' PROGRESS

New York, May 27.—[Special.]—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, returned today on the Olympic with Mrs. Butler and their daughter, Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler, after three and a half months abroad.

Dr. Butler expressed his pleasure at the advancement of the cause of prohibition repeal, which he has steadily supported for seven years. Asked what he thought the chances for repeal were now, he replied, "Look at Niagara falls."

BRADY OUT ON BOND.

Dallas, Tex., May 27.—(AP)—John W. Brady, former jurist, today was released on $5,000 bond pending decision on his appeal from a three year penitentiary sentence for slaying Miss Highsmith, a stenographer, at Austin last November.

Cigarets Didn't Stunt This Boy Prisoner; 6 Feet 6 at 16

Omaha, Neb., May 27.—(AP)—Carl Pratt raised his 235 pounds and stood up to his six feet six inches of height from a hard jail bench to ask for a cigaret.

"You can't have one," ruled Chief of Detectives Franks, who was passing the cell.

There is no rule against prisoners smoking in their cells, Franks explained, but Pratt is only sixteen—and didn't have a note from his parents. He is being held for trial on a charge of highway robbery.

START CAMPAIGN TO BEAT TRANSIT PERMIT AT POLLS

Franchise Foes Attack It in Circular.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The opponents of the proposed indeterminate transit franchise started their offensive yesterday.

The leadership in the battle was taken by Farnham-Kuhn company, real estate dealers, 6 North Michigan avenue. This company is one of the backers of the competing ordinance presented to the council local transportation committee by John Maynard Harlan, former attorney for the late J. Lisman plan. Attorney Walter S. Fisher said a consideration of this ordinance would be "a waste of time."

Those opponents have begun a campaign to defeat the indeterminate ordinance—passed by the council by a vote of 47 to 3—at the referendum July 1. They issued a four page circular against the ordinance yesterday. Frederick F. Kuhn said enough of these pamphlets would be issued to reach all Chicago voters.

Backing a Rival Franchise.

"Have you a particular interest in this matter?" Mr. Kuhn was asked.

"We have an ordinance in competition, a franchise for a 40 year term, and it hasn't been given any consideration," was the reply. "The indeterminate ordinance was railroaded through. We have tried to put $1,000,000 in trust to guarantee that we would make good on the ordinance we drafted, but have been unable to find a single bank which would accept the $1,000,000 in trust."

The Farnham-Kuhn circular charges that the compensation to be paid the city under the proposed indeterminate franchise will be $303,722 less than was received from the surface and elevated lines last year.

"An increase of fare, at least on the surface lines, is inevitable under this ordinance," says the circular. "The ordinance, if not rejected by the voters, will become a grant to a private corporation for the use and control of the streets of Chicago forever."

Real Estate Board Protests.

The Cook County Real Estate board at a meeting yesterday adopted a resolution protesting against the passage of the ordinance and recommending to the voters that they disapprove the ordinance at the referendum. The resolution declares that the principle of the indeterminate franchise is dangerous and un-American, and this case will assuredly prove to be a perpetual grant."

"The company is not required," says the resolution, "to build a single mile of extensions if the city defaults in the selling of a $100,000,000 loop subway, the term 'just and reasonable return,' as given in the ordinance, is ambiguous and meaningless. Neither the rate of fare nor the rate of return upon capital account will be controlled by the transit commission to be created under the ordinance. If the commission attempts to fix either rate below the company's demands, appeal to the courts will follow, with endless litigation at the car riders' expense."

The resolution also questions the legality of the transit commission and holds an increased fare if the ordinance is placed in effect.

Proponents Slow Starting.

The proponents of the indeterminate ordinance are not so far advanced as enemies in their campaign plans. Not all of the committees have been named. No campaign fund has been raised.

The first formal action on the car ordinance by a political organization was taken last night when the Twenty-fourth Ward Democratic club indorsed the measure at a meeting held at 3613 Roosevelt road. Ald. Jacob M. Arvey explained the ordinance to the precinct captains and workers. Moe Rosenberg, the ward committeeman, introduced the resolution to support the ordinance.

The directors of the South Chicago Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously yesterday to indorse the ordinance.

SCHOOL BOARD TO DELAY VOTE FOR PRESIDENT

The presidential election of the board of education, scheduled to be held today, will be postponed until after the next council meeting, it was indicated yesterday.

There are ten members of the board and one vacancy. President Caldwell heads one group and Trustee Lewis E. Myers heads the other. James A. Hemingway, chairman of the board's finance committee, is said to be the Myers group's candidate for president. The reported lineup is:

For Caldwell: Walter H. Brandenburg, Oscar Durante, Theophilus Schmid, and John A. English. For Hemingway: James Mullenbach, Lewis E. Myers, Carter Blatchford, and Mrs. Helen Hefferan.

The postponement is to give the mayor an opportunity to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Otto Schmidt a year ago.

TAR AND FEATHER DIXIE DENTIST; JAIL 5 BROTHERS

Victim Denies Courting Married Woman.

Hammond, La., May 27.—(AP)—Deputy sheriffs tonight arrested five brothers, Charles, Gordon, Henry, Ike, and Newton Starnes, members of a wealthy family of Tangipahoa parish, on charges of tarring and feathering Dr. S. L. Newsom, Hammond dentist.

Dr. Newsom said he was accused by the brothers of paying attentions to one of their wives. He said he was kidnaped by the five men last night, handcuffed, tarred and feathered and thrown into a street of Hammond with a warning to leave town.

Dr. Newsom drove to his home at Columbia, Miss., but late today returned with his father. His friends rallied to his support and with the aid of the sheriff and chief of police, plans were made to prosecute the brothers.

The young dentist, a graduate of Tulane university, denies the charges of the brothers and declared he would remain in Hammond and practice his profession.

The brothers technically were charged with conspiracy to commit a felony, wounding less than mayhem, assault and battery with a dangerous weapon.

CURTIS ORDERS TARIFF BILL BACK TO CONFERENCE

Snag in Flexible Clause Halts Debate.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 27.—[Special.]—The battle scarred tariff bill encountered more trouble and delay today when Vice President Curtis sent it back to conference by sustaining a point of order directed at a clause in the flexible provisions. The effect was to postpone further discussion in the senate until next week while the conferees reconvene and make the necessary change.

Before the point of order was sustained Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah] had commenced debate on the conference report by presenting an array of facts to sustain his contention that the final measure has been framed primarily for the benefit of agriculture.

While today's action created new uncertainty as to when the tariff bill will reach the President and also as to when congress can adjourn it seemed to make possible earlier disposition of other pending legislation. With the tariff sidetracked the senate turned to the merchant marine bill, and when that is disposed of may take up the house rivers and harbors bill which includes authorization for federal completion of the Illinois waterway.

Senator Smoot announced that the senate and house conferees would meet on Thursday. He predicted speedy action on a revised conference report. Inasmuch, however, as the senate has agreed to adjourn on Thursday until Monday debate cannot be resumed until next week.

The point of order sustained by Vice President Curtis related to a clause in the flexible provision permitting the tariff commission to make effective changes in duties if the President failed either to approve or disapprove a recommendation for an increase or decrease within 60 days.

Republican leaders were concerned over the fact that several additional points of order may be made relating to rate items. If these are sustained further delays are in prospect.

U. S. WRIT STOPS TAX ON GRIFFITHS PENDING APPEAL

Federal Judge Wilkerson yesterday issued an injunction restraining Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackidge, collector of internal revenue, from collecting $64,509 income tax and penalties from John Griffiths, president of John Griffiths and Son, contractors, pending an appeal.

Griffiths was assessed $37,455 in deficiency tax for 1919 by the federal board of tax appeals. A fraud penalty of $18,727 was assessed, and interest brought the total amount allegedly due to $64,509.

Griffiths must deposit this amount with the federal court. If the court of appeals decides in Griffiths' favor, the money will be returned, and if not, it will remain with the court pending an appeal to the Supreme court. If Griffiths loses in both instances, the money will go to the collector.

DARKNESS TURNS ON LIGHTS BY USE OF NEW DEVICE

The coming of darkness turned on the lights for H. D. Sanborn of the General Electric company as he gave an illustrated lecture before the Illuminating Engineering society at its auditorium at 20 North Wacker drive last night.

After describing the uses of the electron tube in medicine and in industry, including the talking pictures, he demonstrated the more recently developed photoelectron tube. The room was darkened and immediately the photoelectron tube turned on the lights of a minature city on the stage.

Because only a shadow is needed to start a photoelectron controlled relay the tube may be adapted to safety devices, charting light for weather-records, and even as a substitute for the tape at the finish of a race, Mr. Sanborn said.

British Air Force Adopts World's Fastest War Plane

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 27.—The fastest war plane in the world, the Hawker "Hornet," is reported tonight to have been adopted by the Royal air force after competitive tests of the new "interceptor fighter" type of airplanes. It is understood that speeds up to 190 miles per hour have been attained at high altitudes in secret tests and that the planes climbed to 20,000 feet in "very few minutes."

LONDON TREATY IS WICKED, SAYS ADMIRAL WILEY

Asserts Conferences Weaken U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 27.—[Special.] — High naval officers told the senate foreign relations and naval affairs committees today that ratification of the London naval treaty would leave the United States with "less than a sporting chance" to win an American-Japanese war

Rear Admiral Henry Wiley, retired, former commander in chief of the United States fleet, asserted that the price which the United States would have to pay for the treaty was too high and that the concession made to Japan in the form of an increased naval ratio was "wicked."

Four other witnesses, three rear admirals and a captain, testified, bringing the total number of high naval officers who have criticized the treaty to twenty-four.

What Modernization Costs.

Rear Admiral George H. Rock, chief of the navy construction corps, disclosed that the navy program calls for the modernization of eight more American battleships, including the Maryland and West Virginia class, the best American capital ships. He said that the cost of this modernization, which would mean better deck protection for all ships and the elevation of the guns of three vessels, would be $70,000,000. The total cost of the American battleship modernization program, including ships completed, Rear Admiral Rock set at $118,000,000.

Commenting on the cost of the modernization program, Senator Hiram Johnson [Rep., Cal.], leader of the opposition to the treaty, asserted that with the money the American delegation proposed to spend on a capital ship modernization program three modern battleships of the British Rodney type, considered the best afloat, could be built.

Strategist Next Critic.

Capt. J. K. Taussig, commanding officer of the battleship Maryland and for three years head of the naval war college's board of strategy, assailed the treaty provision increasing Japan's ratio.

"The 5-3 ratio with Japan," Capt. Taussig said, "gave us only a sporting chance for victory in any war with Japan. Any further increase of the ratio, as is contemplated in this treaty, would make our chances for victory very slim."

Rear Admiral Wiley in his testimony said that America would lose rather than gain good will in the orient by making concessions to Japan.

"What do you think of the plan to increase the Japanese ratio above the 5-3 ratio of naval strength agreed to in Washington in 1922?" queried Senator Johnson.

"I thought the original 5-3 ratio was too high," replied Rear Admiral Wiley. "We gave away too much at the Washington conference; the price of the treaty we obtained was too high. I think that the last concession made to Japan is wicked. I think that the navy will have to go out of business if we have many more conferences."

The admiral said he favored construction of only the 8 inch gun ship for American needs. Comparing the 8 inch gun cruiser to the 6 is like comparing a rifle to a revolver, he said.

Says U. S. Makes Sacrifices.

"We sacrificed a great deal to get the Washington treaty and we will have to sacrifice to get this one," he continued. "The London treaty does not in any sense give us parity with Great Britain. It makes our position in the Pacific far more difficult.

"In case of war in the Pacific we would have to bend our energies to holding Manila at all costs, establishing a fleet base in the Philippines and in beginning operations against the enemy by bringing up our fleet. We should have aircraft and at least thirty submarines based at Manila for protection. We should also have at least twenty-three 8 inch gun cruisers."

Rear Admiral M. M. Taylor, chief of naval war plans, said the London treaty would not afford the navy sufficient ships to protect American interests and give the nation an equal chance for victory in the far Pacific.

Later before the naval affairs committee Rear Admiral Taylor outlined his reasons for favoring construction of only the 8 inch gun cruiser for the United States and produced charts showing how small cruisers handicapped this country's protection of its trade routes.

Outlines Cruiser Problem.

The advantage of the 8 inch gun cruiser, he said, was that it could do anything the 6 inch gun ship could do and many other things in addition. It is essential, he said, for convoy work, for protecting trade routes, and for attacking enemy raiders.

Pointing out that American manganese supplies come from Brazil, Admiral Taylor said that to protect this trade route the United States would have to cover the 4,700 miles between Rio Janeiro and New York. Great Britain, he added, by basing cruisers at St. Helena, in the south Atlantic; Freetown, off the African west coast; and Ascension, a south Atlantic island less than 1,900 miles from Rio, could cover this trade route much easier than the United States and with less ships.

Rear Admiral Standley told the foreign relations committee that in his opinion the granting of a larger ratio to Japan and the limitations placed on big gun cruisers for this country was likely to pave the way to an inglorious peace for the United States in event of war with Japan.

CHIEF OF JAPANESE NAVAL BOARD MAY QUIT; PACT IRKS HIM

TOKIO, May 27. — (AP) — Admiral Kanji Kato, it is reported, soon may resign his post as chief of the Japanese naval staff board because of his dissatisfaction with the naval tonnage permitted Japan under the London naval limitation treaty.

The admiral, chief of the naval party contending that Japan should have received a larger ratio than 69.6 per cent with Great Britain and the United States, is said to have asserted he was unable to assume the responsibility of defending the empire with the fleet permitted.

The support given the treaty by Admiral Takarabe, minister of marine, a delegate to the London conference, is expected to counteract any effect Kato's resignation might have, and enable Premier Hamaguchi to fill any naval vacancies resulting from antipathy to the treaty.

CHARGED WITH ARSON IN PIANO FACTORY BLAST

Kane county authorities investigating the $60,000 explosion that wrecked the Thomas H. Farrell Piano company plant at Elgin more than a week ago filed charges of arson yesterday against Harry Samsky, a Chicago trucking contractor living at 1332 South Kedzie avenue. He surrendered to the state's attorney, accompanied by three lawyers, William B. Steinberg, David F. Rosenthal, and Louis L. Gold. He was released on bonds of $10,000.

Elgin police are holding two of his helpers, Louis Van Meter of 1440 South Sutter street and Joseph Haut of 3255 West 23d street. Samsky and they have been identified as having trucked two piano cases to the factory shortly before the blast.

Farrell, president of the company, is being held in the county jail at Geneva. The authorities say he recently took out $80,000 in fire insurance on stock appraised at $20,000.

ARCHDUKE GIVES UP HIS CLAIM TO THRONE FOR LOVE

Balks Mother's Ambitions by Picking a Divorcee.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

BUDAPEST, May 27.—Hungarian monarchist circles today were supplied with an explanation for Archduke Albrecht's sudden and unexpected action last week in renouncing his claims to the Hungarian throne in favor of Prince Otto, 17 year old son of former Empress Zita. It is an old story, of which former Crown Prince Carol of Rumania furnished an example, of how love spoils the best laid plans of politicians and ambitious mothers.

News that Albrecht had taken an oath of fealty to Otto came to no one as a greater shock than to his mother, the Archduchess Isabella. After spending more than $2,000,000 to further her son's pretensions to the throne of the Hapsburgs, the archduchess has for the second time seen her ambitions defeated by the interference of the little blind god.

Fails to Wed Off Daughter.

The first time was when Crown Prince Ferdinand of Austria, invited by Isabella to her palace in the hope he would fall in love with one of her daughters, chose instead the archduchess' lady-in-waiting, Countess Sophie Chotek. Isabella expelled the countess from the household, but she married Franz Ferdinand and died with him under an assassin's hand at Sarajevo. The assassinations caused the world war.

Disappointed in the hope of seeing her daughter on the throne of Austria, Isabella devoted herself to the task of placing Albrecht on the throne of Hungary.

A year ago Isabella sent Albrecht to the Hague to thank Queen Wilhemina for the help given by the Netherlands to poor Hungarian children. While there he fell in love with the wife of a minor Hungarian diplomat. She divorced her husband.

Mother Learns of Intrigue.

When her eldest son contracted scarlet fever, the archduke rented a villa in Rudolfzell and accompanied her there. He also contracted the disease. His mother, on learning of the affair, rushed to Rudolfzell and brought Albrecht back to Budapest.

Albrecht recovered from the fever, but not from the love affair. When Isabella gave a big party a month ago, he invited his inamorata. Isabella struck her name from the list, whereupon her son also refused to appear. A family council decided to send Albrecht to South America to forget. He left for Pernambuco, but stopped at former Empress Zita's palace in Belgium en route to pledge his allegiance to Otto.

YOUTH HELD AS ROBBER.

Frank Berardi, 21 years old, 1456 Polk street, arrested last Friday in the murder of Mrs. Marie Pelletier of Berwyn, was held to the grand jury in a $5,000 bond yesterday on two robbery charges.

RICH MAN INDICTED WITH FOUR OTHERS ON TORTURE CHARGE

New York, May 27.—(AP)—J. Morgan Corbett, wealthy Boston real estate man, and four others were indicted today by the Bronx county grand jury, charged with kidnaping and beating, in a lonely Bronx shack, of James Quinn Jr., April 1.

Quinn alleges that Corbett had him kidnaped in an attempt to force him to tell the whereabouts of Mrs. Corbett, a former Provincetown, Mass., artist's model, who disappeared last January. Quinn maintains he did not know where she was.

Those indicted with Corbett were Arthur Hamel, 29, of Haverhill, Mass.; Edward Kendall, 29, of North Reading, Mass.; Edward Kline, 30, of New York; and John Doe, an unidentified man.

RUNAWAY GIRL ABANDONS HER AMNESIA POSE

It was a good story the East Chicago avenue police heard yesterday from a 14 year old girl who wandered into their district, claiming to be a victim of amnesia—but she didn't stick by it. For several hours detectives puzzled over the problem of a girl who could remember almost everything about herself except her family name, where she lived, and why she was in Chicago.

Finally the girl was asked at the psychopathic hospital if her name was Jeanette Niwinski of 3915 18th street, Detroit, who had run away from home, smilingly admitted these facts, adding that she was not so enthusiastic as she had been about severing home ties, and that she would be grateful for fare back to Detroit. She will get it, the police indicated after communicating with her parents.

LOOT OF JEWEL THIEVES' RING TOTALS MILLION

More Gems Found as 6th Member Is Arrested.

New York, May 27.—[Special.]—The recovery of almost $1,000,000 worth of stolen gems and the arrest of a sixth alleged member of a band of jewel thieves were announced late this afternoon by Police Commissioner Edward Mulrooney, a glittering heap of jewels before him on his desk as he made an account of the capture.

With the $300,000 haul of the previous day, it becomes one of the most sensational jewel recoveries on record, and, in the opinion of the new police commissioner, may solve many of the robberies of the last few years.

Robert C. Nelson, 52 years old, of Sheepshead Bay is the new figure linked with the activities of four men and a woman arrested at the Commodore on Monday. He was held without bail charged with receiving stolen property.

Stored in Several Banks.

The jewels were stored in safe deposit boxes in several banks under Nelson's name and that of Mrs. Elizabeth Keating, said by the police to be his wife. Nelson, who is a tall, well set up man with graying hair, described himself as a broker, and explained his possession of trays of valuable jewels by saying that he often frequented the race tracks and had purchased jewels from persons in need of ready cash.

He admitted he sometimes feared the jewels might be "hot," his own suspicion for "stolen." He denied knowledge of the group already under arrest, but Commissioner Mulrooney said that undoubtedly there was a direct tieup with George Cole, William J. Dwyer, Jack Rosen, and James W. Nelson, the prisoners taken on Monday.

"They are well acquainted and undoubtedly worked together," he continued.

More Arrests to Come.

"More arrests are still to come. The booty haul was so large that it was impossible to do more than sort out and tabulate the articles tonight, before attempting to link them up to specific jewel robberies. There were between 1,000 and 5,000 separate pieces, ranging all the way from a $20,000 emerald ring set in platinum to a toothpick.

"The jewels were stored in cases and jeweler's trays. The largest yield was from a box in the Bank of America. Other boxes opened were at the Kings Highway branch of the National City bank, the Sheepshead Bay branch of the Guardian National bank, and the Long Island Safe Deposit company, at 44 Montague street, Brooklyn.

Breaks Transcontinental Record

Lieut. Col. Roscoe Turner, who yesterday broke the nonstop transcontinental flight record between Roosevelt Field, N. Y., and Los Angeles in his plane. He made the distance in 18 hours 43 minutes and 34 seconds, beating the previous record of 19 hours 10 minutes and 32 seconds made by Capt. Frank M. Hawks. [Associated Press. Photo.]

LOOP WILL SEE SKY PARADE OF 100 PLANES TODAY

Preliminary to U. S. Air Races Here.

Nearly one hundred Chicago airplanes will roar over the loop at noon today on their way to Curtiss field near Glenview where directors of the 1930 national air races will discuss the races to be held here next fall.

Capt. Maxwell M. Corpening, executive director of the races, stated that the sky parade today promised to be one of the largest gatherings of civilian aircraft ever assembled in America.

Gather at Two Fields.

Smaller aircraft will assemble at the Hillside airport on the west side and there await a signal from John Casey, manager of the Municipal airport, to take the air for a flight to the city field where the big transport planes will rise to meet them.

Led by E. Hamilton Lee, air mail pilot for the Boeing Air Transport and the first mail flyer to fly more than 1,000,000 miles, the big ships will swoop down on the loop. The smaller planes will fly in separate formation in order to prevent congestion.

Luncheon in Hangar.

After the sky procession has landed the group will be entertained at luncheon in the Curtiss hangar and officials of the meet will announce the preliminary program of events. Plans for the transcontinental Derbies which will lead to Chicago from several points on the border of the United States will be perfected.

LAKE FISHING TUG IS MISSING; THREE ABOARD

The 42 foot fishing tug Seagull, which set out from the Ogden slip with a crew of three aboard at 5 a. m. yesterday, had not returned at midnight last night and the central coast guard crew was searching over the lake for the craft.

Fritz Howard, owner of the Seagull, left his sick bed at 106 West Schiller street at 8 p. m. to ask the aid of the coast guard. Howard joined Chief Mate Carl Howell of the coast guard and his crew of five in the search.

Howard said the Seagull should have returned at 5 p. m. The tug was commanded by Capt. Walter Pomper, with Dick Hughes and a man known only as Tony for his crew. They had food for only one meal, Howard said.

Coast guard stations at Evanston, Jackson park, and Michigan City were notified and crews from those points were to join the search at daybreak this morning. Howell said an effort would be made to obtain an airplane to assist in the hunt for the missing boat.

Chinese Consulate to Be Established in Chicago

Dr. Ko-Liang Yip, formerly Chinese consul general at Manila, P. I., and at San Francisco, is on his way to Chicago to establish a consulate here. He is expected to arrive late this week. His vice consul will be Tsinlon Ouang, now with the Chinese consulate in New York.

JUDGES TO SEEK PEACE IN ROW ON SPEED CASES

Call Jurists to Consider Procedure.

Municipal judges will meet tomorrow to consider the dispute between Commissioner of Police Russell and Judge Fairbank of Speeders' court over procedure in auto cases. Chief Justice Olson announced the meeting as a peace move.

Judge Fairbank has ruled that the arresting officer must appear against speeders. Commissioner Russell claims this rule is demoralizing police morale and hampering the campaign to reduce automobile fatalities.

Three deaths yesterday raised the county toll for the year to 349. The victims:

Peter Anderson, 56 years old, 1005 North La Salle street, was fatally injured while crossing Lake Shore drive at Bellevue place by an automobile driven by Mrs. Gertrude Stevenson, 6308 North Oakley avenue. Mrs. Stevenson was held by Lincoln park police.

Sidney Green, 30 years old, 4400 Wallace street. Fatally injured when he tried to jump aboard a moving truck at West 38th and South Halsted street. He slipped and fell under the wheels.

Charles Borenstein, 60 years old, 4448 Grenshaw street, a tailor. Fatally hurt when struck by a woman "hit and run driver" at Roosevelt road and South Kilbourn avenue.

Five members of a girl dancing troupe and their manager were injured when their auto plunged off Waukegan road into a tree in Northbrook. The manager, A. H. Dalton, of the Claridge hotel, fell asleep while driving.

Missouri Labor Federation in Favor of Modification

Hannibal, Mo., May 27.—(AP)—The Missouri State Federation of Labor today went on record for modification of the Volstead act. It directed that all affiliated unions be notified to support only such candidates for congress in the coming primaries and elections who declare themselves for modification.

Few Tax Complaints Heard as Citizens Pay Their Bills

A little old lady scurried into the county treasurer's office yesterday afternoon and stopped at a cashier's window. She presented a tax bill and an amount of money, accepted a receipt and turned to leave. A reporter approached her with a question.

"Am I satisfied with my tax bill?" repeated the little old lady. "Listen, young man,, I just paid $80 and that was $10 less than the year before. And all my neighbors were raised."

She chuckled. "The man next door used to know the alderman," she confided. "He had a much bigger house than mine and his bill was less. Now he pays more."

Ten to One in Satisfaction.

She hurried away, shaking her head, when requested for her name, but other taxpayers, who expressed satisfaction with the amount of their tax bills, were not so reluctant. The proportion of satisfied to disgruntled taxpayers at the cashiers' windows yesterday was found to be about ten to one.

Charles Schleicher, 1137 North Karlov avenue, said:

"I've no reason to kick. I paid $93.50 in 1927 and my 1928 bill was $85.06. I investigated the valuations put on my neighbors' property and found they all received about equal bills. The fluctuations even took into account whether a man owned a one or two car garage. I think you could say that my neighborhood isn't squawking."

"I own a five room bungalow, 15 years old," said Charles Schmauch, 4053 North Leamington avenue. "Before the reassessment my tax bill was $126. This year it was $89.80, which I regard as about fair."

W. O. Reilly paid three bills on property he owns at 4136-38, 4210, and 4216 Lake street. His total tax bill was approximately $450, he said, and that was a reduction of about $260 from the previous year.

C. N. Schuler, 2135 Leland avenue, received a sizeable increase in his bill, but expressed no discontent.

No Complaint on This Raise.

"My bill was raised from $167 in 1927 to about $271 this year," he said. "The valuation was $5,087 for a corner lot occupied by a story and a half frame house. I think the valuation was about right. Some of my neighbors had smaller valuations, but the corner lot may have increased the valuation of my property. I've no kick to make if every one gets his proper valuation."

It was noted that many of the property owners paid their taxes in the old, large sized currency, printing of which was discontinued by the government almost a year ago. It was apparent, the cashiers said, that this money had been tucked away last year to provide against the day when the taxes would be due.

GIRL PILOT, 17, KILLED IN CRASH OF HER PLANE

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 27.—(AP)—Margaret Ferguson, 17 year old Colorado Springs high school student and one of the youngest girls in the United States to hold a government private pilot's license, was killed today in the crash of her plane east of the city limits.

C. M. Mosier, head of the Pike's Peak Air Commerce, Inc., in whose flying school Miss Ferguson received her training, expressed the belief Miss Ferguson became momentarily confused. Officials of the company said the ship was inspected before the flight and found in perfect condition.

Three Die in Blazing Plane.

Tulsa, Okla., May 27.—(AP)—Crashing as the pilot was landing on the light Garland airport, an airplane carrying Miss Ursa Ball, 28, of Tulsa, and Robert Hammond, 21, and George S. Busboom, both of Carthage, Mo., fell 50 feet here late last night and burned, killing the three.

Free Girl Accused of Hand in Chicago Bond Robbery

Los Angeles, Cal., May 27.—[Special.]—Because Albert Brant, Chicago real estate man, was not on hand in Judge Russell's Municipal court today, the judge freed Hilda White, 26, on charges of forgery and receiving stolen property. Miss White, who was arrested last week and charged by Los Angeles police with belonging to a gang who took part in the Chicago robbery of Brant's office, had bonds valued at more than $25,000. These bonds were said by police here to correspond with those missing.

Those are the only eyes you can ever have

Think of that a moment. For by just so much as your eyesight is impaired does the light fail, do colors fade, does efficiency lessen; do books and the theatre, the very sunshine and joy of living pall and dim. Eyesight is priceless, as it is irreplaceable . . . a thing to think of in buying eyeglasses. M. E. DRY BOARD DEFENDS DRIVE TO BEAT SMITH

Denies Its Activities Were Political.

culating the Clipsheet containing Smith's record?" asked Blaine.

"No," answered Pickett, "and may I say all this has been referred to the attorney general and nothing came of it? The department of jusitce displayed a very real interest in the charges raised by Mr. Tinkham, investigated thoroughly and apparently found we had violated no law."

Publications Quoted.

The question of whether the board emphasized the religious issue in its campaign propaganda was precipitated by Pickett when Senator Blaine read Wilson's statement that "never before did the underworld combine to ride into supreme power with more in its favor than it had this time," and followed with an excerpt entitled "The Enemy's Lineup" which appeared in the Voice for September, 1928, and was as follows:

"Candidate: Al Smith; convention lieutenants: Hague, Brennan, Proskauer, Olvaney [all Catholics]; treasurer, Lehmann [a Jew]; campaign manager, Raskob [private chamberlain of the pope, Knight of Columbus, director of associations against prohibition amendment, temporary Democrat]. When the newspapers tell you that Gov. Smith has named so many Protestants to office, don't be deceived. It does not indicate tolerance. These men constitute his 'front.' The men enumerated are behind the front."

Pickett Explains.

"That does not raise the religious question there," asserted Pickett. "We feel very sensitive about that. We absolutely disclaim any religious issue in any thing of that kind. I think even Senator Walsh might be willing to testify that our whole record shows we absolutely do not have any thing to do with religious prejudice or bigotry or any thing of that kind. Our record is absolutely clear on that question.

"You think now," asked Blaine, "you should not have published this article to which I refer?"

"Since you ask me the direct question, I think we should not," answered Pickett. "it was rather facetious, more than anything else."

"But it was published during a political campaign," Blaine reminded him. "So you think the entire underworld was combined for this election of Smith?"

"I think, broadly speaking, that might be true," answered Pickett, "I would not, for one minute, however, think there were not direputable forces on the other side. I know the contrary to be true."

THIRSTY BRITISH GOLFERS PLEAD FOR '19TH HOLE'

Rum Board Told Woes of 'Bar Closed.'

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 27.—The plight of nineteenth hole golfers who come into the clubhouse after 18 strenuous holes, only to find the barroom oasis barricaded by the English closing hour law, was passionately presented to the royal licensing commission today by Frank Holloyd, chairman of the executive committee of the National Golf Clubs' Protective association.

Mr. Holloyd asked that golf clubs either be given the same right as private clubs, to serve liquor at all hours, or else hours be arranged so the bar will be open according to the members' convenience.

"I do not suggest that the golfers want to drink more than they do now," he said. "What they wish is to get a drink when they want it."

Paints a Sad Picture.

He said the saddest sight that could greet the tired golfer's eyes is the sign "Bar closed." Alcohol is actually a great boon to golf, Mr. Holloyd maintained. When a member of the commission asked whether golf club members could not play the game without alcoholic inspiration, he replied that he doubted if it was possible to find many who would make any such claim.

"I think, perhaps, that moderate consumption of alcohol when a man has taken two and a half to three hours of exercise will make him better able to play the next three hours," Mr. Holloyd said.

Lady Astor on Beer.

LONDON, May 27.—(AP)—Lady Astor today engaged in a lively discussion in the house of commons on a motion to reduce the duty on beer. The members, knowing she always takes part in any debate connected with liquor, gave her a round of derisive applause when she said:

"I'm tired of all this nonsense about beer. And I'm tired also of beer." When she told her auditors to "watch and see what the rest of the empire is doing in regard to drink," a Conservative member interjected: "Bootlegging!"

Winston Churchill declared that what astonished him was that the lady should proceed unabashed to reiterate her views on drink "in view of the ghastly muddle made in her own country in the treatment of this problem."

Lady Astor replied heatedly:

"This is not a question of prohibition. I am not a prohibitionist. It is a question of a reduction in the price of beer."

DRY LAW A SIN, SAYS WOMAN IN CONGRESS RACE

Tells Kentucky Voters She Favors Repeal.

Covington, Ky., May 27.—[Special.]—Mrs. Marie Haller, Fort Thomas, Ky., Campbell county's only woman candidate for a seat in congress, is opposed to the eighteenth amendment and believes that its enactment is the prime cause of present sin and crime, she announced today.

Mrs. Haller is a candidate in the Sixth congressional district Republican primaries in August. She said that while she is opposed to the eighteenth amendment and would seek its repeal if elected, she does not sanction the return of the saloon, but believes liquor control should be vested in the government.

Failed in Its Ideals.

"I believe the eighteenth amendment has failed in its ideals and become a thing of inquity and sin," Mrs. Haller said.

"Therefore it should not be on the sacred pages in the book of our national constitution. It is by far more effective to have the temperance workers do their work as they have in the past.

"Just a word to those who give government a great deal of thought and analyze all questions pertaining to government with an open mind. You must know that radicalism in any direction is destructive. I therefore assure you that all matters coming before me shall be carefully weighed. I shall be open minded for discussion from all parties.

Capital and Labor.

"Labor and capital are in closer association with one another today than they were years ago. I believe their understanding one another is growing keener as time goes on, and whatever help I can render in the labor question I will gladly do. To understand more clearly the needs of farm problems a closer association between rural and city people should be cultivated."

Mrs. Haller will oppose Lincoln Newhall, incumbent, for the Republican nomination.

ALLEGED INCENDIARY A SUICIDE.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 27.—[Special.]—A self-inflicted bullet today ended the life of Otto Gooding, 48, Anderson, and cut a thread of alleged evidence to link him with an incendiary fire in which three persons were burned to death.

DRY LAW BREEDS HYPOCRISY, SAYS MRS. HARRISON

She Attacks Prohibition That Doesn't Prohibit.

Mrs. Carter H. Harrison, Democrat, authoress, globetrotter, and wife of a former Chicago mayor, is addicted to two cups of strong black coffee for breakfast. Mrs. Harrison confessed her weakness yesterday explaining her reasons for joining the Illinois branch of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform.

"Of course I know perfectly well," she acknowledged, "that it isn't good for me. I know that doctors advise that coffee in excess is harmful. But I'm temperate about it. That's all I take during the day, and it's been my habit for years. The point is—if prohibition can make liquor unlawful because it's bad for one, why can't coffee be made just as unlawful for the same reason? And shouldn't it be my privilege to drink strong black coffee, even if I do myself harm by drinking it?

Why She Opposes Prohibition.

"That is one of the reasons why I immediately joined the organization against prohibition when I returned a few days ago from a trip abroad. I have felt since the beginning that prohibition was the wrong method—and after all these years I feel that it has made us a nation of hypocrites and lawbreakers.

"The eighteenth amendment—prohibition that does not prohibit—has made this country the laughing stock of all foreign countries. My husband and I did not see an intoxicated individual while we were in Europe.

"The law seems to have fallen into disrepute. The federal authorities are treated with contempt by the most vicious elements. Debauchery of public officials is a matter of common notoriety, and, saddest of all, not only boys, but young girls drink whisky and gin.

A Problem for the Home.

"What it was sought to obtain by prohibition might far more easily have been secured through precept and example—lessons of temperance inculcated in the homes, by the firesides. It is a terrible example to young people when parents today openly and joyfully violate the law.

"And what are they going to prohibit next? What will become of me if it happens to be strong black coffee?"

Seeks Dry Law Indictments Against 20 Rockford Men

Rockford, Ill., May 27.—(AP)—John H. Page, assistant United States district attorney, announced today that indictments charging liquor law violations by 20 local men will be asked when the special federal grand jury is called at Freeport Monday.

BILLS SIGNED FOR REMOVAL OF DRY LAW ARMY

Will Go to Department of Justice July 1.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—[Special.]—President Hoover today signed the bill transferring the prohibition bureau to the department of justice and the last two of a series of bills to expand the federal prison system, thereby making effective the first portion of his dry law enforcement program.

Under the transfer bill 2,500 prohibition administrators, agents, and other employés will be removed on July 1 from the control of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, who has been in charge of prohibition enforcement since 1921, and placed under Attorney William D. Mitchell. The treasury, however, will retain partial control of industrial alcohol permits, and James M. Doran, now prohibition commissioner, will remain in charge of this work. A new commissioner will be chosen by Mr. Mitchell.

The prison bills signed by the President provide for construction of two new penitentiaries, costing $3,000,000 each, and permit the working of convicts on federal roads and other projects. Previously he had signed bills reorganizing the prison administration.

A third phase of the President's prohibition program, as recommended by the Wickersham commission, advanced today when the senate District of Columbia committee reported favorably the Howell bill stiffening the dry law of the City of Washington.

ITALIAN DEPUTY CALLS WAR WITH U. S. INEVITABLE

Invites France Into Pact to Unite Europe.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, May 27.—Invoking the inevitability of Europe being pitted against America in a future struggle, Deputy Gray tonight, during a speech on the Italian naval budget before the chamber of deputies, appealed to France to make an accord with Italy so Europe may have a united front.

Sig. Gray denied that Premier Mussolini's recent speeches had raised any new obstacles to resuming the efforts to settle the Franco-Italian differences. Il Duce's speeches were merely a reaffirmation of how the Fascist régime and Italy have became identical, he said; how the house of Savoy and Premier Mussolini work hand in hand, and how in Italy action is suited to the word and nothing else. Sig. Gray added that nothing therefore could prevent a resumption of negotiations between the two Latin countries.

Reiterates Demand for Parity.

Sig. Gray reiterated Italy's need for naval equality with France because of Italy's dependence on overseas imports, for which, he said, Italy must have a navy to keep its lines of communication open.

Declaring there was no such thing as an enduring peace, Sig. Gray said history had shown that wars were safety valves and were inevitable. Italy was not enthusiastic about ending wars forever, he said, but was interested in staving them off as long as possible.

"As Italians, as Catholics, and as warriors, we are always interested in delaying the eventual conflicts," he added.

Such a scheme as French Foreign Minister Briand's for peace, Sig. Gray said, was cloudy and impracticable. But, he, added, if France could only see the light these two countries could get together and put Europe back on its feet, either through the agency of Geneva or through direct negotiations.

"Europe Versus America."

Pointing to the inevitable clash of interests between Europe and America, Sig. Gray said the new scale of gradations in world powers had resulted from the war. New world powers had emerged and others had gone down, he said.

"The Europe of yesterday has vanished," he said. "A revision of the heirarchies of nations is imposed on us. Yesterday we were talking about the dilemma between Moscow and Rome. Already this dilemma has become out of date. Today more than ever our dilemma grows in amplitude. It is a dilemma of Europe versus America.

"Italy hopes that France will stand shoulder to shoulder with Rome if she really has a sincere interest in the destinies of Europe."

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh Celebrate First Anniversary

New York, May 27.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and the former Anne Spencer Morrow today quietly observed the first anniversary of their marriage. In the year since their marriage Mrs. Lindbergh has devoted almost as much time to aviation as her husband.

Fake of College Students Finds Curtis One Victim

Ithaca, N. Y., May 27.—[Special.]—Add to the list of famous hoaxes the name of "Hugo N. Frye," brain child of the student editors of the Cornell Daily Sun. And among its victims count such redoubtable figures of American public life as Vice President Charles Curtis, Secretary of Labor Davis, United States Senator Joseph R. Grundy of Pennsylvania and Congresswoman Ruth Pratt of New York.

The tale came out at a student dinner here when the perpetrators stood up and confessed. Mr. "Hugo N. Frye," it seems, is Cornellese for a late campus bit of slang, "you go and fry."

Message to the Leaders.

A while back the Sun editors sent out letters to Mr. Curtis and other leaders of the Republican party setting forth that they had set out to "settle once and for all the dispute regarding the actual birthplace" of the G. O. P. and were planning a dinner in honor of the sesquicentennial of the birth of "Frye," described as an unsung founder of the party in New York state. Would the Vice President and the others honored with letters of invitation to the affair say something nice and helpful about Mr. "Frye"?

Mr. Curtis Wires Back.

Vice President Curtis telegraphed [according to the student editors]:

"I read with pleasure your intention to give a dinner honoring the sesquicentennial of the memory of Hugo N. Frye, pioneer Republican of Elmira.

"I am sorry indeed my official duties prevent me from attending the dinner.

"I congratulate the Republicans on paying this respect to the memory of Hugo N. Frye and wish you a most successful occasion."

Secretary Davis telegraphed, the editors aver, that "it is a pleasure to testify to the career of that sturdy patriot who first planted the ideals of our party in this region of the country," and went on to add that if "Frye" were "living today he would be the first to rejoice in evidence everywhere present that our government is still safe in the hands of the people."

MISSING SPANISH FLYERS IN HANDS OF SAHARA TRIBE

MADRID, May 27.—(AP)—Two Spanish army aviators, reported missing since last Wednesday, were found today to be in the hands of tribesmen near Cape Bogador, state of Rio de Oro, a Spanish-African colonial possession near the western region of the Sahara desert.

The fliers, Commandante Ricardo Burguete and Capt. Nunez Maza, in two airplanes, left Cape Juby, in the same state, last Wednesday as part of a military squadron en route to Morocco for inspection. They were accompanied by Vincente Ferrer, mechanic, a fellow captive with the officers now, and Mohamed Ben El Buya, a Moorish chieftain, whose fate has not been learned.

Dispatches indicated a water tube broke in one plane, forcing it to land, and that the other accompanied it down.

CANAL WITNESS FAILS TO APPEAR ON U. S. CHARGE

Chamberlain Forfeits $25,000 Bond.

George L. Chamberlain, president of the U. S. A. company, electrical contractors, failed to appear in court yesterday for arraignment on indictments charging evasion of income taxes. Federal Judge Woodward ordered his $25,000 bond forfeited. The court also issued a bench warrant for him.

Chamberlain has been sought by federal process servers for weeks in connection with the special grand jury investigation of alleged sanitary district frauds. He was scheduled for arraignment in the federal court on Monday, but his counsel obtained an extension until 3 p. m. yesterday.

Defense Attorneys Appear.

When Attorneys George K. Bowden and Vincent J. Heffernan appeared for Chamberlain, Assistant United States Attorney Jacob Grossman asked, "Where is the defendant?"

Mr. Bowden then informed the court that he had instructed his client not to appear; that he wished to file a demurrer to the indictments and that he didn't consider Chamberlain's presence necessary.

"Then your client was ill advised," said Judge Woodward. "I will forfeit the bond."

Denies Writ of Protection.

Bowden charged that the only purpose in arraigning Chamberlain at this time was to enable state process servers to reach him. The attorney asked for a writ of protection to prevent such service when the defendant appears. Grossman countered by declaring that Chamberlain had defied the court and was attempting to name conditions under which he would appear.

Judge Woodward denied the writ after reminding Bowden that he had not kept his promise to produce his client. The attorney then said he wished to waive arraignment and to enter a demurrer to the indictments. Grossman contended that the "presence of the defendant" could not be waived and Judge Woodward said he would hear arguments on the demurrer at any time that Chamberlain appeared.

Files Not Guilty Plea.

The waiver of arraignment and a plea of not guilty were filed, but this action will not prevent the arrest of Chamberlain nor enable him to avoid appearing in court if he is apprehended.

Chamberlain was indicted last December, charged with evading about $300,000 in income taxes. The tax was claimed largely on income from sanitary district contracts, of which Chamberlain himself was alleged to have received $1,000,000 during 1926, 1927, and 1928.

LINCOLN PARK GETS 5 BLOCKS OF PAVING FREE

Tests Rival Contractors on Sheridan Road Job.

BY HAL FOUST.

Lincoln park is getting some paving for nothing. At the same time, the park commissioners are testing the rival claims of contractors and material manufacturers.

Each concern bidding for work on the Lincoln park boulevard system is allotted, if it wishes, a block on the western drive of Sheridan road between Belmont avenue and Grace street. Five concerns each have agreed to lay a block of pavement free of charge to demonstrate the merits of their materials and methods.

"The agreements made so far," said H. Otto Weege, general superintendent of the park, "will give the public $30,000 worth of pavement without cost.

"Obviously, the result of this comparative test will influence the commissioners in designating the type of pavement for use on all of the heavily traveled drives in the park system. There may be other material men who will want to join in this test. If so they are welcome."

Construction was started yesterday on the block between Cornelia avenue and Stratford place. It is being resurfaced with an asphaltic composition by the Pavrite corporation, headed by William Lorimer, who is remembered for his bank failure and his ouster from a seat in the United States senate.

Traffic, badly congested during the morning rush hour, was detoured over the east drive, which is ordinarily for north bound vehicles only. The block is to be completed before Friday.

SPANISH POLICE FIRE ON MOB IN GAMBLING RIOT

30 Wounded as 30,000 Protest Casino Padlock.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, May 27.—(AP)—A parade by 20,000 citizens of this royal resort city, seeking the reopening of gambling casinos, this afternoon turned into a political demonstration against the Berenguer government and rioting broke out.

Police fired into the crowds in attempting to quell the demonstrators, injuring 30 persons. Four civilians, including a woman and a child, were reported to have been badly wounded by bullets.

The rioting lasted through most of the afternoon, and the streets were heavily patrolled by police and soldiers tonight. Twenty arrests were made.

Bewail Tourist Trade Loss.

The parade had been organized in protest against continuance of Primo de Rivera's order suppressing gambling in the casinos. The citizens said they had lost much tourist trade through the suppression and became disorderly when mounted police attempted to break up their demonstrations.

This rioting was stopped by a charge of mounted policemen with drawn sabers, who cut or bruised 17 civilians. The crowds dispersed but later began gathering around the civilian government buildings. Soon the streets were packed with a throng shouting insults at the government and defiance to the authorities.

Mounted and foot police charged several times and fired into the air. Finally the crowd surged forward toward the building, threatening to drag out Gov. Sanalo.

Police Fire on Mob.

The police then opened fire directly into the advancing rioters, badly wounding four and hurting an unknown number of others. Many of the demonstrators fled to their houses, but skirmishes between groups of citizens and police continued until dark.

Many sections of the central part of this city, where is located King Alfonso's summer palace, were deserted tonight, but elsewhere threatening crowds milled about in the streets. Police reserves were held in readiness.

PACKARD STANDARD EIGHT PRICES REDUCED $400

THE Packard Motor Car Company has just advised us by telegram that effective May 28th prices of all current models of the Standard Eight have been reduced $400. The new prices are as follows:

Closed Models

5-Passenger Sedan	$2085
2-Passenger Coupe	2125
2-Passenger Convertible Coupe	2150
5-Passenger Coupe	2275
5-Passenger Club Sedan	2275
7-Passenger Sedan	2385
7-Passenger Sedan Limousine	2485

Open Models

2-Passenger Runabout	$2025
4-Passenger Phaeton	2025
7-Passenger Touring	2125
4-Passenger Sport Phaeton	2325

(Prices f. o. b. Detroit)

These reductions are made because the factory expects to announce in the Fall new cars, though the same in size and of practically unchanged appearance, will have enough changes to classify them as new models. The new cars, like those we are now offering, will, of course, have straight eight motors exclusively.

The new prices give today's purchasers a very great price advantage, and also immediate use of the largest selling and most popular car in the fine car field.

Now, it is even more true—by $400—that you are paying for a Packard. Why not own one? You will never have a better opportunity.

Two-thirds of those who buy the Packard Standard Eight give up other makes of cars. Thousands prefer to buy out of income. Your used car will be accepted as cash and if of average value will more than make the down payment, on a new car.

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

Downstate Bloc Agrees to Week's Armistice.

all taxation upon real estate except mineral lands and land devoted to reforestation, which is omitted from the pending resolution. The other would limit the state to ten per cent of the proceeds of an income tax except by two-thirds vote of the assembly and direct the distribution of the remaining 90 per cent to counties and their lesser units of government in the same ratio that the county's payment of income tax bears to the total income tax collected by the state.

Unfair to the Metropolis.

The downstate demand has been that the distribution among the counties, cities, villages, etc., be based upon the relation of the assessed valuation of the property in each county to the total assessed valuation in the entire state, which Chicagoans assert would be unfair to the metropolis.

Other amendments, some of them of a type similar to this latter one, will be introduced by the Cook delegation. Minority Leader Igoe will have at least two. One of them will follow the lines of the amendment approved by the legislature in 1925 and lost on a state referendum in 1926 because it failed to obtain a full majority of all the votes cast for public offices. This would add a new section to the revenue article winding up with a provision that tax legislation made possible by its terms—including an income tax—must have two-thirds vote.

A second Igoe amendment was submitted to him by John O. Rees, secretary of the Cook county joint advisory commission headed by George O. Fairweather. Rees proposed the establishment of a maximum total all taxes at 2 per cent of a fair cash value except for state taxes and taxes for bond interest and retirement unless an increase for local taxes has been voted by a referendum of the voters within the unit seeking the increase.

Battle on Income Tax Bills.

It is conceded now that when the battle comes it will center around the two principal points in controversy between Cook county and downstate—the percentage of the proceeds from an income tax to be retained by the state and the size of the vote required to increase that percentage.

REJECT "RELIEF" BILL NO. 5

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 27.—[Special.]—Refusing to vest additional power in the Illinois state tax commission, the Illinois house today voted to table house bill No. 5 of the Strawn committee's relief program.

"This bill would give broad general powers to the tax commission," said Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg to Simeon E. Leland of the Strawn committee. "Don't you think it will be wiser to have a court or some other body decide on the conduct of county tax assessors?"

"Thirteen states have adopted the plan," replied Mr. Leland.

Attorney William H. Sexton, chief of the committee's counsel, expressed the opinion that the measure was not essential to the success of the program and said that it might become a dangerous piece of legislation.

"In view of the fact," said Schnackenberg, addressing the chair, "I move that this bill be tabled." Unanimous assent met the motion.

Other Bills Fare Better.

Otherwise, the Strawn bills fared well in the house. Representative Michael L. Igoe, Democratic floor leader from Chicago, moved that the thirty-one remaining bills be reported out of the committee as a whole with a favorable recommendation.

They will be so considered tomorrow morning and the house hopes also to have the opportunity of quizzing Chairman William H. Malone of the state tax commission and Harry S. Cutmore, who directed the reassessment in Cook county.

The 123 members of the house present during the morning session voted unanimously for this action on motion of Representative Thomas J. O'Grady [Dem.], Chicago.

Cook's Troubles Detailed.

Mr. Sexton read a letter to the assembly members from the Strawn committee. This explained, in brief, Cook county's financial difficulties and sketched the committee's winter campaign which resulted in the raising of $74,000,000 to relieve the stress on the major taxing bodies.

"The obligation to maintain the government is inescapable," he said, "and I have been informed that there is not sufficient cash remaining to meet the school teachers' pay roll on June 7."

"Chicago never gets caught up," he continued. "It never builds big enough. There is talk here of Chicago's ever increasing tax rate. Chicago is continually finding it necessary to extend itself in every way to keep up with the enormous growth in population."

Keeler Quizzed by Shanahan.

Harris S. Keeler, tax rate expert of the Strawn committee, was questioned at length by Speaker David Shanahan [Rep.], Chicago, who spoke from the floor. Speaker Shanahan wanted to know how much tax increase for the property owner the program anticipated. Mr. Keeler replied that he would make a chart to show the increases year by year.

Three members of Chicago's sanitary district—President Elmore, Chief Engineer Kelley and Attorney Walter E. Beebe—called on Gov. Emmerson today to lay their problems before him. They are seeking bond issues for $120,000,000, covering a six year period, and the governor told them that he would not order a simultaneous session to consider the request. If they could give him assurances later, he said, that there was sufficient interest in the sanitary district situation to warrant calling another session, he would consider it.

From a Pocket Pen to a Desk Pen and Back in 10 Seconds

GUARANTEED FOR LIFE!

Here is an utterly new and revolutionary idea in fountain pens. It is now the deciding factor in the minds of thousands selecting a fountain pen today.

It answers the important question: "Why have one pen for your pocket and a second pen for your desk?" For here, in one fine fountain pen—are both.

The Parker Duofold is virtually two pens in one. Buy one for your pocket, and when you want a desk pen, get only the base—not another pen. A tapered pen tip comes free.

Or if you buy a pen with a Desk Set, you receive the beautiful gold-trimmed pocket cap, with clip, which assures this double service—for pocket and for desk. Thus one Parker Duofold pen—guaranteed for life—does for both purposes, insures that you write with the point you like best—always.

Geo. S. Parker's 47th Improvement, Pressureless Touch, brings capillary attraction to gravity's aid—the point writes the instant it touches paper.

Duofold Pens (with pencils to match) set lower in the pocket because the clip starts at the top.

Look for the name "Geo. S. Parker—DJOFOLD" on Parker Pens. It is your guarantee for life. See Parker Pens and Pencils at any convenient pen counter.

★ Parker Duofold Pencils are also convertible. New pen and pencil Desk Sets, exclusively Parker, double the usefulness of your pocket Parker pen and pencil.

CHARGES UNION TERRORISM IN LA GRANGE SUIT

Witness Tells of Truck Forced Into Ditch.

Testimony that union officials had prevented the delivery of goods from Abarbanell Bros., dyers and cleaners in eight western suburbs, in an effort to compel the owners to unionize their shops, was given yesterday before Master in Chancery William A. Doyle.

George Abarbanell, son of one of the owners, testified that his truck had been forced off the road by union agents and that he was compelled to return with his goods to the La Grange plant.

"I went to work on April 30, the day the strike was called at our place," said Abarbanell. "A lot of men were hanging around. I got a load in my truck and started out. Two hard looking men followed me in a big car. I tried to get away from them and, when I couldn't, I drove to the La Grange police station.

Says Police Refused Arrests.

"I met a policeman and told him I wanted the men arrested. The policeman looked at the men, and then at me, and then he said to me: 'Get your car out of here. You're parked on the wrong side of the street.'

"I went back to the office, and my father told me to start out again. I drove toward Downers Grove, when the same car came alongside and forced me into the ditch. I got around them and they did it again.

"The union men told me I wouldn't make any deliveries that day. They held their hands in their pockets, and the pockets bulged.

"I was ordered to turn my truck around and go back to the plant, which I did."

Abarbanell said that although La Grange policemen were at the Abarbanell plant, no trucks were permitted to leave for three days, after which the owners sought an injunction. Master Doyle will determine whether an injunction should be issued.

Charges Business Affected.

Irving Abarbanell, father of George, testified that due to the tactics of the union his business has fallen off and that many of his customers have been influenced to trade elsewhere.

Asked to relate statements made in various courtrooms by Ben Abrams, one of the union defendants, Abarbanell testified that on one occasion when he declared his business had been "shot in two" by the strike Abrams had replied that he "didn't know he had been so successful in so short a time."

On another occasion, Abarbanell testified, Abrams said: "O, let them get an injunction. There are other methods we can use."

The hearing will be resumed at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

N. Y. BANK EMPLOYE CONFESSES HE STOLE $84,000 FROM FIRM

New York, May 27.—(AP)—James K. Thomson, 27, for five years employed by the Chase National bank, today admitted at the police lineup the theft of $84,000 in stocks and bonds from the bank during the last 18 months.

Thomson said he spent most of the money in extravagant living and gambling.

Described as "Fine Young Man."

Centerville, S. D., May 27.—(AP)—James Thomson, former Centerville youth, who is reported to have confessed to theft of $84,000 from a New York bank, was described today as "one of the finest young men produced" here.

ENGINEERS TELL GRAND JURY OF SANITARY COSTS

Engineers for the state's attorney's office went before the special grand jury yesterday in the sanitary district investigation and told what district projects under the régime of Timothy J. Crowe as president would have cost had the work been paid for by private corporations. The engineers, First Assistant State's Attorney Northup said, showed that the district paid more than it should have.

The special grand jury is expected to return indictments when adjournment is taken—probably tomorrow. The usual jury report will not be forthcoming because of a ruling yesterday by Chief Justice Normoyle of the Criminal court.

At the request of Attorneys Charles Dougherty and Samuel Hoffman, acting as "friends of the court," Chief Justice Normoyle struck from the records a report made by the grand jury earlier in the week. This report charged a "conspiracy to obstruct" the jurors in their work and exonerated Northup from giving out the names of the witnesses. It was not authorized by law.

BREAKS NECK; MAY LIVE.

Appleton, Wis., May 27.—[Special.]—Struck by a heavy roll as it fell from a car at a paper mill where he was employed, Wenzel G. Rosser, 32, suffered a broken neck here yesterday. He has a good chance to recover, according to physicians.

CRITICIZE PLAN TO ALLOW HIGHER BUILDING TOWERS

Architects See Danger of Coughlin Proposal.

Opposition developed yesterday to proposed changes in the building code that would permit the erection of higher towers on buildings in the loop and the central business district. The amendment to the code, proposed by Ald. John J. Coughlin [1st], has been turned over to Corporation Counsel Ettelson to be drafted in amendment form for presentation to the council June 4.

Architects and attorneys for building interests said the proposed change would place the owners of buildings erected under the present code at a great disadvantage if the restrictions on tower sizes were removed in favor of undeveloped property. Some stated they believed it unwise to disturb the equalization of building values established under the old code. Others said they have found that buildings of sufficent height can be erected under the present regulations.

Proposed Code Changes.

The Coughlin plan proposes two principal changes in the present restrictions. One would permit an increase in the tower from 25 per cent of the base of the building proper to 40 per cent. The other would permit an increase in the tower volume from one-sixth of the volume of the entire structure to one-fourth.

"I think that the amendment is unnecessary," said Harry T. Frost, an architect. "No one can show any need for increasing the height or the bulk of buildings. The proposed amendment would increase fire hazards and work a hardship."

Edward Probst of the architectural firm of Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, said the amendment would change building conditions considerably.

Compare Repealed Amendment.

The proposed amendment was compared to the one passed by the council last year and later repealed. Under that plan, which changed the street line height of buildings, John F. Cuneo proposed to erect a sixty story building at Randolph street and Michigan avenue.

"The proposed amendment possesses substantially the same evils as the Cuneo ordinance," said Attorney Joseph B. Fleming of the law firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green & Martin, who represented several building owners in the litigation that followed the passage of the previous zoning amendment.

An impetus to building was seen yesterday when the building and zoning committee recommended that the council allow variations in the building code of 16 prospective builders.

EX-CONSUL SAYS CASH AND VODKA LED HIM TO AID SMUGGLERS

New York, May 27.—(AP)—Harry Hall of Baltimore, former vice consul at Warsaw, testified in federal court today that after he had taken a few drinks of Vodka and been paid $700 he signed fraudulent visas for aliens whom a smuggling ring intended to get into the United States.

Hall has pleaded guilty to conspiracy to violate the immigration laws and is testifying for the government against two men and a woman indicted with him. They are Morris Baskin of Brooklyn, Moszek Juda Faszyniak, and Mrs. Vasza Sznifer, both of New York.

Hall said that Baskin offered him the money and the vodka in Warsaw. He said Baskin offered him $70,000 to smuggle a package of goods worth $479,000, but he never received the package or the money. The $700, he said, came from Leo Shapiro, another defendant, now fighting extradition from New Jersey.

BOY WINS FIRST ROUND OF FIGHT TO STAY IN U. S.

Johnny Stanton to Remain Till June 20 at Least.

Your rich Uncle Sam is pretty busy these days, what with the tariff, naval treaties, congressional investigations and the like, but he must have taken time off yesterday to bestow a reassuring wink on 10 year old Johnny Pershing Stanton when in the Lake County court Judge Perry L. Persons announced that the boy was sure of remaining in the U. S. A. until at least June 20. Johnny fled from a liner bound for Cherbourg to avoid going to France with his mother, Mrs. Henry L. Berry.

Johnny had sat close to Mrs. Jacob Larsen, tightly holding her hand, throughout a session in which social workers and lawyers argued for his immediate return to his mother in France.

Johnny's Dad Appears.

Further to complicate the situation, Johnny's father, whom he had not seen for six years, appeared in court. He is Joseph Stanton, former American doughboy, now living at 5516 Kenmore avenue. He and Johnny's mother were divorced two years after their marriage—the result of an overseas romance.

Stanton, now remarried and with a 21 month old child, declared he would fight for the boy's custody in the Cook County Circuit court rather than allow Jacob Larsen to take him away from Mrs. Berry.

James T. Nicholson, representing the American Red Cross, said his organization was supporting Miss Jessie Binford of the Chicago Juvenile Protective association. Miss Binford told the judge she had known the boy's mother since her arrival in the United States as a war bride, and that the Larsens should "droup the case and let her have the boy in France." Alice McMasters, executive secretary of the Travelers' Aid society, was of the same opinion.

Other Side of Story.

Then up spoke Martin C. Decker, probate judge of Lake county, representing the Larsens:

"Why it is, if Mrs. Berry is so fond of Johnny, she didn't provide a home for him when she married Berry two years ago? Why did she let him remain in the custody of the Larsens?"

Mr. Decker pointed out that the Larsens had been caring for Johnny for eight years.

Judge Persons then ruled that Johnny should remain with the Larsens and Mrs. Elizabeth O'Boyle, Mrs. Larsen's mother, at their Fox Lake home until June 20. He explained it was "purely a temporary order until the court can hear all parties to the case."

"I'm happy," said Johnny, "I'm going back for a while."

WOUNDED ROBBER VANISHES.

Council Bluffs, Ia., May 27.—(AP)—James Pinney, 20, of Tariffville, Conn., disappeared last night from a hospital where he was recovering from bullet wounds received when he was shot by Bob Morton, night marshal at Missouri Valley. The officer shot him, he said, when Pinney attempted to force an entrance into a jewelry store.

LEGION WORKERS CALL POPPY DAY SALE A SUCCESS

American Legion and auxiliary members last night believed that the Poppy day collection of yesterday had been successful, although the money had not been counted. Joseph F. Novotny, division commander of the American Legion, said the money will be expended for disabled veterans and dependents.

Rain was believed to have reduced the afternoon sales somewhat. A number of volunteer poppy venders reported that poppy buyers contributed dollar bills instead of the usual dime.

In inviting the public to participate in Memorial day services on Friday in honor of the war dead, Mr. Novotny asked that poppies by worn by all citizens on that day.

Don't take a chance on Memorial Day

IF you are one of the millions planning to take a week-end drive over Memorial Day, look to your tires.

Nothing wrecks the holiday frame of mind so completely as a struggle by the roadside with a tire change, while the stream of vacation traffic passes you by.

Maybe a new tube right now will save you this experience; maybe it's a new casing, or two, that you need to make sure.

Whatever it is, there's no place so well prepared and equipped to look after you as the nearest Goodyear Service Station Dealer.

Go see him now, he'll help you make an inspection of your tire equipment, and whether it's tires or tubes or service, he sells the world's best at prices you can afford to pay.

He's part and parcel of that combination of superior quality and superior service that makes "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

Goodyear can give you greater tire value because Goodyear builds more than 1/4 of all the tires used in America, the remainder being divided among some forty manufacturers. "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."

WOMEN VISION BILLBOARDLESS CHICAGO BY 1933

Top Signs as Eyesores and Traffic Perils.

Chicago as a city without a disfiguring billboard by the time the first visitors arrive for the World's Fair of 1933 was suggested yesterday as a thing not entirely impossible of fulfillment. The suggestion came from Mrs. William Westerlund, founder-president of the Woman's Chicago Beautiful association, which met at the Hotel Sherman.

It was voted to hold over the entire list of officers and directors to facilitate attainment of that object. Mrs. Henry W. Hardy, Mrs. John W. Ling, Mrs. Edward D. Loewenthal, and Mrs. George V. McIntyre thus remain as vice presidents, Mrs. Samuel J. Stark as corresponding secretary, Mrs. Joseph F. Hurley as recording secretary, and Mrs. Robert L. McCall as treasurer.

Hope to Eliminate Signs.

"It is significant," Mrs. Westerlund said, "that the first resolution presented to this organization after its founding was concerned with opposition to the billboards. We still object to the unsightly effect they have on the city and hope earnestly to be rid of them by 1933."

"It has been a principle with me," Mrs. McCall asserted, "never to vote for a candidate for office who plasters his advertising matter on our telephone and light poles. It is against the city ordinance, and the fact that those men break that ordinance so persistently proves them disqualified for office."

Attacks Billboard Ads.

Mrs. Charles J. Trainor, a director of the association, asserted:

"I find many of the billboard advertisements vulgar. I never have bought an article because of those ads, and I believe a survey would prove to merchants who use them that they are not getting value for their money."

"The billboards are dangerous," added Mrs. Edward S. Bailey, chairman of the American homes department. "I witnessed a terrible accident about a year ago, caused by the obstruction of the view by such a monstrosity at a curve in the road north of Chicago. The cars met head-on because the drivers could not see each other approaching."

LINEMAN IS ELECTROCUTED.

Sabula, Ia., May 27.—[Special.]—William Spencer, 47, of Sabula, a lineman, was electrocuted at Mount Carroll, Ill., early today when he had been sent to repair a broken line of the Northwestern Illinois Utility company. He is survived by a widow and five children.

ASKS INQUIRY INTO U. S. PARTICIPATION IN CHICAGO WORLD FAIR

Washington, D. C., May 27.—[Special.]—Appointment of a special committee to investigate and stimulate plans for participation of the federal government in the Chicago Century of Progress exposition was proposed in a resolution submitted to the house today by Representative Carl R. Chindblom [Rep., Ill.]. The resolution was referred to the ways and means committee.

Mr. Chindblom asked that President Hoover be directed to name a committee consisting of one representative each of the departments of state, agriculture, and commerce which should determine what parts the various branches of the government would take in the exposition. The committee would report its findings and recommendations to congress at the opening of the next regular session.

The resolution provides that the necessary expenses of the committee be paid by the World's Fair Centennial Celebration corporation.

DAWES MOVES FIRST DIRT FOR FAIR BUILDING

Construction Activities Are Started.

President Rufus C. Dawes of the 1933 Century of Progress exposition pulled a lever on a steam shovel yesterday and the first dirt was scooped from the site of the first world's fair building between Soldiers' field and the Field museum on the outer drive. The ceremony was attended by directors of the fair and public officials.

This first structure, the administration building, is to be completed next November. It will be 340x140 feet and will cost $300,000. In the absence of President Kelley, Vice President Philip S. Graver of the south park commissioners addressed the gathering, formally turning over to the fair's trustees the use of the park property.

Pledges Worthy Exposition.

In reply Mr. Dawes said: "We pledge ourselves to the use of this land for the enjoyment, education, and entertainment of the people of the world. The exposition will fittingly portray the history of Chicago and be worthy of the city's proud position among the cities of the world."

Among those participating in the ceremony were Charles S. Peterson, vice president of the fair and city treasurer; George T. Donoughue, superintendent of south parks; Maj. L. R. Lohr, manager of the fair; George W. Dixon, trustee, and C. W. Farrier and Julius Hall, World's Fair construction officials.

Gotham Heads Traffic Group.

The structure will be of permanent materials and be turned over to the park board following the fair. Because of the sloping terrain, the building will be two stories on the west side and three stories facing the lake front lagoon.

Sidney S. Gorham, former president of the Chicago Bar association, was named chairman of the traffic control committee for the fair.

2 SCHOOLGIRLS ATTEMPT SUICIDE BY TAKING POISON

Shelbyville, Ill., May 27.—[Special.]—Mary Baxter and Edna Wallace, 15 year old school girls, attempted suicide by taking poison this afternoon. A passing truck driver who saw them staggering along the road a mile east of here brought them to the hospital, where it was said their condition was not serious.

The girls refused any explanation of their act beyond the note they had inscribed to their parents evpressing discouragement and a desire "to end it all." Early in the afternoon they walked to the neighboring village of Windsor, where they purchased an ounce of poison. On their way home they stopped at a schoolhouse about a mile east of Shelbyville, diluted the poison in a cup of water, and drank it.

Staggering homeward, they were overtaken by a truck driver, who took them to a physician.

¶ It is easy to press a straw hat into surface smartness. That lasts till wear quickly forces it out or the first moisture licks it off. The smart, graceful, "made-to-order", metropolitan appearance of a Hand-Made Mallory Straw is permanently retained by these two revolutionary features—(1) The Give-And-Take "Flexelnt" Headband (patented) cushions the hat on the head, and (2) The "Cravenette" Process (exclusive) protects the straw against moisture and warping. This means a fine-looking straw hat that keeps looking fine the whole Summer long.

"Give me liberty to know, to utter and to argue freely according to my conscience, above all other liberties."
—Milton.

JOHN SCOFFLAW IS AN HONEST MAN.

The United States Supreme court has held that the ordinary purchaser of liquor is not an offender against the laws of the nation. He is an innocent citizen and the transaction in which he was engaged was legally blameless. The case came up from the federal District court in Massachusetts as a test of the question, the lower court having given the opinion which the Supreme court sustained. The provision of the prohibition act which requires a permit for the sale and purchase of liquor applies to a particular and described class for which a legal method of sale and purchase is provided. It does not apply in general. Congress has specified what are illegal acts under the national prohibition law, and purchase is not one of them.

This removes legal stigma from great masses of American citizens. They have been buying liquor, but they are law-abiding. The reproach that they were lawless is false. With respect to Volstead they have nothing on their conscience. The alien critic who has had his fun with the American public, or has been contemptuous, has been ignorant when he thought himself profound. Mr. Wickersham and his commission on law enforcement, Mrs. Boole and the W. C. T. U., Dr. Cherrington, Dr. Bowlby and Dr. C. True Wilson, Senator Brookhart, Senator Jones, and Senator Borah have been worrying about nothing at all.

The Supreme court has made John Scoffaw an honest man. His name is really Abide Thelaw. The nation is as sound and sweet as a nut. Fifty million felons have been found to be untouched by sin and unspotted by corruption. This is the greatest emancipation the country ever knew. It takes the populace out of the pit of lawlessness, delivers it from the toils of evil and sets it right in the light of its conscience and the opinion of mankind. It is the bath of the innocent, a restoration from unjust judgment.

A liquor transaction consists of two parts, one felonious and subject to imprisonment, the other blameless and without sin. The citizen whose requirements are satisfied by the purveyor is observed by the law benignly. The purveyor who offers the goods remains in the outer darkness. If the larger morality finds it difficult to get across the river on this half bridge it must be noted that the Supreme court finds the arrangement to be the deliberate will of congress and in such matters congress has had no will except that of its prohibition masters.

NAVY PAY.

Recent comparisons of navy pay with civilian pay for corresponding status show that the navy has by far the worst of it. Of the class of 1907 at Annapolis, the average income roughly of those who resigned from the service is $13,900 annually, while the income of those still in the service is not more than $7,000 annually. More conservative figures show that the man out of the navy gets at least $1,500 more a year than his classmate in the navy. Of those still in the service ten get below $5,000 and 114 get from $5,000 to $7,000 annually. No one gets more, except a few in aviation. Of their classmates not now in the navy, 5 get below $5,000; 12 earn from $5,000 to $7,000; one gets from $7,000 to $9,000; 15 get from $9,000 to $15,000; 8 get from $15,000 to $25,000; 6 get from $25,000 to $100,000; and one gets more than $100,000 annually. The chances for a good salary, it appears, are better outside of the navy.

Navy officers are highly trained and hard working. They are most valuable material. Under the pay system in effect since the great war many of the best of them are resigning. Many others are looking for outside work. They are confronted by conditions that for large numbers offer little or no hope of advancement in rank, salary, or prestige. Too many of the best men in the naval service are being forced out by economic pressure. The United States can ill afford to have this go on.

THE SAFE AIRWAY TO NEW YORK.

Because Canada once prohibited the Chicago-New York air mail over her territory the air route was laid out by way of Cleveland, over the aviators' graveyard among the mountains of northern Pennsylvania, to our eastern port. Today Canada prohibits this no longer, but the air route remains the same. Why, other than inertia, is not clear.

By way of Detroit and Buffalo the way is 22 miles longer, to be sure, but comparatively safe flying, and where Cleveland is lost as a port of call Detroit and Buffalo are gained. The way follows the great circle through Detroit over Canada to Buffalo. Thence it heads southeastward to New York. The present route is highly dangerous. The way by Buffalo is open country, level all the way.

In the name of humanity the latter course should be in use. America can ill afford the risk and of her trained airmen.

MR. GRUNDY EXPERIENCES.

Joseph Grundy of Pennsylvania got his first seat in the United States senate whimsically for nothing, but he got it at the expense of William S. Vare, who had spent so much money for it that the senate would not allow him to have it. The place was vacant and Gov. Fisher gave it to Mr. Grundy, who had it only long enough to get to like it before he had to fight to retain it in the usual Pennsylvania manner. He lost it and he has informed the senate committee that it cost him $291,000 out of his own pocket and $47,000 from contributions by friends. He may now use his barrel as a summer suit.

James J. Davis, secretary of labor, in defeating Mr. Grundy, spent only $20,541. He reports that $10,541 was out of his pockets, the rest in contributions. Davis was backed by Vare, who had learned in one experience that a candidate ought to have nothing to report. With a cabinet officer and a great boss on one side and a private fund on the other, Mr. Grundy's money went to the winds without bringing anything back.

Senator Dill of the committee asked Mr. Grundy what he thought of the whole situation. A citizen who gets a seat in the senate is paid $60,000 if he serves the six years at $10,000 a year. In populous states it is taking a quarter of a million to win or lose the nomination if the campaign is made without government patronage. Grundy said he did not see where a limitation of amount could be set wisely if the direct nomination system was continued.

Grundy had not been in office long enough to get any political benefits from it. He had made enemies without getting much support. His chief opponent on the ticket was in the cabinet. The backer of that opponent was powerful and mad. The combination of Davis and Vare was able, if Davis' report is complete, to win without spending much money. Public office can provide the equivalent of the money with which Grundy tried to win. Both he and Vare have had a large experience which they may find humorous if they can take it that way, the two of them together having invested something over a million dollars in paving the way to the senate and neither of them will be there.

The senators themselves know that their peace of mind and security will be found in the limitation of campaign expenses regardless of its source or the manner and purpose of its expenditure. Therefore limitation is the doctrine of the elective officeholder everywhere. It will protect tenure in office by making competition impossible. It will be a law for the continuation of the placeholder. Where, then, does the man of average means get off in one of the great American commonwealths under the present system? He can answer that himself by figuring what it would cost him to mail letters to every voter, to appear in every county, to form an organization, to have himself represented at the polling places, to rent a few halls and have some band music. He hasn't a chance by himself for a large office in a large state, and if the placeholders get a law limiting the use of private funds to two sheets of postage stamps and five dollars for car fare no one will have a chance with methods as they are.

The American governing class will become a closed corporation and it might as well be made hereditary.

OUR HIGH HAT TO ST. LOUIS AND PITTSBURGH.

Although the furnaces and the calendar cannot keep in agreement as to the time of year, the percentage columns indicate that this is not the training period but a consequential part of the baseball season when a game lost is gone beyond recall and a game won is so much bacon in the smokehouse. A realization of this takes some of the bloom off the iris for the more serious minded addicts. At this writing both the Sox and the Cubs are in second division. In the case of the Sox it is observed with an intelligent indulgence. The organization is young, frisky and hopeful and is being trained in the slow processes of the game to present a champion outfit to the city in the next generation or so. Time is required in this nurture.

With the Cubs time is not working for them but against them. They are supposed to be ripe, and if the city is to have any enhancement from them it must be had pronto or there is not much prospect of it. Mr. Wrigley's players are unquestionably willing and must realize the importance of getting Chicago out of the hole it is in. The legislature is not helping much. Apparently the trouble is too much dependence upon the infantry and not enough dependability in the artillery. Infantry as the queen of battles gets crowned too often. What the Cubs seem to need is four such good old howitzers as Mordecai Brown. They were, without doubt, the days.

It may be that Chicago would do well this summer to gather to it its robe of culture and pass along in dignity on the other side of the street, finding its stars in Mr. Adler's new house on the lake, its heroes among the prehistoric remains in the Field museum or in the Art institute frames, making Mr. Eckstein's its favorite park and recovering in intellectuality what it loses in the standing of the clubs.

A high hat and refined sensibilities will put St. Louis and Pittsburgh in their places and keep them there.

Editorial of the Day

HOW BROOKLYN SHOWS THE RUMSEY STATUES.

[New York Evening Post.]

With its usual progressiveness, the Brooklyn museum is showing New York the way to display sculpture. On Saturday it dedicated its beautiful new hall to a summer "exhibition of recent work by distinguished sculptors." Yet figures of heroic size the museum has the genius to display, not within its walls but upon the lawns and terraces that lead up to its porticos from the street. Here are four dramatic works of the late Charles Cary Rumsey: His imaginative "Centaur," his great bronze bull, his "Dying Indian," and above all his mighty "Pizarro." Sculpture, we suppose, is fundamentally an outdoor art. To give to a magnificent statue like that of the Peruvian conquistador its proper pedestal and a fitting setting of landscaping and façades is to give to those who see it a real chance to sense its magnificence. Furthermore, it is excellent showmanship. The crowds on the streets are instantly told by it that there is within the museum a show of sculpture. Perhaps, too, by having these heroic figures thus brought upon their daily attention, sculpture itself may come to mean to the people a little less of a plaster aloofness and more of a living and familiar art.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

seems to be a sort of American national pastime like baseball, tennis, or playing the stock market. It seems to be almost exclusively a woman's sport. Maybe that's because men hate to wear knee panties—that is, the kind they have to wear at court. If they could wear their plus fours, as they do when they play golf, maybe they'd just as lief be presented as not; and, moreover, they know they've got to stand in line a long time and not have a chance to go to the bar for hours. And that's a great hardship in London, where good grog can usually be found anywhere within ten yards.

But the girls are terribly excited over being presented at court and buy all sorts of clothes and diamonds and feathers and things and practice walking backward for weeks. Of course, when the girls are presented at court they expect to bow before both the king and the queen, but the king has not been around much lately, and so they just meet the queen. We don't know whether a presentation with the king out of the picture counts as much as one where he is there. Maybe they get rain checks when the king isn't there.

Anyhow, the wear and tear on Charley Dawes from Americans who want to break into a court reception must be pretty big. No wonder he's coming home for a rest. Lots of American tourists think they can break into St. James on their passport if accompanied by their lodge pins and their income tax receipts. And when they find they can't they say, "Well, wait till we get back to Kansas City and Charley Dawes runs for ambassador again! He won't get a single vote out there."

WHEN THE 'LECTRIC LIGHTS ARE LIT.

Farmin' ain't no more the hardship that it was in bygone days,
For with all the new improvements there ain't nothin' you can't raise.
You can even raise a morgedge, which upsets the time-worn joke
That the Old Plantation Minstrels used to tell us country folk.

When the Ford is in the garridge and the tractor had its hay,
When the plane is in its hangar and the golf things put away,
Then I tune in th' loud speaker and in sweet contentment sit,
Jest a-listenin' to the concert when the evenin' lights are lit.

You don't have to read the papers to keep posted on the news,
And you needn't go to meetin' on the Sabbath 'cept you chose;
For the radio will bring you all the happenin's of the day,
And by tunin' in on Sunday you can hear' em preach and pray.

Who would ever dream that farm life could be made so pleasant-like?
'Taint no chore to go to town now, jest a short spin down the pike.
Makes you feel like this was heaven, or as close as you can git,

JOHN KELLET.

ANYHOW, with the three days holidays, one right after the other, that begin Friday, people who own Desiccated Bath Sponge Common and Barbed Wire Door Mats Preferred will have a chance to get some sleep and fatten up and be nice and plump when the bears start after 'em again on the Stock Exchange.

OLD JOE GRUNDY spent $291,000 to run in the primary for senator in Pennsylvania, and he got licked at that. Oh, well, even if old Joe had won and been elected senator, the job would have only paid back $72,000. So he should worry.

NIX—YOU CAN'T ROB ME—I GOTTA PASS!

Explorers in China who want to reach a lake in the Mongolian sand dunes, which may turn out to be another site of the Garden of Eden, say they can get there all right, even though it is a bandit infested country, as they have bought passes from the bandit leaders. Now, that's a good idea. Why don't the bandit leaders in Chicago sell us passes home after the theater? Passes good to the garage guaranteeing the privilege of parking our cars without having our diamond rings grabbed off our fingers would be nice, and then a pass from the garage back to the house would be useful. Come on, bandit leaders—be sports and get these passes printed today and put 'em on sale at central places down in the loop where we buy 'em.

SCOTTIE THE SCOFFLAW writes to us to ask, now that the Supreme court of these United States say it is no crime to buy hootch, will it be all right for him to go after it with a tin bucket, or the water pitcher, the way he used to rush the growler in the old days. It will probably be all right, Scottie, as far as the Supreme court is concerned, but remember, Scottie, you will have to pass many fellow citizens who are so thirsty their tongues are hanging out half a yard, and it is doubtful if you succeeded in getting your supply home.

Lagniappe.

MIAMI, FLA., is bursting with pride because the new census shows that it has climbed into the one hundred thousand population class. Yes, and take Al Capone and his bodyguard and the federal officers who are chasing 'em around out of the count of Miami's population, and how many people would that town have? Huh, huh!

THE SWISS glacier commission has begun an experiment, which will last two hundred and fifty years, to determine the speed of glaciers. We wish the Swiss glacier commission would also undertake the job of finding out how fast the government plans for Chicago's new postoffice are moving.

GINGER JAKE.

I HAVE seen something more than a dozen cases of the widespread epidemic nicknamed jake, or jake paralysis. These cases were seen with about ten physicians, who told me they had seen a total of more than fifty cases. They said there were rumors of ten thousand cases in the entire country, though no one of them had seen any official report as to the number in the entire country or in any single state.

The story as told is that jake is in fairly wide use as a bootleg beverage and has been for some years. It is sold in two ounce bottles, and drinking one bottle gives a man a fair feeling of well-being. Two bottles make him think he is John D. Rockefeller. A one to two bottle drunk is about the cheapest and most convenient drunk now available. Of the jake cases I saw some admitted being periodic drinkers for a long time. Some claimed never to have drunk it before, and others were in between these extremes.

Somewhere about the latter part of February the market was flooded with a lot of jake, labeled as coming from six or more cities, but indications of having originated from one source—directing source, anyhow. The men who got jake from this liquor said it did not taste or smell like ginger, it was not very hot. Most of them thought they remembered that it tasted a little peculiar. The two ounce bottles I have are labeled "Fluid Extract of Jamaica Ginger, U. S. P., Alcohol by Volume, not over 83%." 83% is twice the alcohol content of the garden variety of whisky. My guess is that the so-called jake is very cheap whisky or alcohol solution, probably partially denatured with one of the government recipes and containing a little red pepper to cover up the flavor and to simulate ginger. Of course, the product is not properly labeled and its manufacture, shipment, sale, and use are illegal in many ways.

The men who drank it had no immediate bad effects except the drunk. Two vomited, but one of those was finishing up a drunk and nausea might have been independent of this dose. None complained of headache, dark brown taste, or any other Katzenjammer.

Most of those who drank the poison escaped paralysis. Two men who escaped drank from the same batch and even split a bottle more than once with two who became paralytics. Why these men escaped no one can tell. However, every food outbreak or exposure of any kind duplicates this experience.

SHOULD INVESTIGATE WATER.

E. L. writes: Every summer we go to a beautiful resort at which there are about fifty or sixty people.

Each year for five years there has been an epidemic of running of the bowels, vomiting, and pain in the stomach. The symptoms last five or six days. Could it be the water?

Shall I take my three year old child there next summer?

What can we do to prevent the trouble?

REPLY.

Your story indicates that the trouble is with the water. It should be investigated by the local and state health departments. The proprietors owe that much to their patrons. Unless something is done the patrons should go elsewhere.

DIET AND EXERCISE.

Mrs. E. S. writes: I would like to know what to do to lose a little weight. I am 5 feet 7 inches tall and weigh about 180 pounds. Am 34 years of age. I have a very big stomach and have had it for the last two years. Is there any way to reduce it? Perhaps it is because I eat quite a bit, as I am a hearty eater. What can I do about it?

REPLY.

There are some cases which are designated pathologic obesity. They can be reduced by proper medical treatment.

The treatment of simple obesity consists in dieting supplemented by work or exercise. As you surmise, "eating quite a bit" is the cause, and refraining "quite a bit" is the cure.

Any one can reduce by cutting down on the eats. Many do that. Where most fat people fail is in permanently adjusting the diet to the work done.

MAY BE SINUS INFECTION.

Mrs. S. L. writes: I suffered for years with pain in my head. I tried all sorts of medicine. A physician said my pain came from infected sinuses. He removed nearly a cup of corruption from the sinus under my right eye.

I still have some pains but I feel like a different woman. I enjoy life, do my housework and am in good health and spirits.

REPLY:

Many others have had head pains due to sinus infections and have gotten relief through sinus drainage.

NO DATE SET FOR POLICE EXAM.

Chicago, May 17.—[Friend of the People.]—Could you please give me information regarding the physical requirements and examination for south park police, and if there will be any examination in the near future? A. H.

Date of next examination unknown. Medical examination made to see if applicant is in good health: extended physical examination is made to learn physical ability in many ways. H. C. CARBAUGH,

DEFECTIVE DRAIN PIPE.

Chicago, May 15.—[Friend of the People.]—A two flat frame next door to my home has defective drain pipe running from roof to front porch. When it rains upper drain pipe floods, causing water to pour down on my property and flooding my basement. Please advise what can be done, as owner won't fix it. G. B. H.

You are advised that an inspector has been assigned to make a thorough investigation, and if any violation is observed, proper action will be taken to effect an abatement.
ARNOLD H. KEGEL,
Commissioner of health.

DAMAGES CURB.

Chicago, May 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. I should like to know just what are the rights of a property owner regarding the strip of land between the sidewalk and the curbing. 2. I understand this land belongs to the city, and I think I read in your column that: 3. One was not permitted to put up a fence or remove trees, etc.

In attempting to turn my car around on an extremely narrow street the bumper caught on an upright length of gas pipe with which the section was fenced in, tearing it out of the piece of concrete in which it was imbedded. This concrete is part of a narrow walk the owner has laid next to the curbing for convenience in alighting from cars. 4. He has secured an estimate of $12 for repairing the damage and I am wondering how far he can go in an attempt to secure payment. E. L. G.

1. Ordinarily the lot owner does not own this strip.
2. Correct.
3. Often no objection is made.
4. Of course he can bring suit, but the amount involved is not large enough to make suit worth while.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 28, 1865.

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of War Stanton announced that a dispatch from Gen. Canby dated near New Orleans, May 26, states that arrangements for the surrender of the confederate forces in the trans-Mississippi department have been concluded. They include the men and material of the army and navy.

NEW ORLEANS.—The trans-Mississippi department of the rebel army surrendered on May 26 to Maj. Gen. Canby. The terms are the same as those agreed upon between Gens. Grant and Lee at Appomattox. The lines are now open and the press and permit system entirely abolished east of the Mississippi.

NEW ORLEANS.—One of the most terrific explosions that has ever occurred in this country was that in the main ordnance depot, with the surrounding magazines, at Mobile yesterday. The city was shaken to its very foundations. Eight squares of buildings are in ruins and 500 victims are buried beneath the walls. The property loss is estimated at $8,000,000.

CHICAGO.—C. H. Ray, who for seven years was one of the editors of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, returned to his post today. For some time he has been resting and rusticating, and returns to the editorial chair renewed and invigorated by his vacation.

ST. LOUIS.—Reports from Fort Smith are very favorable to extensive surrenders of rebel commands in that vicinity. Indian rebel regiments have been disbanded and returned to their homes. The Indians are utterly destitute and revile their leaders heartily.

CAIRO.—Telegraphic communication is open with New Orleans. Jackson, Miss., advices state that the rebel legislature met there on May 20, and Gov. Clarke appointed a committee to go to Washington to confer with President Johnson on the subject of calling a convention with a view to restoring Mississippi to the Union. The New Orleans Times says that the unpopularity of Emperor Maximilian of Mexico is still further confirmed. An attempt was recently made by a party of guerrillas to kidnap the empress from Mexico City.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 28, 1900.

LONDON.—What some war experts regard as the last great obstacle intervening between the British army and Pretoria has been surmounted by Lord Roberts' crossing the Vaal river. Official dispatches say that portions of the British cavalry entered Kruger's country on May 24 and 25, and on the 26th Lord Roberts reached the south bank, crossing yesterday. He made camp at Vereeniging, 51 miles from Johannesburg and 77 miles from Pretoria. The crossing was practically unopposed. The Boers have fallen back to the Gatarand chain of hills, northeast of Potchefstroom, where they are concentrating, and where 3,000 Kaffirs are busy digging trenches. It is believed they have also massed all their big guns for a final stand before Pretoria.

MANILA.—Investigation of the charge against Brig. Gen. Frederick Funston of having summarily executed two natives in the province of Zambales has resulted in the discontinuance of the proceedings. It developed that Gen. Funston caught the natives in the act of murdering bound Macabebe scouts, and his action, in view of the circumstances, was regarded as justifiable.

JOLIET, Ill.—The thirtieth annual state convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of Illinois, held here, was attended by 4,000 persons. These officers were elected: President, Walter J. Gibbons, Chicago; vice presidents, the Rev. W. J. McNamee, Joliet, and Miss Agnes Thompson; treasurer, John Shannon, Chicago; secretaries, W. T. Carroll, Chicago, and Miss Annie Carberry, Springfield.

HOUGHTON, Mich.—The great Calumet and Hecla mine is on fire and workmen are fleeing for their lives from all the shafts. One miner has perished and five others have been taken to the hospital.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 28, 1920.

CHICAGO.—"Gene" Geary, stockyards gangster, labor slugger, and gunman pal of "Moss" Enright and "Sonny" Dunn, added another killing to his list last night. Less than three months after he had been acquitted of the murder of Leonard Tripple, a Yellow taxicab driver, Geary strolled into "Jim" O'Brien's Horn Palace saloon, 4165 South Halsted street, and shot to death Harry J. Reckas, a saloonkeeper of 3300 North Crawford avenue. Geary had never seen Reckas before in his life, and the shooting was without provocation. Attorney Timothy J. Fell was with Reckas when he was shot.

CHICAGO.—Dorsey Chambliss, Negro ex-policeman, was found guilty of seduction by a jury in Judge Lewis' court. The verdict convicts Chambliss, then a uniformed policeman, of luring 17 year old Bertha Wiebeck, newly arrived in the city from a Kansas village, to her ruin, a plight which resulted in her death. Women of the city were aroused by the case and pushed an aggressive prosecution.

THE COST OF BOOKS.

Chicago, May 26.—Your editorial, entitled "High Books," was rather amusing to one actually engaged in book production. It was evident that old Henry Watterson's advice about getting all sides of a story had been sadly neglected. Nevertheless, let's analyze your statements.

In the first place, positively no novel or book of nonfiction having 250 pages or more, printed on cheap paper, bound in relatively cheap fashion, and covered with a paper jacket carrying an illustration, can be produced for 25 cents a copy in any quantity less than 100,000 copies, printed and bound at one time. And let it be said here that not even Mr. Doubleday has ever had the courage to print a first edition of anywhere near 100,000 copies. It just isn't being done. Furthermore, if the distribution costs of $2, or $3, even $3.50 books amounted to $2 on each copy, then the firm of Doubleday, Doran, Inc., would soon be in the hands of receivers.

What the reading public wants is not cheaper books but better books! If they resent paying $2.50 for a new book, how do you explain the fact that the aggregate sales of "The Story of Philosophy," "The Outline of History," "Henry VIII.," and "Mansions of Philosophy" amounted to over 2,000,000 copies at $5 each? There are many other books, equally good, selling for the same price in nearly as large quantities. Now take a look at the fiction field. Why were over a million people willing to pay $2.50 and $3.50 for "Showboat," "Bridge of San Luis Rey," "Coronet," and "All Quiet on the Western Front"? Because they knew they were getting real value for their money. I'll admit that the greater portion of the 7,000 books published annually is pure trash. However, the reading public is well able to discern which of these books are worth their price. Isn't the real answer, fewer books and more worthwhile books?

As for the increase in small apartments causing the relegation of books to the ash pile, I need only say that far more books were sold in 1929 than ever before. The future holds much in store for literature. The book which reads itself, like the talking picture, seems a likely development. In scanning the publishers' announcements for 1930 I have seen no talking books listed, however.

Perhaps Mr. Doubleday was misquoted. Or perhaps he was just trying to stir things up a bit. In either case let us hope that he does not put his dollar book idea into practice. I should hate to see America revert to the "penny dreadful" and "dime novel" type of literature.

NEWS FROM THE EAST.

Chicago, May 24.—Please accept my sincere appreciation for your splendid editorial on India in her present struggle. We appreciate your sincere interest and absolute fairmindedness. In expressing our sincere gratitude to your paper we convey the same to every home in America which subscribes to your motto, "Give me liberty to know, to utter according to my conscience, above all liberties." We depend for accurate information on Mr. Charles Dailey, who is in India and reports as much as rigid British censorship will permit.

TREES DOWNTOWN.

Chicago, May 21.—Many of your readers are grateful for your short editorial, on green streets, and agree with you that "trees are good citizens." I wonder if there is any good reason why a row of trees from Randolph street to Roosevelt road on Michigan avenue would not grow and add more beauty to our loop district than many more towers.

G. M. MCBEAN.

AN OBJECTOR

Chicago, May 23.—I am anxious to see your stand on the traction ordinance. It is surely a perpetual franchise, no question about that.

Do you want to give Big Bill the power to appoint three men who will be kings so far as the fare payers are concerned? As soon as they can do the trick, riders on the surface lines will pay 10 cents instead of 7 cents and on the elevated 15 cents instead of 10 as now. What do you think about that?

WILLIAM ROY DONALD.

PROHIBITION PROBLEMS.

La Moille, Ill., May 22.—I read in THE TRIBUNE the other day a speech by Mr. Morrow of New Jersey, who is a candidate for U. S. senator on the wet ticket. He said he did not want the saloon back, as they were a thing of the past, but he wanted to repeal the Volstead law and put it up to the states that wanted whisky; let them have it and to the ones that went dry he was in favor of giving ample protection to keep whisky out.

Illinois would probably go wet, as Missouri. Iowa would surely vote dry. On the west, Illinois is four hundred miles long, Missouri south of Iowa running west is about three hundred miles long; Minnesota on the north of Iowa is about two hundred and fifty miles long and she would undoubtedly go wet. Now I want to ask Mr. Morrow how much of an army it would take, in his opinion, to keep Iowa dry, with freight cars and flying machines just over the line loaded with booze and armed with machine guns. Then, too, I would like to have him explain how he is going to dispense booze without the old fashioned saloon.

There is no question but every decent citizen does not want the saloon back, but if you give a state the right to sell liquor you must say how liquor shall be sold. Does Mr. Morrow want the states that vote wet to go into the liquor business and dispense it as they see fit? Liquor has been sold in this country for nearly four hundred years and men like Mr. Morrow call the Volstead act a actual failure at the end of ten years. If it takes one hundred years to clean it up, it is worth the effort and more it will cost.

W. C. NORRIS.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Park Ridge, Ill., May 23.—Will you allow me to gently kid the editors of your paper on placing the nomination of Gifford Pinchot back in the paper and the Literary Digest straw vote bunk up on the front page? Your readers have been led to believe that a revolution was pending on the liquor question. But the mountain went in labor and brought forth a mouse (acknowledgment to Aesop).

Transylvania college was represented to the world as overwhelmingly wet. Only sixty students had voted and five the wet ones. But when the whole student body voted in chapel one morning it turned out the school was overwhelmingly dry.

On the front page of THE TRIBUNE this morning is the Literary Digest vote saying that Pennsylvania is dripping wet. But yesterday morning we read of the nominations of dry for governor and senator.

You almost fooled some of us lifetime prohibitionists about the public trend. But we are not going to worry any more.

TICKETS FOR A BOXING SHOW.

Chicago, May 19.—In this morning's paper the Chicago Stadium advertises a boxing show to be held there May 31, 1930. I went down town to their box office at 55 West Madison street, arrived there about 11 o'clock and asked for four tickets at $1.10 each and was informed that all $1.10 tickets were reserved for special customers.

On returning to my office on the far south side I called the main office of the Stadium and talked to a gentleman who told me that all $1.10 tickets were sold out.

If this is true I would like to know whom I have to see or know to have my name put on this special list.

SOMEBODY'S DOG.

Chicago, May 21.—A small, lanky, shaggy dog has been making his home for the last three weeks in the vicinity of Humboldt park, around Kedzie and Beach avenues. He looks like part chow and Airedale and wears a black strap collar. He will not allow any one to touch him, but plays with the neighborhood dogs and seems well content. But he is becoming more ill-kempt every day and I wish his owner would come and take him home.

HUNT FOR BODY 'PRESERVATIVES' LEADS TO COURT

Divorce Bill Charges Bad Results.

Henry Endler's experiments with "body preservatives" received little publicity until he began to test his products. This is the claim of Mrs. Ellen Endler of 1425 Pitner avenue, Evanston, in a bill for divorce filed yesterday in Circuit court by Attorney Max Borchardt.

Since their marriage on July 25, 1914, the bill states, Mrs. Endler has worked to help her husband. At first, while her husband was studying bank-ing, she raised and sold vegetables.

With her savings she helped pur-chase several pieces of property. He also advanced and was made cashier of an Evanston bank. When they possessed a home, two automobiles, and $50,000 worth of real estate, they felt they had done quite well.

Experiments Are Started.

Then Endler began his experiments with what he called "a new form of body preservative." His preservatives had a varying alcoholic content, and, it was later discovered, were used prin-cipally by himself and friends as in-toxicants, the bill states.

Mrs. Endler charges the only things the preservatives produced for her husband was a hardened liver, a soft-ened brain and publicity. His incul-gences gave him the proclivities of a Comanche, she complains, and many times in the early morning hours his Indian war whoops disturbed the neighbors as he staggered home.

Then like an Indian, she charges, he would sharpen his hatchet and threaten to send her and their four children to the happy hunting ground.

Charges Many Arrests.

Endler has been arrested many times, the bill states, and ten days ago she was compelled to call the po-lice when he began flourishing his tomahawk.

Endler's experiments have cost thousands of dollars, his wife charges, and she is now destitute. She asks alimony and the custody of the chil-dren, Martha, 15; Helen, 13; Henry, 11, and Edward, 7.

U. S. JUDGE DECIDES SO-CALLED JAMAICA GINGER INTOXICATING

New York, May 27.—(AP)—The so-called Jamica ginger, alleged cause of death and paralysis in various sec-tions of the country, is an intoxicat-ing liquor, Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey ruled today.

Judge Caffey's ruling was made in an appeal in the case of the govern-ment against the Nomel Products Company, Inc., which manufactures a ginger extract containing 81 per cent of alcohol.

The company had won in Commis-sioner's court on a motion to quash the indictment on the ground that the extract was neither fit for use as a beverage nor designed for the man-ufacture of intoxicating liquor and the search warrant on which evidence was seized therefore was illegal.

The government contended that "by diluting with water or some other potable liquid the said substance [the ginger extract] can be used for beverage purposes."

The government said that although New York is the chief source of the "ginger jake" which has caused ill-ness throughout the country, the No-mel product was not poisoned.

340,000 Pupils Treated at Dental Clinics in 17 Months

Dental clinics in the Chicago public schools treated 240,000 children in 1929 and more than 100,000 during the first five months of 1930, it was an-nounced yesterday by Dr. S. C. Brom-berg, in charge of the work. Of 19,000 pupils examined at the school dispen-saries, 35 per cent had perfect teeth. Dr. Bromberg's report was made at the annual meeting of the public den-tists of Chicago and Cook county and the dental hygienists of the Chicago public schools at the Hotel Sherman.

Oak Parker Is Missing; Wife Asks Police Search

Charles Klaproth, 53 years old, 639 South Lyman avenue, Oak Park, re-tired theatrical man, who disappeared on May 15, was sought last night by the Oak Park police at the request of his wife. At the time he left home he is said to have had several hun-dred dollars in his pocket. Mrs. Klap-roth told the police there had been no trouble between them.

BOMBING STARTS STATE INQUIRY ON CULT HEALER

John Galandak, whose home at 4518 Montana street was damaged by a dynamite bomb early yesterday, was disclosed last night as an elevator op-erator who had become the leader of a "healing hand cult." It was also revealed that his healing practice is under investigation by the state de-partment of education and registra-tion.

After a day's investigation in which the police started search for a half hundred women described as Galan-dak's devoted followers, Chief Inspec-tor Carl A. Rohde of the Illinois de-partment of registration and educa-tion announced he had received reports that Galandak had been practicing medicine without a license for some time.

State Investigates Record.

Complaint was made on May 7 by an executive of the American Medical association, Rohde said. It had since been kept in the files and no action taken. But as soon as word of the bombing reached him Rohde said he assigned a man to look up Galandak's record. His findings will not be avail-able for a week.

Galandak told the police of his power as a healer by the laying on of hands. He said he could supply the names of many patients. The police said they were investigating re-ports that several husbands had ob-jected to Galadak's healing methods.

Reveals His Treatment.

"I treat the sick by praying over them and by placing my hands on their heads," he said. "Sometimes I have healed as many as ten and twenty a day. It is not true that I have charged them extortionate fees. I have often treated the poor free." Galandak has not been living with his wife for several years, the police said. Her home is at 1742 North Keeler avenue.

Seized on Bomb Charge.

Samuel Alex, 24 years old, business agent of the shoe repairers' union, who has a police record, was booked by the Pekin police last night on a charge of bombing a drug store at 2601 Wentworth avenue.

The drug store, owned by C. Barone, was partly wrecked by the explosion early yesterday. Alex was seen near the store by a policeman a few min-utes before the explosion.

STRICKEN U. S. WAR MOTHERS OUT OF DANGER

New Contingent Leaves England for France.

PARIS, May 27.—(AP)—The two American gold star mothers, who have been dangerously ill, appeared on the road to recovery tonight. Mrs. Mary Reynolds, Damascus, O., ill with peritonitis at the American hospital here, was said to be out of danger. Mrs. Florence Williams, Portsmouth, O., suffering from pneumonia at Verdun, also was much improved.

The first group, meanwhile, is back from the tour of battlefield cemeteries and with the exception of those who have sons and husbands in the cemetery at Mount Valerien, Paris, spent the day in sightseeing. The second group was out on the battlefields tonight.

Leave for Antwerp.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 27.—A party of 153 American gold star mothers, who have been visiting England, embarked today for Antwerp, where they will start the second lap of their pilgrimage to the graves of American soldiers. The majority of the mothers visited the American cemetery at Brookwood earlier in the day, while others took tea with Lady Windsor and visited Buckingham palace.

Germany Rejects Poland's Demand in Border Killing

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 27.—The German government today rejected Poland's demand for compensation for the frontier incident at Neuhoefen, near Marienwerder, in which a Polish soldier was killed and a German wounded, as prejudging the result of investigations. Foreign Minister Curtius has instructed the German minister at Warsaw to inform the Polish government Germany will agree to an investigation through a mixed commission.

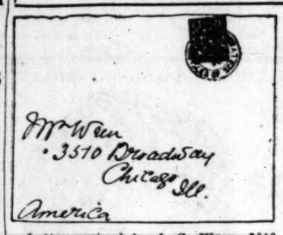
INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed and some information about the writer of the letter.

FROM ST. MARY'S, SCILLY ISLES

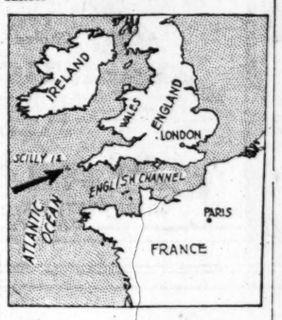


Letter recived by J. G. Wren, 3510 Broadway, Chicago.

"The inclosed letter came from my mother-in-law, Mrs. E. W. Banfield of the Scilly Isles, where she has lived all her married life. This letter ought to be of particular interest to tourists who are going to England and who will land at any of the channel ports, for they will pass right by the Scilly Isles—at least, let us hope they will!" Mr. Wren writes. "Many a well found ship has not passed these isles, but has piled her bones upon them. However, there is not much danger of that now.

"The Scilly Isles lie about thirty miles southwest of Land's End in Cornwall, England, right out in the Atlantic. There are about 500 of them, but only five are inhabited. The largest of these, St. Mary's, is roughly two miles by three—and there are a number of automobiles there! The population of the group of islands is about 2,000.

"The main industry is flower growing. The islands have figured in history at various times. Supposedly, they are all that is left of the lost continent Atlantis. Then some suppose they were the Cassiterides, or "Tin Islands" of the ancients. They are now part of the Duchy of Cornwall, thus belonging to the prince of Wales. They are well worth a visit—but stay away if you are not a good sailor."



The five inhabited islands of which Mr. Wren writes are St. Mary's, Tresco, St. Martin's, St. Agnes and Bryher. The capital is Hugh Town in St. Mary's. This, together with Star Castle, dating back to the time of Queen Elizabeth, is situated on a sandy peninsula known as the Garrison. The town has a harbor, used by the Penzance steamers, and a roadstead where large vessels may lie at anchor.

SEEKS NAMES OF PERSONS MISSED IN CENSUS COUNT

Joseph E. Vesely, chairman of the census supervisory committee for the Chicago district, and director of business research for the Chicago Association of Commerce, yesterday urged that all persons missed by the census enumerators mail their names to the district census supervisors or to the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Figures made public yesterday by Census Supervisor David A. McGilvray showed that the 13th ward has gained 17,680 in population since the 1920 census. The present population is 68,760, as compared with 51,080 in 1920. The 13th ward is bounded roughly by West 49th street, Loomis street, West 43d street, Wentworth avenue, West 35th street, and Western avenue.

Yesterday's figures brought the population for the 40 Chicago wards so far counted to 2,658,010.

Figures for the village of Franklin Park revealed a population of 2,419, as compared to 914 in 1920.

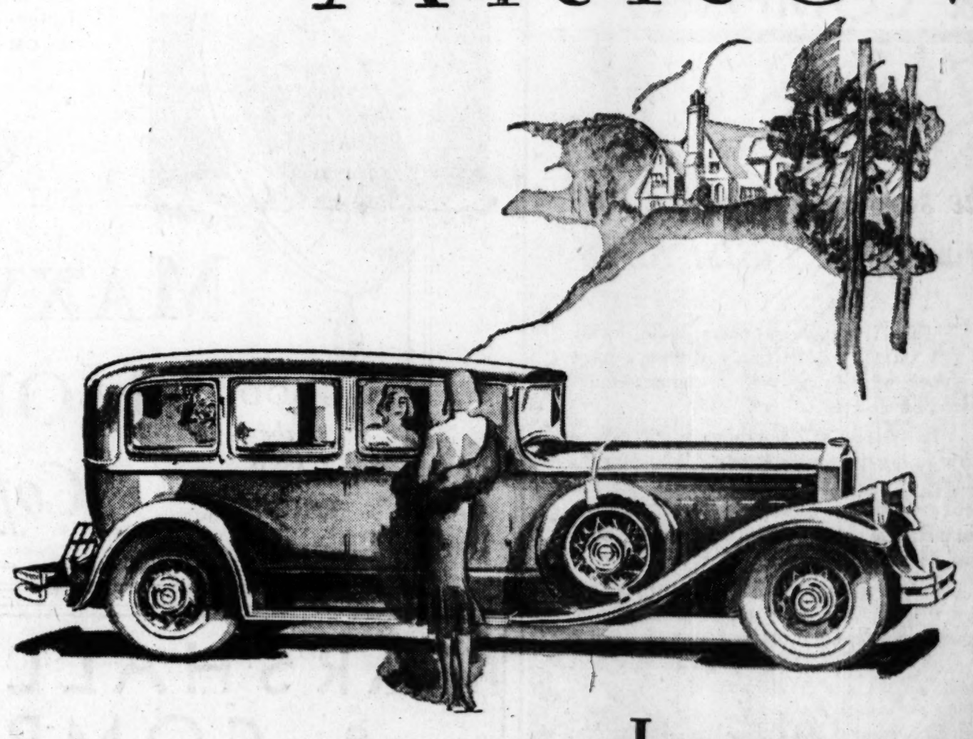
PIERCE ARROW



IT WAS a group of men high in their profession who took over the management of Pierce-Arrow a year ago last autumn. Their task was approached with the confidence of long experience—but also with a great reverence for a fine name, a distinguished achievement.

Theirs too was the knowledge that what makes Pierce-Arrow fine is something more than engineering genius, more than excellent materials. It is the effort of men whose pride is in the work of their hands.

Today, in the great Pierce-Arrow plant at Buffalo, are builders of automobiles who work to standards that their fathers followed—standards of fineness and precision that are regrettably rare in this machine age.

It isn't a problem in such circumstances to build America's finest motor car. It would be difficult to do otherwise—and, in the presence of its builders, to call it Pierce-Arrow.

DISMISS CAPONE CHARGE AGAINST MIAMI OFFICERS

Gang Chief Plans Social Debut Tonight.

Miami, Fla., May 27.—(AP)—Charges of conspiracy to arrest Al Capone, lodged against Mayor O. H. Reeder, City Commissioner John C. Knight, and Public Safety Director S. D. McCreary by the Chicago gang leader's attorney were dismissed by Justice of the Peace Warren L. Newcomb here today.

Justice Newcomb dismissed the conspiracy charge on the grounds that the warrants were not specific in describing the time or place of conspiracy.

The Miami Daily News today said that Capone will make his "social debut" in Miami tomorrow night at a banquet at his Palm Island residence for which fifty invitations have been sent to prominent residents.

Eighteen engraved invitations were retained by the host for his friends and 32 were being distributed through an agent to a carefully selected list of persons. One invitation, the News said, was offered to a city official, who sent his regrets.

The party is reported to be the second of a series of "good will" affairs arranged by Capone, the first having been entertainment of a group of Miami Beach school children at his home ten days ago.

SIGNS EXTRADITION PAPERS.

Springfield, Ill., May 27.—(AP)—Gov. Louis L. Emmerson this afternoon signed a requisition for the return to Indiana of Clint Brook, former Mattoon barber, wanted on charges of robbing a Jasper, Ind., bank. He is under indictment for two other bank robberies in Illinois.

Brewery Found at Speakeasy Where Policeman Is Slain

Prohibition agents were called into the investigation of the killing yesterday of Policeman John McDonald, 1107 N. Kedvale avenue, when Capt. James Fleming of the Shakespeare avenue station found a small brewery in the basement of the premises at 1940 North California avenue, where McDonald was fatally shot.

A coroner's jury found that Policeman McDonald was killed by a man who accompanied Harry Perlman, alias Lefty Davis, part owner of a speakeasy on the first floor of the building. It was learned that Perlman had been kicked out of the speakeasy by his partner, Samuel Hoffing, 3039 George street, and the shooting occurred after Perlman returned with reinforcements.

Story of Shooting.

Policemen McDonald and Harold Regan, who were off duty but in uniform, had been requested by Hoffing to protect him. When Perlman pounded on the front door Policeman Regan said he went out the back way to confront the men outside, but arrived a minute after they had broken in and shot McDonald.

The speakeasy was found to be camouflaged by a cigar store in which the cigar boxes were filled with blocks of wood covered with tin foil, instead of cigars.

Inquiry on Extortion.

Police were directed yesterday to interview W. J. Reichert, Belleville banker and race horse owner at the Washington Park track about threats he reported extortionists had made against him. The Chicago authorities were concerned with finding out if the threats emanated from any of the gang of Alphone Capone, absentee boss of Chicago racketeering.

Kenneth Turner, larceny, sentenced to one to twenty years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Walter P. Steffen.

DANIEL M. LORD, FOUNDER OF AD AGENCY, IS DEAD

Active Figure in Pioneer Era Passes.

Daniel M. Lord, founder of the advertising firm of Lord & Thomas & Logan and a pioneer Chicagoan of the era of Marshall Field and Potter Palmer, died yesterday in New York City at the age of 86. The body will be brought here for burial at Oakwoods cemetery, arriving tomorrow morning on the Twentieth Century. Services will be conducted in the cemetery chapel at noon.

Mr. Lord had lived in New York City since 1916. He retired from the firm in 1904, disposing of his interests to C. R. Irwin, D. L. Taylor, and Albert D. Lasker, now chairman of the board and president.

Surviving him are two sons, Arthur D. Lord, a New York broker; Daniel M. Lord, Jr., with Halsey Stuart & Co., and two daughters, Mrs. Alice Lord Parsons and Mrs. Florence Lord Hough.

Starts Business "on Faith."

Mr. Lord, who came to Chicago as a farmer boy from Long Island, N. Y., in 1870, lived to see the business he established on "faith and a shoestring" become an international agency placing a volume of advertising in excess of $20,000,000 annually.

His career here began with the Interior, a Presbyterian paper, started shortly before the fire. It later became the Continent. Soliciting for it, Mr. Lord met many prominent Chicagoans. He used to recall that Alfred Cowles Sr., when business manager of THE TRIBUNE, told him in the '70's that "If THE TRIBUNE ever places an advertising solicitor on the street its death knell will be rung."

In his early days as president of Lord & Thomas he placed much of the advertising for Palmer, Field & Leiter and as illustrative of the conservatism then, he would cite the fact that the largest ads were not more than six or seven inches deep.

Memory of Early Days.

His memories of early Chicago were rich in personal lore. After the fire he had offices in the Linns block at the east end of the Randolph street bridge. Carter Harrison, the elder, had desk room with him. Mr. Lord never forgot Mr. Harrison's method of enjoying a short rest at luncheon time. He would take a billiard ball out of a drawer, place it in the palm of his hand and lie down on a lounge. As soon as he had completely relaxed the ball would fall to the floor. That would be the signal his rest was over.

For thirty years, until Mrs. Lord died, Mr. Lord lived at 5450 Cornell avenue. He then moved to the Chicago Athletic association, in which he was an active leader and once served as president. He was also a member of the Union League club.

He was deeply interested in philanthropic work, and contributed to the United Charities.

Plans for Retirement.

In announcing his retirement from Lord & Thomas on his 60th birthday, Mr. Lord revealed he had made up his mind to do that 25 years before.

"I counted on having a certain amount of money at that time," he explained. "I have it. Any man can do the same. It matters not whether he is making $1,000 or $100,000 a year when he begins. If he knows what to do with his money he can quit at 60 This nation will be better off when it becomes the custom for its business men to retire while they are still 'young old men.'"

Mr. Lord was born in Newton Corners, just outside Boston. He obtained his original capital in the shipping business during the civil war.

CENTURY GOES INTO A MERGER WITH THE FORUM

New York, May 26.—[Special.]—The Century magazine, one of America's oldest publications, has been bought by the Forum, according to announcement today. Henceforth the two magazines will appear as one under the title "The Forum and Century," with Henry Goddard Leach, editor of the Forum, directing the joint venture. The present policy of the Forum will undergo no change.

The Century was founded in 1870 by Dr. J. G. Holland and Roswell Smith, with the backing of Charles Scribner, founder of the publishing house of Scribner. In deference to Mr. Scribner it was called at first Scribner's Monthly, but in 1881 Dr. Holland bought out the Scribner interests and the name was changed to the Century magazine.

From its beginning the Century obtained contributions from outstanding figures of contemporary life and letters. Among the contributors have been Tennyson, Longfellow, Whittier, Mark Twain, Hamlin Garland, G. K. Chesterton, James Branch Cabell and Hugh Walpole.

The Forum was founded sixteen years later than the Century by Isaac L. Rice. The first years of the publication were bound up inseparably with the career of a young man who had come from North Carolina to make a career for himself in journalism, Walter Hines Page, who became ambassador to the court of St. James under Woodrow Wilson.

The radio eye enables the pilot actually to see the scene below him on a television screen placed ahead of him in the cockpit.

Mr. Hammond and his staff of engineers heralded the new system as one of the greatest safety factors so far developed for aviation. He described the invention as the wedding of the two sciences, radio vision and aviation.

Two Naval Seaplanes Wrecked in Maneuvers

Chilmark, Island of Martha's Vineyard, Mass., May 27.—(AP)—Two naval seaplanes, members of a squadron of twenty-three airships of the black, or attacking forces in the army and navy's theoretical warfare now raging in Long Island sound, were wrecked in Menemsha inlet last night with a loss of $30,000. TRIED ALL KINDS OF LAXATIVES

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Gave Only Permanent Relief

As everybody knows, the market is flooded with cathartics, pills and patent compounds for the relief of constipation. At best, whatever results are obtained are temporary. Besides, there is the danger in certain habit-forming drugs.

Mr. P. M. Fisher, 517 Olive Street, Scranton, Pa., has something to say on this subject which will be interesting to all constipation sufferers. He says:

"For many years I suffered from constipation and used, for relief, all kinds of laxatives. After a few days' treatment, I would only find my condition the same as before and at times worse.

"Some time ago I started to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly, once a day as directed. Since doing this, I have found that I do not need any other medicine to procure the desired result, and it keeps me in a very healthful condition."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or money refunded.

In addition, it adds needed iron to the diet. You will like its delicious flavor. There are many delightful ways to eat it. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HOOVER URGES NATION TO CUT AUTO ACCIDENTS

Warns Traffic Outruns Measures of Safety.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 27.—[Special.]—Declaring that the steady increase in motor traffic has "outrun all measures of safety," President Hoover opened the third national conference on street and highway safety today with a plea for better state and local coöperation in reducing the automobile accident death rate.

The President spoke before 250 delegates, including traffic experts from forty-one states and Canada, meeting at the call of Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont, who is carrying on the safety conference work started by Mr. Hoover as secretary of commerce in 1926. Mr. Lamont presided at today's session and introduced his predecessor.

Of Grave Importance.

"The great loss of human life in street and highway accidents and the toll of suffering among surviving victims is a national concern of grave importance," Mr. Hoover said. "You thus are gathered here to consider a humanitarian and economic problem which touches every man, woman, and child in the land."

Recalling the first conference in 1926, the President called attention to an agreement at that time that the traffic improvement measures then drafted should be submitted to the states and cities and that the conference should reconvene only if need should appear.

Better Traffic Conditions.

"In the years that have intervened," he continued, "there has been much effort to better traffic conditions, but the accident rate, nevertheless, continues to rise because the increasing volume of traffic outruns our efforts. Without these earlier efforts conditions today would be much worse, but still the steady increasing traffic has outrun all measures of safety."

Chinese Army Faces Defeat as 200,000 Rebels Advance

SHANGHAI, May 27.—(AP)—The northern alliance rebel army, numbering 200,000 men, independent dispatches said tonight, badly defeated the Nationalist government forces in heavy fighting in Honan province during the last three days. Forced to give way before furious onslaughts, the Nationalists dug in, awaiting reinforcements before renewing the sanguinary conflict.

With their main forces strung along the railroad south of the Yellow river in Honan, the rebels, directed by Gens. Yen Hsi-shan and Feng Yu-hsian, have engaged the government armies since May 8.

Tide of Victory Turns.

The tide of victory, which at first bore the Nationalists westward toward Chengchow, the rebel base on two railroads, seemingly is turning against the government troops, led in person by President Chiang Kai-shek.

Suppressing news of the recent fighting, the Nationalist government issued this statement from Nanking:

"The northerners' claims of victories are groundless. In order to bolster the spirits of loosely confederated adherents in a forlorn cause it is necessary for the rebels to claim victories in battles that never were fought."

Battle on Another Front.

The Nationalist silence concerning the eastern Honan battle front apparently extended also to the center of the province, where yesterday Nationalists and rebels were reported engaged. There the Nationalists, advancing along the Peiping-Hankow railroad, met the rebels marching toward Hankow and attempted to drive them back into Cheng-chow.

COURT DECIDES GRACE V. HARRIS ESTATE DIVISION

Los Angeles, Cal., May 27.—(AP)—The Probate court today signed a decree and judgment in the $5,000,000 estate left by Mrs. Grace Velie Harris, granddaughter of the late John Deere, farm implement manufacturer. In the document the court determined the right of more than fifty legatees to share in the state.

Under the decree, which will be filed tomorrow as the final decree of distribution, the following were among the bequests determined upon:

Awards of $100,000 each were given to several Los Angeles charitable institutions, the Girl Scouts, the Boy Scouts, and the Salvation Army. Fractional portions of the estate were left to the Carmel, Cal., hospital, the Grace Deere Velie Metabolic clinic, the American Society for the Control of Cancer, and the National Tuberculosis Association of New York City.

BURNING FEET

New Way to End Distress in 20 Minutes THE ENGLISH WAY

Are You Protected Against the Carelessness of Others?

You may be the most careful of drivers, but your carefulness cannot protect you against the carelessness of others.

We cannot ward off accidents occurring through the fault of others, but we can make certain that if an accident does occur, we will not suffer a financial loss. The prudent motorist knows that any motor vehicle that is worth protecting against the hazards of fire and theft is worth protecting against the hazards of collision.

Collision insurance protects you from loss arising from damage done to your car. Full collision insurance pays the entire cost of repairs, made necessary because of collision with a moving or stationary object. Deductible insurance pays part of the cost. On a $50 deductible policy, for example, you would pay on each accident, for all damage up to that amount, and the insurance company pays for damage in excess of $50. This means that on an $800 loss you would benefit to the extent of $750.

You get a quick and satisfactory settlement when you place your automobile insurance with the Inter-Insurance Exchange of the Chicago Motor Club. No red tape; no waiting for the decision of a distant "higher up".

Speedy claims service, together with many other features of the policy issued for the protection of subscribers, explain why sales amounted to $3,894,706.04 in 1929.

As a subscriber you share in the cash savings plan. Last year the "exchange" returned $711,332.11 in cash to subscribers.

Insurance is a service available only to club members. Other services are:

Free mechanical first aid and towing service at any hour of the day or night.

Travel service, which provides you with maps, logs and the most complete and up to the minute advice on road conditions.

Bail bond service, which guarantees your appearance in traffic violation cases, where a bond not in excess of $100 is demanded.

Accident prevention work, which seeks to cut accidents, especially among school children, by means of safety posters and by fostering school boy patrols.

Home district service, which attends to special conditions around your home, such as seeing to it that refuse is promptly removed.

VON ELM, VOIGT, OUIMET WIN IN BRITISH GOLF

INDIANS WON'T BITE DUST; BEAT SOX, 3-2 AND 9-8

Jolley Hits Pair of Homers, 4 Singles.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., May 27.—Our artless and desperate White Sox, goaded by the threat of losing four games in two days to the Cleveland Indians, this afternoon rose up in the ninth inning of the second game, with the score 7 to 4 against them, and staged a knockdown, rough house rally that netted them four runs and an 8 to 7 lead.

SMEAD JOLLEY.

But they didn't have the class to prolong their success despite the usually inspiring presence of Ted Lyons, who took over the game with one on in the last of the ninth. The Indians got over two runs on two walks, errors by Shires and Riddle, and a short sacrifice fly to Metzler. Thus the Clevelanders made it four out of four in two days and gave Lyons his second defeat of the year, 9 to 8. The score of the first game of today's double header was 3 to 2.

Jolley Gets 6 Hits.

J. Smead Jolley was the only Chicagoan who got any sunshine out of the day. Smead, who made a homer, a double and two singles in four times at bat in the second game yesterday, made a home and a single in the first game today, and a homer, three singles and a pass in five trips to the plate in the second game.

Both of the Sox runs in the first game were homers, one by Jolley in the eighth and the other by Harris in the ninth. Both were made after the Clevelanders had scored all of their runs—two in the sixth and another in the seventh.

With less spineless offensive by his mates when opportunities offered in the early stages of the contest, Dutch Henry should have breezed through to an easy victory in the first game. Until one was one in the sixth, Dutch had allowed only four singles, three of which were infield scratches, to short and nary an Indian had reached first. He walked none and no two of the hits came in the same inning.

But they say it's wearing on a pitcher to pitch and pitch while his associates blow and blow scoring chances. Anyhow, there was a let down in the sixth and seventh innings, in which the Indians did their stuff.

Indians Score Two.

The first game was a chain of goose eggs until the last of the sixth. With one out, Morgan made the Indians' third infield hit and the fourth safety of Henry, a bouncer to Jeffries which he was able to beat by several steps. J. Sewell singled to right, Morgan taking third, and Averill singled to center, scoring Morgan and putting J. Sewell on third. Fonseca fouled to Kamm, but Hodapp singled to left, scoring J. Sewell.

Catching inefficiency led to the Indians' third run after two were out in the seventh. Harder barely tipped the ball on a third swing, but Autry, after having the ball in his glove, dropped it. Harder showed his gratitude by doubling to left. He scored what proved to be the winning run on Morgan's single to center.

The score being 3 to 0 against them, the strain on the high strung Cornishmen was somewhat relieved, so Jolley set off the eighth with a homer, his fourth of the season and likewise his fourth in six days. Cissell popped to J. Sewell, then Shires doubled. Kamm executed one of his pop-up specials and Watwood, batting for Riddle, rolled a pleasant little grounder to Hodapp.

Harris Hits Homer.

The Indians grabbed themselves a

Bush Resumes Mound Today Against Reds

Rain yesterday provided Joe McCarthy, boss of the tottering Cubs, an opportunity to ponder troubles. However, he made no announcements beyond expressing a desire to remain quiet and hope for the best. The best will not appear until a spell of hot weather arrives to put the veteran hurlers in working shape. Meanwhile, nobody is running away with first place—at least, not so far away that they can't be caught.

Weather permitting, the struggling will be resumed this afternoon (Ladies' day) with a single game against the Cincinnati Reds. Guy Bush is going to do the pitching. It will be Bush's first start in many days, his absence having been caused by an injury to his elbow just after the season opened. Dan Howley probably will let Ben Frey oppose Bush.

REDS GIVE ALLEN, DONOHUE TO N. Y. FOR CRAWFORD

Cincinnati, O., May 27.—(AP)—Sidney Weil, president of the Cincinnati Reds, announced today he had traded Pete Donohue, pitcher, and Ethan Allen, outfielder, to the New York Giants for Pat Crawford, utility outfielder and pinch hitter. The trade was the second within a week involving the Reds and Giants, as Hughie Critz, second baseman, was sent to New York several days ago in exchange for Larry Benton, pitcher.

Donohue came to the Reds about ten years ago from Texas Christian university. He is 30 years old, a right handed twirler, and spent all his major league time with the Reds. He has not been a winning pitcher in recent seasons. Allen, like Donohue, came to the Reds direct from college. He is a University of Cincinnati graduate, 26 years old, and a .300 hitter. He joined the club late in 1926.

LESS WHOOPEE GIVES SENATORS MORE BASEBALL

Johnson Finds Recipe for Winning Games.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

There's more than a mere thread holding up the Washington Senators, now gracing the top apartment in the American league. They're up there because they have been able to mix the ingredients that go to make winning performances on the diamond. They are getting pitching. They are hitting. They are fielding, as they always have. And the yeast in this recipe is a determination tossed in by Manager Walter Johnson to prove that last year's stories about his leniency were not entirely correct.

There also are a few other things behind the showing that few of the so-called experts had anticipated. One is that the Senators of 1929 were better than their final poor fifth indicated. They just couldn't get started, partly because of an inclination on the part of some to make whoopee. This spring these fellows were signed to contracts providing for bonuses for observation of training regulations.

Griff Didn't Worry.

Just to prove that he believed his team of last year was good enough for ordinary purposes, Owner Clark Griffith didn't display any excitement last fall when his rivals were scampering around for new talent.

Griff's reply to those who thought he might be turning Scotch was that his 1929 team was better than its record. He looked around the minors and could see nobody better than the men already in his possession. He asked only that his hirelings play the ball of which they were capable. To make sure they'd do it, he devised the bonus system of compensation.

It may seem unusual to blame a championship team for putting a rival in first place, but that's exactly the truth. Last year the Athletics won sixteen of the twenty games played with the Senators. That is what made the Mackmen champions. Connie himself knows this. In his Florida camp this spring when pressed for predictions he admitted his team had no license to whip the Senators that easily and probably couldn't do it again.

Scored Most Runs.

Now here's what has happened to fulfill Mack's prophecy. So far Washington has won seven of nine starts against the champions. They have won four of five from the Yankees. They have grabbed eight of nine against the Red Sox. That's 19 victories and 4 defeats against their eastern rivals. Last year at this time the Senators boasted only 5 victories against 16 defeats in their engagements with the same three teams. The Macks took 12 of the first 13 games played with Washington in 1929.

Actual figures on Washington's games in the present campaign tell another part of the story. The team is ranking second in hitting. It has scored the greatest number of runs, made the most doubles and triples. Its pitchers have yielded only 137 runs in 37 games. There have been three 3 hit games, three 5 hit games, and four 6 hit games. The pitchers also have turned in 18 complete games.

One reason for the improvement in the pitching is the rounding out of Ad Liska, the under hand toiler, who was unsteady in his first year as a major leaguer. Old Sam Jones is going along the even tenor of his way just as he did when a Yankee. Hadley is reliable and Brown and Burke have developed. And there is a large bundle of strength in the relief ability of Braxton and Marberry.

Use One New Player.

Not a little of the revival on attack can be attributed to Sam Rice. A year ago they thought the one time pitcher was ready for the leap to oblivion. Joe Judge, veteran first sacker, found the fountain of youth in Florida. Joe Cronin has been a big factor both in the field and at bat. Goslin is a slow starter, but he is doing his bit even now.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

ARMY FOOTBALL.

BIG TEN football elevens, if a recent resolution adopted by faculty representatives is approved by athletic councils, may not compete against teams which do not enforce the three year duration of eligibility rule. Of course, the resolution is not retroactive and existing agreements are not affected. Recent developments show that Illinois and Army, which does not include in its three year eligibility period time spent on the gridiron before entering West Point, have an agreement for games in 1933 and 1934. Hence the resolution, if adopted, will become effective about five years hence. All of which gives a big laugh to those who think the professors went a couple of steps out of their way on a subject already a bone of contention between West Point and Annapolis athletic authorities.

The Wake never has taken sides in this service controversy. We respect the arguments of both institutions and give both credit for good faith. Manifestly, Navy would be at a disadvantage in playing Army under present contrasting eligibility rules.

Total enrollment at both West Point and Annapolis is a fraction of that at big state universities. These military academies have no schools for coaches which naturally attract boys of athletic build and inclination, no schools of agriculture, no courses from which an undergraduate may pick subjects requiring a minimum amount of study during the football season. Courses are fixed. We've always been told, and believe it, the courses are unusually stiff.

Therefore, for our part, if the military academies can offset these disadvantages by any method or rules out in the open and above board, they are entitled to it. Organizations disapproving are not required to play cadets.

Then we have another reason which may border on sentiment. Certainly few of us would wish Army or Navy handicapped in sport to a point where they could produce only second rate elevens to take beatings in a majority of games. These boys are to head our future fighting forces if there be any future fighting. National respect will be greater if they win a fair majority of their athletic contests than if they often are beaten by elevens of civilian colleges boasting larger enrollment and less rigid scholastic requirements.

Primo Back in Ring Despite His Erratic Code of Ethics

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, N. Y., May 27.—[Special.] Primo Carnera is about to resume his interesting career under special local dispensations, whereby he is to be reinstated momentarily in various jurisdictions in which he ordinarily stands suspended for unethical practices.

K. O. CHRISTNER.

On June 5, by order of the National Boxing association, an alliance of state and local prize fight commissions, he is to be allowed to fight K. O. Christner in Detroit, and on a subsequent date he will meet George Godfrey, the Negro, in Philadelphia. This is much the same as though some national organization charged with the regulation of safe blowing were to release some prominent peterman from prison to blow a couple of designated safes under strict official supervision.

Product of New School.

Primo and the sportsmen associated with him were caught doing a serious wrong in Los Angeles a few weeks ago and declared to be ineligible for further practice in the profession. The acts complained of were characteristic of the new type of prizefight manager, who has replaced such amusing characters as Uncle Will Gibson, Leo P. Flynn, Dumb Daniel Morgan, and Will McCarney.

A member of Primo's mob was placed in the corner occupied by his opponent, one Bombo Chevalier, colored, to see that nothing occurred to impede the serene progress of the Italian monstrosity's professional career. But Bombo became ambitious on his own account and refused to subside. Whereupon, so he said, one of his personal attendants rubbed oil of mustard in his eyes, while another leaned over him in his corner and promised to shoot him dead later on.

It is a nice question just where to draw the line between permissible strategy and unethical conduct in pugilism. The resort to oil of mustard was not a novelty, although this was the first time I had ever heard of its being used on a man by his own seconds. On a previous occasion in St. Louis some years ago an athlete complained of being blinded with oil of mustard, but in this case a mere drop was placed on the punching surface of his opponent's left glove. He then walked out and jabbed him quickly on both eyes.

This Is Sabotage.

That, however, was an attack, whereas in Bombo Chevalier's case, sabotage seems to have been done. Similarly, small arms have been used for purpose of intimidation many times but again with this difference that the sportsmen flaunting such weapons ordinarily used them to influence the other boxer, rather than their own.

The Chevalier affair therefore was unique and ingenious and it took a fine interpretation to decide that the conduct complained of was irregular.

I, however, have read that when Primo meets Godfrey in Philadelphia the Pennsylvania prize fight commission will scrutinize the character and conduct of all concerned with the utmost suspicion and caution. This is encouraging, but I wonder who will be in there keeping an eye on the Pennsylvania commission. Let it not be thought that I wish to cause doubt of an official body of the government of a great state of this Union, but the fact remains that Frank Wiener, the chairman of the Pennsylvania commission, announced in a public address not long ago that prize fighting was assuming the character of a racket in his jurisdiction.

Commission Might Be Watched.

Inasmuch as Mr. Wiener has been chairman of the Pennsylvania commission for several years, including the time that the industry degenerated into a racket, it might not be amiss for some higher authority to cast a suspicious and cautious eye over the conduct of the commission itself. Mr. Wiener may be temperamentally or otherwise unequal to his great responsibilities in the inspiring sport of pugilism.

The last previous performance of Primo Carnera in Mr. Wiener's jurisdiction was such that a commissioner, jealous of the fair name of the sport in his zone, might be loath to invite him back. At that time, Primo encountered a Negro named Ace Clark, who somehow became obstreperous, banged him on his left eye, raising a monstrous blue swelling, chased him about the ring and was on the point of knocking him senseless when the referee intervened to save Primo from further mutilations.

But a conference ensued and Primo was allowed one round more to assert his mastery. And then, suddenly, Ace Clark became amenable and was neatly and agreeably put away in accordance with the expectations of all present.

On the race tracks, which also are

Ruled Out of Ring

Boston, Mass., May 27.—(AP)—After being jeered for seven rounds, Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo, recognized in New York state as the light heavyweight champion, and Pete Latzo of Scranton, Pa., were thrown out of the ring by Referee Johnny Brasill here tonight in the Boston Gardens feature bout. Brasill declared the bout "no contest," and ordered both purses withheld.

GAGNON SEES K. O. BY 4TH ROUND IN VON PORAT FIGHT

Heavies Meet Tonight in Stadium Ring.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Jack Gagnon, Boston heavyweight who fights Otto Von Porat tonight at the Stadium, is authority for the statement, "There'll be a knockout by the fourth round."

Jack added naïvely and entirely out of accord with union rules of the heavyweight fighters' association: "I don't know whether the 'Swede' will take the count or whether I will."

Of course, Gagnon seeks to impress the fans with his willingness to step up to the counter and trade blows. He and his managerial group, which in numbers rivals that of Max Schmeling, assert they fear no man. Stand up and take it is the maxim of Gagnon's training quarters.

Gagnon to Rush Otto.

The Boston boy makes no secret of his tactics for tonight's embroglio. He plans to rush Von Porat all the way, not only for attack purposes but to keep Otto from getting set. Which is not news, for Gagnon always has fought in this manner.

The fight means more to Von Porat than an opportunity to measure his skill on an opponent Tuffy Griffith has beaten. Von Porat should win. He stopped Gagnon once before in four rounds. But tonight will predict Von Porat's future.

He has fought some of the better heavyweights. Among them are Tom Heeney, Johnny Risko, Paulino Uzcuden, and Phil Scott. Despite his long list of victories in four years, Otto seems to be class conscious when he meets a first rater. Instead of utilizing his two fisted attack, as he does against some one whom he considers an equal, he has held back and has been beaten.

Perhaps this accounts for his defeats by Risko and Paulino. Whatever Von Porat hopes to accomplish in his campaign for the title, he must do it soon. He will be 27 in September and succeeding years will make his task harder.

Both in Condition.

Von Porat knows this. He's found that he's too good for second raters and not good enough for the top notchers. Tonight he has one more opportunity. If Gagnon whips him, it's gossip of the ring that Von Porat should buy mothballs for his boxing gloves.

Latest communiques from both camps yesterday reported the fighters in condition.

Five bouts support Gagnon-Von Porat. Interest centers on Haakon Hansen who meets Vottorio Livan. Livan, just arrived from Spain, is said to be quite a middleweight.

Henry Lenard of South Chicago and Marty Fields of the west side are expected to wage an even battle. Other bouts will be Jimmy Mendes and Battling Redman, Buster Mallini and Henry Firpo, and Tiger Johnny Cline and Joe Feldman.

What Yanks Did

ST. ANDREWS, May 27.—(AP)—Results of matches in which American golfers competed today follow:

SECOND ROUND.

Rex W. Hartley, Cooden Beach, defeated Donald K. Moe, Portland, Ore., 4 and 2.

John McCreedie, Mortonhall, defeated Howard C. Davis, Salem, Mass., 6 and 5.

K. Greig, St. Andrews, defeated Eric H. Chambers, Portland, Ore., 1 up, 19 hole.

Roland Mackenzie, Wilmington, Del., won by default.

Walter G. Fovargue, Aberdeen, Wash., won by default.

THIRD ROUND.

Frank C. Stevens Jr., Hollywood, Cal., defeated F. P. McConnell, Portrush, 5 and 4.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 27.—(AP)—Dr. O. F. Willing and Don Moe, representing the American northwest, were eliminated from the British amateur championship play today.

GEORGE VOIGT.

The defeat of the two Oregonians surprised their Walker cup team compatriots and British galleries, which saw Willing fall before William Spark, a Scotch bank clerk, 2 and 1, and Moe vanquished by Rex Hartley, British Walker cup player, 4 and 2.

George Voigt, George Von Elm, and Francis Ouimet won their matches, as did a number of other Americans of lesser golfing reputations.

With the big field halved, the giants of the game may begin to clash tomorrow. Bobby Jones, Jimmy Johnston, Von Elm, and Ouimet will play tomorrow morning and again in the afternoon, if they win their morning matches. Voigt and Roland Mackenzie will play only once.

If Jones and Cyril Tolley, the defending champion, are successful in their morning efforts, they will meet in the fourth round in the afternoon, bringing a contest between the open champion of the United States and the British amateur champion.

Banker, Veterans Lose.

The cosmopolitan character of the competitors is still maintained. The Rev. David Rutherford of Biggar, Scotland, was beaten, as was the young Edinburgh surgeon, Dr. J. B. Saunders, but William Sutton, the artisan golfer, won, and the young St. Andrews postman, William Fowlis, remains to challenge Tolley tomorrow.

Beaumont Pease, director of a great London bank, was eliminated today, as were the veterans Edward Blackwell, who is 63, and Joshua Crane, a grandfather, who came all the way from Boston with his sawed off putter to be beaten by Francis Ouimet, a fellow townsman.

Three Americans, Roland MacKenzie, Walter G. Fovargue, Aberdeen, Wash., and Rowland Saunders, Miami, Fla., advanced today without playing, their opponents scratching their entries.

British Stars Win.

Other British players winning the right to continue in competition included T. A. Torrance, John Nelson Smith, Roger Wethered, Maj. C. O. Hezlet, Robert Harris, and the Hon. Michael Scott. T. A. Bourn, English native champion, was eliminated.

The defeat of Willing and Moe today raised the question of whether the American Walker cup players are in danger of becoming stale. Johnston and Voigt yesterday had tough fights against strong opponents, and although Voigt won today from J. B. A. Stroyan, 6 and 4, his golf was not up to the pitch at Sandwich last week. Von Elm in defeating Dr. Gardiner Hill, 4 to 2, seemed on his game, however.

Pairings for Americans tomorrow:

Robert T. Jones Jr., Atlanta, vs. Cowan Shankland, St. George's.
Harrison R. Johnston, St. Paul, vs. Col. Moore Brabazon, St. George's.
Frank Sweeney, New York and London, vs. John McCredie, Morton Hall.
H. M. Brower, New York and Dinard, vs. William Spark, Montrose.
George Von Elm, Detroit, vs. D. R. Anderson, St. George's.
F. C. Stevens Jr., Hollywood, Cal., vs. George Waddell, Edinburgh.
George Voigt, New York, vs. Maj. G. S. C. Martin, Portrush.

TIPPY TOE BEATS PATRICIA ANN IN HOMEWOOD STAKE

Morsun Victor in Debut at Washington Park.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Tippy Toe, a daughter of Polymelian-Kitty Williams, ran a brilliant race at Washington Park yesterday and won the Blue Island purse at six furlongs. Tippy Toe raced in the green and white jacket of the Reichert Brothers of Belleville, Ill., whose father, W. J. Reichert, was in the limelight yesterday as a threatened victim of extortionists. Tippy Toe sprinted over the course in 1:12 and showed her heels to several candidates for the Illinois Oaks.

In the early running Patricia Ann, a high priced filly which Fred A. Burton of Chicago recently purchased in Kentucky, was traveling along in front as if the result would not even be close. Tippy Toe, Flag Time and Erin Queen were doing the best they could to keep pace with her. Jockey Pichon roused Tippy Toe as the stretch run started and she pulled up until she was in front a sixteenth from home. Patricia Ann held on to finish second and Flag Time beat Erin Queen for third money. In the mutuels Tippy Toe was slightly overlooked and paid $9.54.

Aurora Champ Comes Through.

Tippy Toe's victory came just after Morsun, the Aurora champion, demonstrated that he can run fast on other tracks. He had won five straight at Aurora and was almost an even money choice in the Flossmoor club purse. With R. Baltimore in the saddle he trimmed River Forest by two lengths, with Klingstone third.

Black Flyer was dropped down into a field of cheap sprinters in the first race and the son of American Ace-Delico easily triumphed. Black Flyer took the lead in the stretch to win going away from Hy Schneider and Gibbons.

The favorite players were in their glory and they plunged again on Shift in the second race. He trounced Christie Flanagan, Favorite II., and Santa Sophia easily. But there was a blow awaiting the chalk players in the third race when Cherry May was unplaced in the five furlong juvenile event.

Grey Kitty Wins.

Grey Kitty carried the popular violet jacket of Fred M. Grabner of Chicago to an easy victory. Sugarland, a Kentucky youngster, was second, and Our Pet, another of Mr. Grabner's 2 year olds was a fast finishing third.

There was another disappointment for the backers of choices in the mile and seventy yards fourth event when Irene T, heavily backed, was out of the money. Peach Rose, paying $15.34 in the mutuels, was the winner.

MOON MULLINS—WILLIE HAD SOME SORT OF HOLD ON THE MAN

WITH ME OWN EYES I SEEN HIM LEAVE HERE AND TELL YOU HE'D RETURN, MAMIE. SPEAK UP! WHO WAS THAT DUDE WITH THE RED WHISKERS?
HA! EVEN IF I KNOWED I WOULDN'T TELL YOU.
SAY, UNCLE WILLIE, EMMY SAYS IF A GUY WITH RED WHISKERS CALLS WHILE SHE'S OUT, TO TAKE HIM IN THE HOUSE AND HAVE HIM WAIT TILL SHE COMES BACK.
I MOST COITAINLY WILL, KAYO.
JUST MY LUCK! THE ONE AND ONLY TIME HE DID CALL I HAD TO BE OUT. OH WELL, HE DON'T LOOK LIKE A MAN WITH A FAINT HEART. HE MAY BE BACK
GEE WHIZ! EMMY, YOU OUGHTA BEEN HERE!
I DIDN'T HAVE SO MUCH TROUBLE GETTIN' HIM INTO THE HOUSE, MISS SCHMALTZ, BUT OH BOY! HE MANAGED TO GET HIS LEFT LOOSE IN THE PARLOR AND FROM THEN ON I DIDN'T HAVE A CHINAMAN'S CHANCE TO HOLD HIM.

Boys Now Carry Golf Clubs Instead of the Water Pail

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The increasing popularity of golf has brought about an industrial revolution on a miniature scale by furnishing a new and lucrative occupation for that resourceful business man—the small boy. When a youngster wished to see a circus ten or fifteen years ago he was forced to earn the price of admission by running errands for the grocery man or carrying water to the elephants. Wages depended largely on the humor of his employer, and the crowded field made competition sharp.

But since caddying became an organized profession the small boy has had a sound business with a definite wage scale. And he often sees as good a show on the fairways as he would at the old fashioned country circus, though it is considered undiplomatic to laugh with the gay abandon he might display under the big top.

At most clubs a caddy starts at 25 cents an hour. Each time he works his employer makes a mark on a card to indicate whether he is good, bad, or indifferent. When he has accumulated a certain number of good marks he is promoted to the next class at increased wages. If he continues to improve, he reaches a still higher grade and is permitted to carry bags for two players simultaneously, at a corresponding rise in salary.

The number of boys who engage in this profession has never been determined with any accuracy, but a motor trip through Chicagoland on any weekend will show the fairways of 200 clubs seething with small boys toting golf bags almost as big as themselves.

Bonnie Brook plans to give six golf balls to the player who scores the highest net during Memorial day competition. O, well, six golf balls are six golf balls.

Friday will be club day at Idlewild. The event will be second only to the annual powwow held in August.

The University Golf club will observe Memorial day with a flag tournament. A unit of the new clubhouse is to be ready for the occasion.

CALCUTTA POOL TO PAY $4,500,000

CALCUTTA, India, May 27.—(AP)—Four and a half million dollars will change hands in the Calcutta sweepstakes on the English Derby at Epsom Downs, June 4. The pool now contains around £900,000 [about $4,500,000]. It is understood that after deduction of the expenses of the Calcutta Turf club the first prize will be £388,000 [about $1,940,000].

This, according to the custom of recent years, will be divided into three first prizes each amounting to about £129,000 [approximately $645,000]. Those who draw starters will get about £800 [around $4,000].

Maroon Nine Plays Return Game with Buckeyes Today

Police Legion Rifle Club Gets National Charter

A charter has been issued by the National Rifle association at Washington to the Rifle and Pistol club of the Chicago Police post of the American Legion. Officers of the local club are Joseph Marek, president; Abner Bender, vice president; Louis Miller, executive officer; Ed Charvat, treasurer; and Anton Schlecta, secretary. The Police post of the Legion has 1,284 members, the second largest Legion post in Illinois.

Carnera Back in Ring Despite Shady Career

infested with conspirators, such performance would be regarded as a suspicious reversal of form and those involved would be admonished if not ruled off. But even racing commissions, which in some states are composed of ordinary political jobholders with political obligations to pay off, are more alert and less obliging than prize fights.

It does seem an erratic judgment to banish Primo from the American ring because the offenses alleged against him only represent progress in pugilistic methods. The principles involved are familiar ones which have been condoned, if not approved, time and again in the past. However, having ruled him off on the ground of dishonorable practices, the prize fight commissions which now readmit him naturally should be removed from office themselves.

But, for that matter, all prize fight commissions should be abolished because there have never been so many commissioners as in the last five years and there have never before been so many racketeers in the business as at the present time.

As to the abolition of the racket itself, I should be inclined to vote no. The customers enjoy it, even though they plainly understand that it is conducted as a racket, as evidence of which I suggest the eagerness with which they flock to Primo Carnera's exhibition whenever he is allowed to perform.

Becker Gives Motorists Tips for Holidays

BY BOB BECKER.

Motor campers and motoring fishermen who are scanning the maps in search of a possible camp site or a fishing hole for this week-end may get an idea for their three day holiday by considering the Tippecanoe river in Indiana. We were down there a few weeks ago looking over the country along that stream and especially the two large lakes formed by the construction of power dams. Both of the lakes have been well stocked with fish. Boats are available.

Of course, there is practically no place in Chicagoland where one can go and not find plenty of people. Five million people concentrated in a small area are going to make an impression on any play spot within driving distance when they hit the highways for a holiday. But the Tippecanoe valley is a long one. If you want deep water you can locate on the lakes. If you want lovely scenery, high bluffs, and more driving, the country below the second Tippecanoe dam is worth exploring.

The town of Monticello, Ind., is the largest key town on the Tippecanoe lakes. From there you can drive up or down the lakes. A few miles below the lower dam you'll find a lovely stretch of river country, because the bluffs loom high over the stream. If you are going to fish, don't forget your nonresident license.

In Illinois both the Fox and Rock rivers are good bets for a delightful week-end trip with camping equipment. There is no bass fishing in this state until the middle of next month, so this coming week-end more attention must be given the camping and driving angles than fishing. The Rock river valley has many scenic attractions and a dandy highway parallels the river for a considerable distance.

Yank Women Defeat French Golfers, 10-4

ST. GERMAIN-EN-LAYE, France, May 27.—(AP)—Playing brilliant golf, the American women's team, captained by Glenna Collett, today defeated a French women's team, led by Simone Thion de la Chaume, French title holder and former British champion, 10½ to 4½. The Americans won three of the five foursomes and took seven of the ten singles, with one halved match.

After being defeated with Bernice Wall in the foursomes by Mlle. Thion de la Chaume and Mme. A. M. Vagliano, Miss Collett came back to win two up in the singles from the French champion.

Maureen Orcutt, also on the losing side in the foursomes, played great golf in the afternoon to win by a wide margin from Mme. H. Monier. Helen Hicks had a perfect day, winning in the foursomes, with Mrs. Lee Mida as a partner and swamping Mme. Robert Thion de la Chaume, in the singles. Other victories in the foursomes were contributed by Virginia Van Wie and Virginia Holzderber, on one side and Fritzie Stifel, Wheeling, W. Va. and Rosalie Knapp in another.

Mrs. Leo Federman, Peggy Wattles, Louise Fordyce and Virginia Van Wie won also in the singles while Edith Quier halved her match.

SOX LOSE SECOND PAIR TO INDIANS, 3 TO 2 AND 9 TO 8

In the third inning the Sox got a man as far as third. Autry opened with a single to center, went to second while McKain was grounding to Fonseca, to third while Hodapp was throwing out Metzler, and died there when Reynolds fanned.

Jolley made his second homer of the day to start the fourth. Cissell then rolled to Lind, Shires popped to J. Sewell, and Kamm sent a short fly to Seeds.

Jolley Makes Double Play.

The Indians added a run in their end of the fourth and also afforded Jolley a chance to realize on his stained fielding reputation by making a double play unassisted. Falk opened with a double and went to third while Myatt was grounding to Shires, and scored on Lind's single to center. Jablonowski lined to right, and when Lind saw the ball going in that direction he started running around the bases. But Jolley made the catch and ran to first to double Lind.

McKain took personal charge of the situation in the seventh inning by driving in the second run with a triple and scoring the tying marker on a sacrifice fly to the shortstop. Jeffries started it with a single to left and paused on first while Autry popped to Hodapp. McKain then drove the ball over Averill's head, scoring Jeffries. Metzler popped to Lind in short left and Hal got in after the catch. Reynolds singled to center and went to third on Jolley's fourth hit, a single to center. Cissell then fouled to Falk.

Averill Gets Triple.

The Indians didn't permit the score to remain a tie for long. McKain threw out Holloway. Morgan doubled to right center. J. Sewell grounded to Cissell for the second out. Reynolds made a hard try to get Averill's long fly but fell and dropped the ball. It was a triple which scored Morgan. Ensuing singles by Fonseca, Hodapp and Falk, with a wild pitch mixed in, accounted for three more runs.

The Sox made a run in the eighth. Jeffries doubled and Pinch Batter Harris produced for the second time during the afternoon, his single scoring Jeffries. The inning ended with the third flop in three days by Pinch Batter Watwood. Then the exciting ninth.

The Crime Problem in Chicago

On the 40 railroads and 6 electric roads 377,000 passengers enter and leave Chicago by 1,955 trains every day.

The solid lines represent railroads with schedules reaching important cities within an overnight ride from Chicago. In the area are the country's center of manufacture, marked by the cross; the center of population, by the triangle, and the center of agriculture, by the star.

Yet it is this geographical position that makes it a city of over 3,000,000 population.

In the city of Chicago itself and its suburbs it has a Sunday circulation of 744,904. In Illinois and the surrounding states of Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana, and Western Ohio, this circulation extends to over 1,100,000.

You have found time to read about crime in Chicago without profit to yourself. Spend a little more time and learn how you can take up the slack in your business by sales in the Chicago area.

The Chicago Tribune will send you a trained man to show you how you can profitably enter this market.

PITTMAN SAYS CHANGE MAY BE MADE IN BILL

Present Provisions Blow to Midwest—Childe.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May. 27. — The Pittman bill forbidding railroads to compete with Panama canal boat lines by charging lower rates to Pacific coast points than to intermountain points was attacked before the senate interstate commerce committee today by C. E. Childe of the Omaha [Neb.] Chamber of Commerce.

As chairman of the traffic committee of the Mississippi Valley association, Mr. Childe said the bill would prevent the interstate commerce commission from authorizing the railroads to make export and import rates lower than the domestic rates on traffic moving in and out of gulf and south Atlantic ports, and that this would be a blow to the middle west.

Senator Key Pittman [Dem., Nev.], author of the bill, said such a result was not intended, and that a change could be made to take care of that.

Sees Disadvantage.

The central states, however, Mr. Childe asserted, was now at a great disadvantage on account of Panama canal competition diverting trade from that section of the country to the coast, because the railroads were not permitted to reduce rates to the Pacific coast to meet the water competition, and the Pittman bill would make that condition permanent.

Paul P. Hastings, general freight agent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé, asserted that the diversions of traffic to the Panama canal lines "result not only in a loss of business to the transcontinental lines but also in a loss of production in all of the central and middle western states."

Proposes Substitute.

Dr. C. S. Duncan, economist of the Association of Railway Executives, characterized the proposed legislation as "inequitable and discriminatory." The Association of Commerce of Milwaukee, through H. W. Gehrke, protested against the bill. Southern railroads were recorded against the bill by J. E. Tilford, chairman of the Southern Freight association.

W. H. Chandler of the Merchants' Association of New York opposed the bill, but proposed a substitute limiting the commission to making authorizations that would permit railroads to meet the boat line competition between New York and San Francisco, for example, but would forbid reductions from the middle west to the coast.

Mo., Kan. Pipe Signs to Supply Gas to Insull Company

By Staff Correspondent.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 24.—Announcement was made today that contracts had been closed between the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Company and the Illinois Light & Power Company, an Insull concern, under which the pipe line company will pipe natural gas from Texas to Illinois and Indiana for distribution to the towns served by the Insull company.

Work on the project, which will cost upwards of $40,000,000, will be commenced in a few weeks.

The same men who made announcement of the closing of the deal with the Insull company indicated that negotiations were under way with the New York financiers, who control the Illinois Power Company of Springfield, for the sale of natural gas in Springfield.

The line will pass within twenty miles of Springfield and whether Springfield will get natural gas depends entirely on the action of the interests which control the local company.

The Missouri Power & Light Co., also an Insull concern, has also entered into the agreement.

The pipe line will start in the gas fields near Amarillo and extend north entering Illinois near Hannibal.

From that point it will extend in an easterly direction passing south of Jacksonville, Springfield, Decatur and Danville and will terminate near Indianapolis.

THIS clipping contains the first of a series of important announcements in connection with the development of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Company which we predicted some time ago.

Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Company, in securing these contracts, received recognition from some of the largest public utility companies in the country, which should result in the successful closing of other pending negotiations in a very short time.

Considering the further developments soon to be announced, we see no reason why the Company's Common Stock should not advance substantially above its present price of around 35½. Under the circumstances, we recommend the immediate purchase of "Mo-Kan" Common Stock and promise prompt execution of your order.

Aviation Corp.

What about the Aviation corporation stock? It is quoted at 7⅞ or near that.

S. F. C.

Aviation corporation was formed in March, 1929, as a holding company for companies engaged in the manufacture of airplanes and airplane equipment and the operation of air transport lines. Through acquisition of companies in the various branches of this industry, Aviation corporation has built up an almost complete aviation unit. It is also empowered to invest funds in the securities of companies outside the aviation industry.

For the period from March 1 to Dec. 31, 1929, loss from operations amounted to $871,766, and total loss was $696,727. After taking into account proportionate losses in controlled companies and special losses, there was a deficit for the period amounting to $1,443,822.

This poor showing was attributed partly to passenger transport operations. The largest source of revenue was that derived from investments. At the close of 1929 the company had more than $16,000,000 in cash and call loans and over $5,000,000 in marketable securities.

The balance sheet at the close of last year indicated a book value of $11.20 per share for the common stock. Outstanding capitalization consisted of 3,175,469 no par common shares. There was no funded debt.

No dividends have been reported. The stock is highly speculative at present.

Fairbanks, Morse & Co.

Will you be so good as to give me your opinion of Fairbanks, Morse & Co. debentures, 5 per cent, due 1942?

Miss P. E. M.

The business of Fairbanks, Morse & Co. was founded in 1830, when production of Fairbanks scales began. The company gradually attained prominence as a manufacturer of scales, but in recent years its operations have been more diversified. The company is now a leader in the manufacture of Diesel engines and pumps.

Earnings have increased in the last two years. In 1929 earnings were equal to 7.22 times interest charges. On Dec. 31, 1929, current assets were around $26,000,000 and current liabilities were under $4,000,000, leaving a net working capital of $22,144,693.

There were outstanding $7,115,000 of these 5 per cent sinking fund debentures, due Feb. 1, 1942. They are regarded as reasonably sound.

IL LIMITATION PROGRAM NOW BEARING FRUIT

Crude Output Drops 8,400 Brls. a Day.

BY O. A. MATHER.

It's a long and slow pull to get out of last winter's business depression. While much of the daily grist of news is unfavorable, yet there also are cheerful items that indicate some progress and long-range optimism.

Most of the best news yesterday came from the petroleum industry. It included that a curtailment program had finally been arranged among California operators and also that the clamping against overproduction is beginning in other fields. Crude oil production last week fell off 28,400 barrels a day to a total of 2,579,500 barrels, according to the American Petroleum Institute. California's output was reduced 13,400 barrels a day, while production in the other fields was cut 1,000 barrels a day. Refineries operated at 71.7 per cent of capacity, compared with 75.2 per cent in the previous week.

Building Picks Up.

Building construction is picking up materially, although still running considerably below a year ago. Contracts for new projects in thirty-seven states west of the Rocky mountains totaled $1,676,300 for the week ended May 17, according to the F. W. Dodge corporation. The total compared with $8,185,800 for the corresponding week in 1929. New work is mounting at a rate of $17,675,700 a business day, compared with $23,510,600 a day in the week, last year.

Industrial employment in the middle west continued to decline last month, but was considerably offset by shifting of workers to farms and outdoor construction work.

"The number of men employed in reporting lines of industry continued to decline in the period from March 15 to April," the Chicago federal reserve bank says in its monthly review. "An improvement over the preceding month in nonmanufacturing groups was offset by declines in eight of the ten manufacturing groups surveyed. Manufacturing pay rolls followed practically the same trend as the number of men employed. Total earnings of all groups, however, rose slightly, owing to the expansion in public utilities and construction work. Savings deposits on May 1 fell 1 per cent below the corresponding month of 1929 but in comparison with April 1 very little change was shown."

Rail Earnings.

April earnings reports from the railroads continue unfavorable in comparison with a year ago. Forty-four roads which have reported up to yesterday showed net operating income of $34,716,000 against $52,049,000 in April, 1929, a decline of 33 per cent. Their March total was $33,869,000. April gross earnings totaled $252,134,490 against $287,473,000 a year ago, a decrease of 12 per cent. Their March total was $252,390,000.

"There should be a gradual increase in our business from this time on, but it will not equal last year until we get along toward the close of it," Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago and North Western, said yesterday. "On Monday we had the largest day's loadings so far this year, although the figures were still under those a year ago."

Traffic on the Great Northern so far this month is running about 10 per cent below a year ago, according to President Ralph Budd. Ore loadings show the principal decline.

U.S. Steel to Expand on West Coast, Farrell Says

San Francisco, May 27.—(AP)—James A. Farrell, president of United States Steel corporation, said here today that his company's holdings on the Pacific coast would be expanded. Farrell said there would be a "round-up out" of the properties of the former Columbia Steel company, which was taken over by United States Steel last fall. This group includes manufacturing plants in California and Oregon and mines in Utah.

Hotel Operator Schedules Liabilities of $1,780,887

Scheduling liabilities of $1,780,887 and assets of $100, Lewis A. Reinert, hotel operator, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy with the federal court yesterday. According to the petition, $1,704,000 is due the Foreman-State Trust and Savings bank, as trustee for the estate of Sherman M. Cooper, on the unexpired lease of the Cooper-Carlton hotel.

Electric Utilities Seek Larger Farm Power Outlet

BY SCRUTATOR.

Intelligent efforts are being made by the electric utilities of the United States to find an outlet for their product on American farms.

A survey of the profit possibilities to the farmer and of the limitations that will be encountered in rural electrification has been summarized in a booklet just issued by the Middle West Utilities company. In it the prediction is made that the number of farms served with electricity from central stations, which grew from 175,000 to 500,000 between 1924 and 1929, will reach a million in the next four years.

The anonymous author, as a background for the conclusions, has discussed the whole question of farm use of power and contrasted the conditions governing it with those prevailing in manufacturing. Two factors which are looked on as largely responsible for such disparities as exist between farming and industry are the greater dispersal a farmer must make of his efforts both in time and in space.

Use Is Limited.

That means, in plainer language, that whereas a factory could theoretically govern its annual production to an equal amount on each of 300 days, the farmer can use his field machinery only a few days in each year; that while the factory can run its units of production down the same assembly line at the same rate the agriculturist must travel far afield and produce where he can on his farm.

Under the conditions it is held that the fifty million horsepower plant of American farming is used but 4 per cent of the possible maximum, a use factor less than one-third that of manufacturing establishments. A plea is made for the concentration of more power use in the barn, the farmyard, and the dairy.

The survey maintains that on the farm the amount of human labor, including that of women in the home, is three hours for each horse power hour of animal and mechanical power in use, and that this ratio must remain rather high. It can best be cut by the farmer increasing his activities in the raising of live stock and reducing his production of grains.

Room for Growth.

Little more can be done profitably to mechanize field operations, it is estimated; much can be done toward effective use of electrically driven machinery in grinding silage and other feeds, hay hoisting, milking, refrigerating, and pumping.

At least three farms to every mile of transmission line must be served, it is stated, to make rural electrification economical. There are now about 150,000 miles of such lines. One rather interesting conclusion is that farms of a quarter section or so can make just as effective use of machinery as much larger units because dispersion in time and space is just as important for the large as the small unit. From this it is reasoned that the one family farm will continue to exist.

The Railroads Are Spending More for Improvements Despite Smaller Revenue

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 27.—Heavy buying of public utility stocks started in Wall street today following a report that four of the largest power and light corporations were to be merged into a new company which would be the largest utility holding company in the world.

Although the report received no encouragement from official sources, buying continued unabated, and the stocks of the companies concerned scored a general advance.

Electric Bond and Share company, already one of the largest public utility holding companies, was reported in Wall street to be arranging the merger, and the component companies were said to be American Power and Light, Electric Power and Light, National Power and Light, and American Gas and Electric.

The price offered in the proposed merger was said to be 112 for American Power and Light, which closed at 105, up 3¼ on the day; 100 for Electric Power and Light, which closed at 94, up 5 on the day; 49 for National Power and Light, which advanced 1⅝ to close at 48⅞, and 165 for American Gas and Electric, which advanced 8⅜ to close at 150⅜.

New $40,000,000 Pipeline to Start at Once: Parish

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Work will start immediately on the $40,000,000 natural gas pipe line project of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company, Frank P. Parish, president, announced yesterday. The line will extend 1,250 miles from the Texas Panhandle field to Indianapolis by the way of Kansas City, Springfield, Ill., and Terre Haute, Ind. Construction contracts have been released, Parish said.

F. P. PARISH. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

The project, it is understood, is the forerunner of other important expansions which will be made later. These plans do not include the extension of the line to Chicago which is not being considered at the present time, it is reliably reported.

Announcement of the details of the Missouri-Kansas program follows by a few weeks the announcement of the Insull group of the completion of preliminary negotiations for the piping of natural gas from Texas to the Chicago district. The project of the Insull group is in no way connected with the Missouri-Kansas program.

Contract For Gas.

In making the announcement, Mr. Parish said that the Illinois Power and Light corporation and the Missouri Power and Light company, have already contracted with the Panhandle Eastern company, Missouri-Kansas subsidiary, for the purchase of natural gas for Illinois and Missouri cities they are now serving with artificial gas.

Mr. Parish estimates that the construction work will be completed by Dec. 1, this year. Necessary financing has been arranged for and actual work has been started at two points in Texas and Missouri. An order for $25,000,000 worth of material has been placed with the National Supply company of Toledo. The pipe will be of 22 and 24 inch size. Employment will be provided for several thousand men in the construction work.

Stock of the Missouri Kansas company was steady in the trading on the Chicago exchange yesterday with the formal announcement of the company's development plans. The market as a whole was inclined to sag. Price movements were narrow.

Auburn Off 6 Points.

The motor shares which enjoyed a revival on the previous day dropped back again. Auburn was the chief sufferer with a loss of around 6 points. Losses of more than a point were sustained by Houdaille B, Modine Manufacturing, Winton Engine.

In the industrial group E. L. Bruce on a few odd lot sales fell 4 points. Majestic Household was steady most of the day and closed a point higher. Grigsby was about unchanged.

U. S. Radio was one of the few stocks to gain, finishing up a point on sales of about 1,400 shares.

BY FRED HARVEY.

New York, May 27.—To all outward appearances, the bulls and bears were at each other's throats from start to finish of today's trading session on the stock exchange. They pummelled and prodded and otherwise played fast and loose with each other's favorites all over the board, causing the general price trend to reverse itself at frequent intervals and mixing things up pretty realistically.

But the fracas proved to be mostly wind and smoke in the end, when the count showed a total of only 2,258,240 shares traded in with important price chances few and far between. Gains and losses alternated throughout the final list. As a rule the utilities showed some progress on the day's score, while the rails and motors wound up generally lower. Most of the pivotals finished on the "up" side.

Credit Continues Easy.

Credit conditions continued easy, call money renewing unchanged at 3 per cent and in abundant supply while time money and commercial paper were at the lowest in about five years. Such news as developed was a trifle more cheerful, particularly at it concerned the steel business. A smart decrease in the California Crude production was a bullish factor of some slight weight. On the other hand the railway operating statements for April continued to prove disappointing in comparison with the corresponding

FOX FILM CORP. TO SPEND $30,000,000 FOR PICTURES, EXPANSION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 27.—The Fox Film corporation will spend $25,000,000 this year on production of new pictures and $5,000,000 on plant expansion, it was announced today by H. L. Clarke, president of General Theaters Equipment and its subsidiary, Fox Film.

"I believe," he declared, "that the motion picture industry is the greatest of all public service organizations. It is my purpose that we may always serve the American public with an increasingly better type of amusement and provide in one form or another all of the amusement for all of the people. The talking picture is only in its infancy and, properly nurtured, will grow rapidly into a giant economic force for good."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 27.—After reaching a complete agreement on the principle yesterday the bankers and treasury experts, meeting here to settle the terms of the $300,000,000 Young plan German loan, today settled down to serious squabbling regarding technicalities.

Following the meeting Gates W. McGarrah, president of the Bank for International Settlements, stated that he hoped the difficulties would be ironed out by the end of tomorrow's session, but it now seems doubtful that the issue will take place early in next week as was expected.

The troublesome problem of the distribution of the bonds is still undecided and it seems that difficulties have arisen regarding the price in various countries. It is believed that the issuing price in America will be $91, while in France, where the coupons are freed of tax, the price will be $98. Some financial interests in France are reported to be demanding a much lower issue price.

Chicago Is Campbell Co.'s Center of Distribution

Chicago has been made the distributing center of the Campbell Soup company for the territory east of Denver and west of Pittsburgh. The main plants of the company are now located in Chicago and Camden, N. J. Sixty-five sales managers of the company will assemble here soon for a three day convention. They will inspect the company's new plant at 35th street and Western avenue.

This was a decrease of 3,927 cars below the preceding week, and a reduction of 116,590 cars below loadings for the corresponding week a year ago.

CLARKE NOTES IMPROVEMENT IN REAL ESTATE

Signs are hopeful for an improvement in the real estate situation, Philip R. Clarke, president of the Central Trust company, told members of the Chicago Mortgage Bankers association at their annual banquet at he Palmer house last night. He said that no one could deny the real estate business has been very sick, but it is now recovering, and he added that there was no justification for pessimism.

PHILIP R. CLARKE. [Chambers Photo.]

He explained the serious situation in respect to realty securities as being due in part to the general inflation throughout the country, and asserted that the distress they are now undergoing will in the end work out their cure. Capital flowing too easily into real estate projects brought on over construction. Then, too, he said, real estate securities became overly popular with the public, the consequence being the flooding of the market with issues secured by undertakings not economically sound.

Earlier Louis K. Boysen was installed as president. Charles W. Hoff is the retiring president.

BANKERS' TRUST GROUP RENEWS BAVARIAN CREDIT

New York, May 27.—(AP)—It was learned today that a syndicate headed by the Bankers Trust company has renewed $15,000,000 of a $20,000,000 credit to the State of Bavaria, Germany, through the agency of the Bavarian State bank.

The State of Saxony, Germany, it was reliably reported today, has exercised its option to renew for three months about half of its $6,000,000 credit granted September, 1929, with the Bankers Trust company and Chase National bank of New York.

Lupton. Mr. Hammond and associates own 1,212,300 of the 2,000,000 shares which is the total authorized capital.

EUROPE'S WHEAT PROSPECTS ARE DETERIORATING

However, Close Here Is 7-8@1 1-8c Lower.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

European wheat crop prospects are showing rapid deterioration and the sharp break in agricultural implement shares on the New York Stock exchange yesterday was said to have been based on heavy cancellations of harvesting machinery orders by European buyers.

Private cables estimated that Italy would have to import 120,000,000 bu wheat during the 1930-'31 season, or 80,000,000 bu more than during the current year, while considerable damage has been done to the French and Polish crops. Unless dry and warm weather is received shortly the outlook in Germany will be much less favorable. The French crop may fall far below domestic requirements.

American grain traders paid little attention to the prospect of a material improvement in the foreign demand for wheat, Monday's bulge having weakened the technical position in the futures market. An effort to reinstate short lines covered the previous day found support less aggressive, and the close was ⅞@1¼c lower with May at $1.06¾, and July at $1.06⅞@$1.07.

Market Ignores Bull News.

Action of the wheat market during the day suggested that speculative operations still count for more than the general run of the news, with further reports of Hessian fly damage covering around 25 per cent of the total acreage in Nebraska having little effect.

Liverpool wheat futures closed 1⅛@1¼d lower on reports of liberal sales by Russia to Antwerp and Rotterdam at the equivalent of $1.11 per bu, c. i. f., and on some pressure of Indian grain. Crop in the latter country has turned out better than expected. Moderate exports are looked for during the season, compared with small imports the previous year. A Paris cable expressed the belief that prices in France would rise sharply, as the market at the present time was 55c below an import parity.

According to a leading agricultural implement company having crop observers abroad, conditions there are not at all favorable. Their reports of late have confirmed considerable damage. Traders who analyzed the world's statistical position expressed the belief that European buying of North American wheat during the last half of the present year would be considerably in excess of the previous season. Foreigners refused to follow Monday's upturn in Chicago, and sales in all positions were finally estimated at 400,000 to 500,000 bu, largely Manitobas.

Corn Weakens with Wheat.

Weakness in wheat led to a resumption of local selling of corn futures. Prices declined around 1c from the previous day's close, with short covering and buying against bids checking the break. Final trades were at net losses of ⅛@⅝c, May being 78½c, and July, 80½c.

Weather conditions were favorable for field work, and planting is nearing completion over a wide area and considerably ahead of the average. Country offerings were only fair. North American available supplies decreased 2,421,000 bu for the week, and are down to 12,870,000 bu, or 5,400,000 bu less than last year.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

While there were numerous inquiries in the market for Canadian durums and Manitobas, business generally was reported as small, with little interest shown in hard winters. Local handlers sold 13,000 bu wheat, 96,000 bu corn, 61,000 bu oats, 2,000 bu barley, and 2,000 bu rye to the domestic trade. Deliveries on May contracts aggregated 78,000 bu wheat, 121,000 bu corn, and 101,000 bu rye.

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Tuesday: Wheat, 7 cars; corn, 170 cars; oats, 142 cars; barley, 6 cars.

·WORLD'S·GRAIN·MARKET·NEWS·

There are only three more trading days in this month. There is a little uneasiness in some quarters in regard to May wheat. So far as known there are no indications of any large holdings. The open interest is being cut down rapidly and at the close on Monday was 9,239,000 bu and it was understood that a considerable reduction was made yesterday.

Trade sentiment in wheat, it is said, would swing to the bull side, were there any encouragement in new buying from abroad. At the same time weakness in foreign markets would encourage selling and a break. The main feature of the trade is the small outside interest, and the ready response to buying on any good break.

One of the most emphatic bulls on corn says were it not for constant fear of a buyer having corn delivered him in car lots on track there would be a marked increase in buying, both locally and on outside account. Until outsiders are satisfied that there will be no "posting" or track deliveries they are not likely to come in on the buying side.

"It is quite apparent that the world will go into the new season with much reduced carryover of wheat, particularly if one takes into account the visible reserve in importing countries," says S. C. Harris. "There is ample evidence that Europe is not likely to repeat the bumper crop of last year."

The Farmers National Grain corporation apparently is getting down to business. It is announced from Minneapolis that loans on grain for the new crop will be based on a percentage of value rather than a minimum price.

Montana-Dakota Power Company

First Mortgage 5½% Gold Bonds

(Series of 1929)

Dated January 2, 1929 — Due January 1, 1934

The issuance of these bonds has been approved by the Board of Railroad Commissioners of North Dakota

Business and Property: Montana-Dakota Power Company owns and operates without competition electric light and power and natural gas utility properties, supplying 16,000 customers in 91 towns. The properties of the company embrace a large and well developed territory in eastern Montana and western North Dakota, having a population estimated in excess of 60,000.

Security: These bonds are secured in the opinion of counsel by a direct mortgage on all fixed assets owned by the Company subject to a $38,000 incumbrance on a small portion of the property amortizable only upon an annual basis. Based upon an appraisal of Day & Zimmerman, Inc., as of December 31, 1929, plus net capital expenditures to March 31, 1930, the mortgaged property has a present sound value largely in excess of the bonds to be presently outstanding.

Earnings: Earnings of the Montana-Dakota Power Company, for the twelve months ended March 31, 1930, available for interest and depreciation as certified by Arthur Young and Company, Certified Public Accountants, were as follows:

Gross Earnings	$1,508,251.94
Operating Expenses, Maintenance, Taxes	619,926.62
*Net Earnings	$ 888,325.32
Annual Interest Requirements First Mortgage Bonds	440,000.00

Net earnings as above are in excess of two times the maximum annual interest charges on all first mortgage bonds outstanding, but do not, however, reflect increased revenues to be derived from expenditures to be made from the proceeds of these bonds for the construction of a power plant at Williston, North Dakota, and a gas trunk line extension from Glendive to Williston, together with distribution systems in the towns to be traversed by this line.

LEASE CENTRAL THEATER FOR TALKIE HOUSE

Will Be Remodeled Into "Punch and Judy."

BY AL CHASE.

Signatures were placed on a loop lease yesterday which will give Chicago theatergoers practically a new playhouse, a tiny affair of only 450 seats, at 62-66 East Van Buren street. This is the old Central theater, in the Chicago Musical college building, which for many years was known as Steinway hall. Considerable mystery surrounds the lease, neither the time, rate, or lessee's name was disclosed.

It was stated, however, that Alfred S. Alschuler is drawing plans along modernistic lines which will call for an expenditure of approximately $150,000. The present seating capacity of the old Central is said to be 800. This is to be cut nearly in half. A new ventilating system is to be installed. The opening is set for the day after Labor day. It will be called the Punch & Judy and will be used for both talkies and silent pictures. Avery J. Bernstein of Robert White & Co. was broker.

Gives Farm to His Wife.

Charles A. Allen, president of the Allen Tiling company, yesterday presented his wife, Clotilda V. Allen, with a 245 acre tract in Barrington township known as the John Nagel farm. The farm was given in part payment by George Stevens for purchase of 1,300 feet of frontage along Brummel avenue, adjoining the Dodge avenue station of the Niles Center "L" branch in Evanston.

This was taken at a reported $85,000 and the farm was turned in at $75,000, according to Edelson, Latter & Wise, attorneys for Mr. Allen. Sommers & Sommers were attorneys for Mr. Stevens. It is understood part of the property just acquired by Mr. Stevens will be improved with a garage.

21 Flat Building Sold.

The twenty-one apartment building on the south side of West 75th street, extending from Eggleston to Fielding, was sold yesterday by John A. Hedman, A. Gustafson, and Gustaf A. Johnson to Marshall E. and Frank T. Anderson for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $106,700.

Harry N. Cooper Jr. has purchased the residence at 525 Ash street, Winnetka, from George R. Work, vice president of L. Gould & Co., through Frederick B. Thomas & Co. of Winnetka, represented by R. M. Jaeger. The latter also was broker in the sale of the brick and stone residence at 490 Willow road, Winnetka, for George S. Wood to Mrs. Elizabeth C. Finley of River Forest.

NEW MITCHELL CHAIN LEASES ANOTHER STORE

Iwney Dew, Inc., of which John J. Mitchell is president, has leased the store at 2733 North Clark street for ten years at a reported term rental of $42,500, from Mandel Lowenstine. Cerf & Ehrenhalt, brokers, also report leasing the northwest corner of 63d and Cottage Grove for Tom and William Chamales and 4714 Sheridan road for Jacob Shapiro and Isaac Grossman to the United Millinery Stores company.

CANADIAN VACATION

VERY IMPORTANT

CANADA STEAMSHIP LINES operate from the head of Lake Superior, via the St. Lawrence River, to the Saguenay. Their cruises include the seven day trip from Detroit to Duluth and return; Niagara to the Saguenay, including the Thousand Islands, and shooting the rapids; excursions from Toronto, the Queen City, to Niagara, the Thousand Islands and Rochester. They operate a fleet of 100 steamers, freight and passenger, and are the largest fresh water transportation company in the world. The famous Saguenay trip includes visits to Montreal, metropolis of Canada; Quebec, the historic walled city; Murray Bay, "Newport of the North" and Tadoussac, Canada's oldest settlement. The Saguenay Canyon is one of nature's masterpieces.

Our steamers may be boarded at Lewiston, Rochester, Duluth or Detroit in the U.S.A., or Sarnia, Queenston, Toronto, Montreal or Quebec in Canada.

HAVE you ever seen a genuine camera-shy "Mountie" in a smart red tunic? You will probably run across one or two of this famous corps as you journey through French Canada. This lower St. Lawrence country—the cradle of Canadian history—is brimful of new and interesting sights.

The habitant woman spinning at her door-step, or baking huge loaves in an outdoor oven, the woodsman shouldering his axe and striding along in soft moccasins, the little boys driving their big dogs at a gallop in home-made carts—these are part of the delightful, simple life of French Canada's beloved habitants.

Our large modern steamers ply from Niagara, via the St. Lawrence river to the distant Saguenay. Air that stirs the blood like a bugle call, the grandeur of mountain scenery, new congenial friends—all go to make up a memorable vacation cruise, as delightful as a trip abroad.

Please write at once for illustrated folder, which describes in detail the pleasures of this wonderful vacation cruise.

SYNOPSIS.

Catherine West of Boston on her way to Paris, meets Geoffrey Macadam in the Havre train. Macadam is an Englishman who lives in Paris. Catherine tells him that she is going to visit her cousin's widow, Mme. Belmont Bender. She is a little apprehensive about the coming visit because she had received just before sailing a letter from Hermione Bender, who tells her that Mme. Bender is far from well. Macadam is a lawyer and informs Catherine that his firm handles Mme. Bender's affairs, but he doesn't know the family very well. He had heard that she was ill. Arrived in Paris, Catherine is a little disturbed when her cousin's chauffeur is not at the station to meet her. Geoffrey sees Catherine to a taxi, giving her his address and telephone number. He tells her that he will call later to know how things are at the Bender apartment and she promises to call him after her arrival at Mme. Bender's apartment, she is treated coldly by the servants and the atmosphere of the apartment as she is suspicious of the servants. Jeanne tells her that Mme. Bender had attempted to commit suicide the night before. The next morning Catherine goes in to see Germaine Bender, who is pathetically glad to see her. She tells Catherine how she took poison by mistake.

Geoffrey invites Catherine to dine with him and it is a relief for her to get out of the atmosphere and to tell him of her vague fears. He is disturbed, too. Geoffrey escorts Catherine back to the apartment. The door is locked, but Geoffrey arouses Eduardo, who says that Miss West had come in long before.

The next morning Catherine calls on Miss Cushing, who takes her to her milliner, where she sees a man she has noticed hanging around the Bender apartment. Back in the apartment she finds the gallery open for the first time and she goes in only to discover a number of pictures and tapestries missing. She asks Jeanne about them and the girl says they were sold shortly before Mr. Bender's death. Catherine feels she is lying and believes she and Eduardo are thieves. She finds Jeanne is exerting a baneful influence over Germaine Bender. Jeanne denounces Catherine to the invalid.

Geoffrey takes Catherine out to dinner and she unburdens herself to him. He has decided to put an investigator on the case. When he takes her back to the Bender apartment he takes her in his arms as he says good night. Catherine responds to his kiss. He asks her to marry him, but she wants time to be certain of her feelings. On her return to her room she hears Germaine sobbing and goes to her. She retired hurriedly on Jeanne's return.

INSTALLMENT LI.

UNPLEASANT NEWS.

Catherine felt strangely sick and queer, her head going round. What was wrong with her? She had slept till 10, rung for her coffee and drunk it, when she had noticed anything amiss. Then, after reading her letters—a note from Geoffrey's sister, Elspeth Baxter, inviting her to spend a week with her at Fontainebleau—she had risen lazily to dress, only to discover an unexpected faintness combined with racking pains in her stomach which she could not account.

She rose to go into the bathroom, then had to steady herself with a hand on the nearest chair as a wave of giddiness overtook her. Thick beads of perspiration broke out all over her body, her head swam drunkenly.

The next moment she had collapsed across the bed, panting for breath and doubled up with colic-like pain, like the stab of a knife. She tried to rise, then gave up in despair.

She was too miserable when the door opened to feel surprised that it was Jeanne and not Berthe who answered the call.

"But I haven't taking anything at all. What do you mean?"

"Jeanne—I am feeling dreadfully ill. I can't imagine what it is——" and she was doubled up again with a terrific fit of cramp.

Through spasms of pain and the chattering of her teeth with cold, she told the maid saying that she must have caught a chill, and that the doctor must be telephoned for at once. Then she was left alone.

She was shivering from head to foot now, while sweat poured from every pore. She was glad Jeanne was sending for the doctor for she had not the faintest idea what to do. Then in a momentary cessation of suffering she remembered that she had another reason for wanting to see Dr. Girard.

It seemed a long time before the maid reappeared with a hot water bottle, but in reality she was very prompt.

"Eduardo is telephoning," she said, bending down to insert the grateful warmth near the girl's icy feet. "Where are the pains?"

Catherine attempted to show her. She opened her eyes to find the woman looking down at her with knit brows, intent and noncommittal. She said nothing, but her eyes narrowed and she gave a little shrug. Ill though she was, Catherine had a fleeting impression that the woman was keeping some thought to herself about the nature of the pains, that she was secretly a little triumphant and disapproving.

"I'll fetch you a hot drink," she heard the cool voice saying.

Ten minutes passed, then Jeanne returned with a cup of steaming liquid. Catherine managed a sip, then a qualm of nausea swept over her.

"It is dreadfully bitter," she murmured weakly.

A sort of numbness followed the hot draught, and she closed her eyes and almost dropped asleep, only to be roused suddenly by a horrible sensation of sickness, together with renewed anguish.

"Fancy," remarked the maid, moving about and putting the room to rights, "we have been wondering why Dr. Girard did not come yesterday as he said he would. Now we learn that the poor man slipped on the parquet floor last night and tore some ligaments in his leg. It is his assistant who is on duty to see you.

This was unpleasant news. Not that Catherine cared just then what doctor came, only that this accident meant a further postponement of what she wanted to learn.

It was mid-day when the door opened and both women appeared, usherette in a plump, serious-looking young man of professional aspect. He glanced at the girl's drawn face and then turned back to the servants, waved aside the curious Berthe, and engaged in a whispered colloquy with Jeanne, whom he plainly regarded as the more responsible of the two. Between half closed eyes Catherine saw his mouth tighten ominously as he nodded with raised brows. He made a brief examination of the patient, taking her temperature and sounding her in the region of the pains. Finally, frowning deeply, he got up a chair close to the bed and sat down, leaning towards her confidentially.

"Now, mademoiselle," he said, "I want to know what drug you have taken yourself. Don't be afraid. If you will tell me straight out, it will be easily matters."

He uttered an abrupt exclamation, jerking his plump shoulders upward.

"Mademoiselle, I beg of you, don't attempt to deceive me! It is most serious. If I am to help you, you must play fair with me. Now, once again—what medicine, what drug did you take last night? I insist upon knowing."

Weak though she was, she felt bewilderment succumb to irritation, and raised herself to a more emphatic denial.

"I tell you, nothing whatever. I haven't taken any medicine, and I felt quite ill after breakfast this morning."

"And that is all, absolutely all?"

"I'm sorry you think I'm lying," she said bluntly, "and I wish you would realize in your mind. You believe I've taken a drug. Is it possible—she looked, frowning incredulously—"is it possible you think I have been trying to kill myself?"

"Kill!" He gave vent to a short, ironic laugh which grated on her ear. Then she gave up trying to understand, and mastered her growing indignation. He began to ask a great many questions, some of them intimate ones the bearing of which she could dimly surmise. She answered him frankly enough, but with an inward sense of embarrassment. Then as the consultation went on she saw his expression change, grow less cocksure, and finally veer altogether another phase. He rubbed his chin thoughtfully and still looked at her with searching eyes, led the inquiry in another direction.

"Enfin, mademoiselle, let us hear what you had to eat yesterday. Everything, please. Don't leave out a single article of food."

Thinking back carefully, she enumerated the items of the various menus. When she came to last night's dinner he gave an exclamation of triumph and slapped his thigh.

"Oysters!" he cried. "The end of April! You have been poisoned by the oysters, there is little doubt of it."

She did not know why all at once he should appear both relieved and satisfied. His brow cleared and he looked at her in quite a different way.

"Well, mademoiselle, first of all I must prescribe for you a large dose of unpleasant remedy. I will give directions to have it prepared for you at once, with orange juice. I will call again this evening. Meantime you are to keep warm and eat nothing until the middle of the afternoon, when you may have a cup of tea. You English like your 5 o'clock, is it not?" he added, heavily jocose.

She smiled at him wanly. After all he meant no harm.

Yet thinking it over after he had gone she was again affronted by his manner, and the severe cross-examination he had put her through. She was still dwelling upon these things when Berthe entered with the castor oil.

After this she dozed from exhaustion, but at 7 o'clock when the physician appeared she was still in so much pain that it was necessary to administer her an injection of morphia.

Two Chicago Women Bow Before Queen

George V. Absent Because of Rheumatism.

BY ANN WHITTINGHAM.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 27. — Mrs. George Carr and Miss Helen Howell, both of Chicago, are among the eight American women who were presented to Queen Mary and the prince of Wales tonight at Buckingham palace by Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, wife of the American ambassador. Because of an attack of rheumatism, affecting his right hip, the king was not present and probably will not be at the last court reception of the season tomorrow night.

Other American women presented were Miss Carolyn Wildman of Brooklyn, Miss Vera Bloom of New York City, Mrs. Frederick Thwaits of Milwaukee, Miss Elizabeth Blankinton of New York City, Mrs. Guy Goff of Clarksburg, W. Va., and Mrs. George Phelps of Detroit. Among those to be presented tomorrow will be Mrs. Jacob Baur of Chicago.

Mrs. Carr's gown was of gold lace trimmed with pale rose satin, the skirt falling in three tiers of deep flounces, the last of them forming a train over which fell a court train of gold lace and rose brocade draped from her shoulders. Her slippers were of gold broacade. She carried a pink feather fan of the same delicate shades as the satin on the gown. A large ornament of diamonds was worn on the corsage. That ornament was designed and created with Mrs. Carr's jewels by Chaument especially for the occasion. So was the diamond about her head, holding in place the three plumes, the crest of the prince of Wales.

Miss Howell of 2708 Lake View avenue, whose presentation was sponsored by Mark W. Woods of Lincoln, Neb., a personal friend of Ambassador Dawes, wore a gown by Paul Poiret that was of white chiffon, made princess style, with a short bodice and a godet skirt scalloped at the hem. It was embroidered with iridescent beads, a motif appearing again on the train of white satin. That also was scalloped. Her feather fan was shaded in pink, emphasizing the delicate tints of the beads on the gown. Miss Howell is tall and slender. On her blonde head she wore a small tiara of mother of pearl and diamonds with the three plumes.

Mrs. Thwaits came to the English court with fresh honors from the French government. In February she was decorated with the French legion of honor.

LONDON, May 27.—(AP)—At the third court tonight Queen Mary was attired in a gown of gold brocade, embroidered in gold and colored stones. She stood before the golden throne, mounted on a scarlet dais under a crimson canopy, graciously bowing and smiling as each woman was presented and made her long rehearsed curtsy.

The prince of Wales was resplendent in his scarlet uniform as colonel in chief of the Welsh guards. He stood beside his royal mother.

King George V. probably will not be present tomorrow night either, when the following American women will be presented:

Mrs. Jacob Baur, Chicago; Miss Maxine Adams, Rexburg, Ida.; Miss Carolyn Apperson Leech, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Edward Spafford, New York; Mrs. Hoffman Nickerson, Oyster Bay, N. Y.; Mrs. Franklin Terr, New York.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

Do you approve of showers for brides?

The Answers.

Miss Olive English, 541 Deming place, secretary—No. I consider them rather stupid. They tax the imagination and the purse. To some persons a gift suitable for a bride means little; to others it means much. For myself, I shall say, "No showers, thank you."

Leo Wangler, 4162 West 25th street, advertising — Showers for brides are O. K. They help to furnish the home, a big task for the average young couple. I expect to appreciate any gifts the bride receives when we get married.

Miss Alice Pinelli, 6024 South Keating avenue, stenographer—I certainly approve of them. I hope I am buried in one shower. I think it is a lot of fun planning a shower for a bride. And I know she appreciates having one. The wedding is a great occasion in any girl's life.

Anthony Boccio, 717 South Winchester avenue, assistant manager—That all depends upon whether you have money. Some persons have showers just for show off. The young couple undoubtedly appreciate it. But how about the friends who produce the shower? After the wedding is over many of them are broke.

Mrs. Nathalie Greiman, 7731 Essex avenue, housewife—If the bride needs money a shower gives her help in getting her home started. But the average girl is comfortably situated and a shower is an embarrassment rather than an enjoyment.

Charity Fund $351,036, Seek for $1,500,000

Start Is Made by 350 Chicagoans.

The contribution of $351,036, the first step in raising the $1,150,000 fund for the United Charities of Chicago, was announced yesterday by John F. Gilchrist, chairman of that fund.

This amount collected was given by 350 Chicagoans through the work of the special gifts committee headed by Kent S. Clow. The drive will start officially in the fall of this year.

Among the gifts are: Insull companies, $25,000; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Insull, $20,000; Julius Rosenwald, $15,000; Sewell Avery and Albert W. Harris, $10,000 each, and $10,000 each from two anonymous donors.

"Chicago is responding splendidly to this initial appeal, as is indicated by the high average of subscriptions which to the present time is $1,000 a gift," Mr. Gilchrist said yesterday at a meeting of the executive committee. "We hope to reach our goal of $750,000 in large gifts this spring before making the general appeal later. Many contributors have given many times their former gifts to meet the present emergency.

"Giving to the United Charities is largely a matter of good sportsmanship, for a certain amount of distress and want is a necessary byproduct of our civilization and of the very specialization in commerce and industry which means our prosperity.

"Consequently, if we neglect to bear our share of the cost of relieving this distress, we would certainly be lacking in good sportsmanship—taking all the benefits of living and working in Chicago and at the same time shirking the accompanying obligations.

"In the present effort to care properly for the poor of our city the good name of Chicago business men is at stake," Mr. Gilchrist concluded. "The United Charities has a splendid grasp of the situation and is organized to handle this relief work in a much more efficient way than we could possibly do ourselves. All that it needs is the backing and financial support of every good Chicagoan and the work will be done."

THE STAGE

THE Theater Guild issued an announcement yesterday dealing with the plans for its next Chicago season, which opens in October at the Blackstone. It emphasizes the point that several of its productions for the next New York season will be given here before they are staged in the east.

The first item of the program will be Bernard Shaw's "The Apple Cart," with the New York company, which includes Tom Powers, Violet Kemble Cooper, Claude Rains, and Ernest Cossart. It will be offered for three weeks.

Then Turgenev's "A Month in the Country," with Mme. Alla Nazimova in the principal rôle, will be presented. In regard to this play the Guild states:

"Although Turgenev's plays have been long in the repertory of the Moscow Art theater, until two months ago, when 'A Month in the Country' was done in London, his dramas were unknown to the English speaking public. What this play reveals is that Turgenev began the dramatic form which Chekhov carried on. This production will carry the settings designed by M. S. Dobuzhinsky for the Moscow Art theater and reproduced by Raymond Sovey of the Theater Guild."

These two plays represent items from the Guild's New York season which is now ending. They will be followed by new productions. Maxwell Anderson's "Elizabeth the Queen" is a certainty for Chicago. Its cast will have Lynne Fontanne in the title rôle, Alfred Lunt as the Earl of Essex, and Albert Carroll as the court jester.

It is likely that one of the other two plays to compose the Chicago season will be "Green Grow the Lilacs," a new piece by Lynn Riggs. The Guild says of it and its author:

"This piece will be the second production of the season in New York, and high hopes are held for it. Mr. Riggs will emerge next season as one of the more prominent playwrights, since, in addition to 'Green Grow the Lilacs,' Arthur Hopkins will offer another piece of his called 'Roadside.' 'Green Grow the Lilacs' will be directed by Herman Biberman, who made a name for himself last season with his production for the Theater Guild of 'Red Rust.'

The fifth play of the Chicago season will be selected from the following list: "Lysistrata," the comedy by Aristophanes as adapted by Maurice Donnay and translated from the French by William A. Drake; "The Good Soldier Schweik," a comedy from the novel by Jaroslav Haschek which has been staged with success in Berlin; "The Lonely Way," a tragi-comedy by Arthur Schnitzler; "The Coward," by H. R. Lenormand, author of "The Failures," which was staged by the Guild six years ago; "The Genius and His Brother," by Sil-Vara, the Viennese author of "Caprice"; and "Roar, China!" a drama of post-revolutionary Russia by S. Tretiokow, which was first produced by Meyerhold in Moscow.

The Guild has this to say of its plans in general:

"We are now engaged on a plan to make the Chicago seasons coincide more evenly with the New York seasons. For the past three years the Guild has been subjected to the heavy strain of preparing six or more of its plays for visits to other cities before it could begin its New York season. It now intends to divide its production schedule so that New York will see some of the plays before they begin their tours, and others afterward."

The Guild announces these figures as illustrating the growth of its subscription list in Chicago: Season of 1927-'28, 1,200 subscribers; season of 1928-'29, 8,500 subscribers; season of 1929-'30, 14,800 subscribers. Next season's list is expected to show another increase.

"Strictly Dishonorable" will end its run at the Adelphi theater next Saturday night. Its record for the Chicago season stands at sixteen weeks.

Veteran Tells of Civil War and Indian Frays

Sergeant Finley, 83, Is Proud of Record.

Sergt. William Finley, fingering the service medals as they hung upon his blue army coat, observed yesterday that he will march in the Memorial day parade Friday in spite of his "bum leg."

"Why, I'm one of the youngest of the lot—just going on 83," the white-headed veteran of the civil and some Indian wars confided yesterday at his home, 4306 West Monroe street. "The paper says the average age now of the boys in blue is 87, and lots of them are in the '90s. I'm really pretty young."

There was a twinkle in the blue eyes of the old soldier as he sat straight in his chair. Sergt. Finley, as far as he knows, is one of the two last survivors of the 19th Illinois infantry. He is the only survivor in Chicago who served in the civil war and under Maj. Gen. George A. Custer and Brig. Gen. Christopher Carson, better known as "Kit" Carson, in Indian uprisings.

"I ran away to war," he tells, "when I was 15 years old with a boy neighbor. His mother never did get over blaming me for taking her son to war. I served two years, and say, the bullets flew and you couldn't see through the smoke. They used black powder in those days. They killed generals, too. Brigade and division commanders had to fight right with the soldiers instead of being back of the lines directing by telephone as in the world war."

"And what about fighting the Indians?" Sergt. Finley was asked. "Was it any fun?"

"I was 'Kit' Carson's orderly at Fort Garland, Colo., for nearly a year," the old soldier said proudly. "I was with the Fifth United States infantry, the one that a few years before had furnished so many rebel generals. Old Carson was a grand man. They named Carson City, Nev., for him. That's where they make money, you know. They named it after 'Kit' Carson, the great Indian fighter. Old 'Kit' Carson is buried in the plaza at Taos, N. M., with a little iron fence around his grave. He has a grandson, 'Kit' III., in California.

"The fighting? Well, I fought five years and it was fun only when you were five miles away from the battle. When I went west I didn't ride trains and airplanes. I walked—1,740 miles among the buffaloes and Indians. There wasn't a train west of Leavenworth, Kas.

"It would take a bookkeeper to keep track of all the forts we were in, we changed so often. We fought plenty of 'Injuns.' Out in Kansas once under Gen. Crawford we quelled the Cheyennes who had killed settlers on the Solomon river. We did guard duty for stage coaches, too, along the Smoky Hill."

Except for military service, Sergt. Finley has lived 80 of his 83 years in Chicago. He attended Foster school when a boy. He is a member of George A. Thomas post No. 5 of the G. A. R. That post "now has only 68 or 70 members and 35 years ago had 1,275."

While old soldiers dream of the days of battle, plans are being completed for the Memorial day services during which Chicago millions will pay tribute to the dead heroes of all America's wars. Services will be held in 106 cemeteries by the military and other patriotic organizations of this city and suburbs. More than 16,000 graves of veterans will be decorated with flowers, and small replicas of the flag they served.

Flowers for Memorial day are being collected from the schools to which they are brought by pupils. Patriotic organizations will take them to the cemeteries. Taps will be blown at each cemetery.

Common Causes of Halitosis May Be Readily Overcome

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

For sweet breath's sake a wholesome interest about the condition of teeth, tongue, throat, intestines, and bowels is advocated. There are a few outstanding reasons why breaths are restore self-confidence in case there is not pleasant, a review of which may doubt.

If there is digestive trouble there is likely to be a breath of more or less unpleasantness. If elimination is faulty it is almost sure to provoke a tained breath. A mass of unexpelled waste undergoes fermentation. There is gas formation and absorption of decayed material, all of which influences the breath for the worse.

If one is what is commonly referred to as "off her feed" there is a disturbing lack of sweetness when the mouth is opened. A test may be performed by cupping the palms close to the mouth and nose, blowing gently into the hand and then inhaling the warm breath.

Unless a fair supply of water is taken into the system daily no end of trouble results, not the least of which is this lack of sweetness of breath. All the good habits of hygiene like water drinking, good maintenance diets, exercise, deep breathing, and so on, have an influence on digestion and elimination. In order to have a pleasant breath the intestinal tract must be clean.

The average person wouldn't think of shallow breathing and flat chestedness as a cause of the affliction under discussion, yet it is a commonly recognized cause. Quantities of oxygen taken into the lungs will often effect a cure.

Good teeth and healthy tonsils are imperative. People, however, are more familiar with this need than the one of digestive security and proper elimination.

A coated tongue is always to be viewed with suspicion. More than unbrushed teeth will the coated tongue contribute to one's disfavor. The tongue needs to be scraped clean while the internal derangement responsible for the coating is being cleared up. Mouth washes help, but they can only be temporary in effect if digestive trouble exists.

Ingredients for Old-Time Melodrama Found in This Case

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Since she was 6 years old Margaret's older sister acted the mother to her. At 18 Margaret eloped with a young boy. A son was born a year later.

At 21 Margaret was abandoned for another fair charmer, as she puts it. Sister took the destitute girl and her baby into her home and lavished the utmost affection on both.

Margaret got a position as secretary, which she has held for three years. sister, meanwhile, taking beautiful care of her child. A co-worker, handsome, intelligent, decent, and fine, fell in love with Margaret and they became engaged.

In the meantime sister married and had a baby of her own, a little fellow now 2. Three months ago, sister, always regarded as the Rock of Gibraltar for physical strength, developed pneumonia suddenly and was dead in six days. Just before losing consciousness she begged her husband to marry Margaret so that both children would be taken care of. She made the same request of Margaret. The husband is a good, decent, hardworking man, whom Margaret holds in high esteem, but does not love.

In gratitude to her sister for her rare and wonderful kindness, Margaret asked to be released from her engagement and promised her brother-in-law to marry him eventually. The fiancé was heartbroken.

Margaret continues to work in the same office with the man she loves. The constant contact and the changed plans are driving her frantic. Parting with him forever becomes more difficult every day. The fiancé insists that if Margaret really loved him she would marry him, regardless. Over her head hangs the dying sister's request and an unforgettable memory of her kindness.

It all reads like an old-fashioned love tale. Marrying at a dying person's request was a popular theme of old. Only in fiction the sacrifice of one's true love met a reunited and happy ending.

But we've come to be a bit more practical in matters of this kind, and wisely.

Off-White Linen Coats Keep Satin Informal

By BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—With the feminine afternoon mode back in fashion there is grave danger of our becoming too elegant to be smart. Elegance in daylight is a tricky proposition, and most of the fashionable women I see around Paris aren't having any, thank you. They've left off the atrocious habit of going to tea in sports clothes, which, in spite of the Wall street disaster, makes it a pretty good year, but the plunge into frills and furbelows is too much for them. If they wear—as they frequently do—a frock of satin, they keep it away from the abyss of absolute elegance by having it made with the greatest simplicity and by toning it down with washable accessories, and wraps that are everyday-like.

Jean Patou showed linen coats with satin dresses in his spring collection, and Parisiennes like this method of keeping afternoon ensembles in the bounds of informality. One of his satin and linen ensembles that is worn by smart women is shown in our sketch. The dress is a much modified princess frock of black satin, with a collar of self-material and a little crossed gilet of off-white linen inside the collar. A linen bow is placed at the joining of the collar. The skirt is made comfortably, and gracefully wide by circular panels set on at the front and back. These panels merge into bands that are stitched over vertical shirring on the lower bodice.

The fitted cutaway jacket is made of off-white linen, coarse in weave, and it is unlined. A white linen and a black satin rose are placed in the left lapel. This kind of wrap may be worn on the hottest day, and it is always crisp and chic.

Art of Local Russian Takes Middle Ground

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Louis Cheskin is by birth a Russian, but he has been living in America for enough years to make his claim to a Chicago show, almost as personal a matter as though he had been born among us. A group of his oils and water colors is hanging in the Knoedler gallery and the first impression one gets from them is of an American, a virgin, an enthusiastic art.

Cheskin feels himself between the two camps. He is neither modernist nor conservative, but indulges in sorties on either side of the fence. He is more closely akin to the French modernists of the Vlaminck, Utrillo, Cezanne persuasion in his water colors. These are steeped in atmosphere and burst out at you with all manner of temperamental sallies in wind and wet road and flowering trees and divinely impetuous houses.

The oils rather hold their skirts back and wait for you to recognize them first. They have no wish to be cut nor to make a mistake as to who and what you are. They are very much on their dignity, a little oppressive, a bit heavy, a trifle overconcerned with their own importance which Mr. Cheskin has thoughtfully underlined and emphasized in black. His use of black is a Vlaminck mannerism that goes much better in the water colors. There are a few exceptions to the almost funereal solemnity of the oil paintings, which, by the way, are all landscapes. "Winter Forest" is a delightful study in blue-gray. It is cool and charming and unaffected. "Des Plaines River" is another enticing exception with lovely greens running through it and shadows mottling the water, and trees, and hills carrying out the picture.

The water colors, however, are the real meat of the exhibit. They are tumultuously successful. They vibrate. They are capable of sweeping the least indulgent from his feet. Their kinship to French modernism is forgotten in the swift appeal they make to one's sense of beauty and growth.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., May 27.—[Special.]—The secretary of state and Mrs. H. L. Stimson started the garden party season this afternoon. They gave one in the lovely garden of "Woodley," their home on Woodley lane. The garden is rich in rose bushes and old fashioned flowers. The hosts received their guests in the garden and were assisted by the wives of the assistant secretaries of state and heads of departmental bureaus. The army band played on a platform at the end of the garden.

Mrs. Martin B. Madden, widow of a representative from Chicago, and their daughter, Mrs. Paul Henderson, received this afternoon in their home, 3201 Woodland drive, when scores of their old friends paid their respects and renewed acquaintance. Mrs. Robert Stronach, daughter of Representative Elliott W. Sproul of Chicago presided at the tea table.

Wanted Babies Stand Best Physical and Mental Chance of All

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

A booklet by Mrs. Bevans on "Books to Be Read to Children or by Them" will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The mail comes in. I slit an envelope. I take out a letter, and something heavy falls on my lap. I reach for it, and my fingers close on something soft. I look quickly down and find a piece of domet flannel folded and sewed across to hold 60 cents for the baby book.

O, shades of domet flannel! What tender thoughts that homely, humble material brings back to a mother—thoughts of those first days of wonder after the baby's arrival, of taking up a fragrant, starry eyed bundle in the night (for babies are fragrant, as the initiated know), of a fascinating bathing and a myriad other memories. Domet flannel and babies are synonymous.

How strikingly unlike any other experience are those first weeks after the baby comes—when the baby is a wanted baby. And how many babies are wanted! That, after all, is the only condition under which babies should be born.

A young physician in a prosperous suburban community said the other day: "All the expectant mothers I am attending are women who have planned for and want their babies." Isn't that wonderful! And wouldn't it be well—glorious, if all the babies who are born were wanted babies. After all, it is hardly more than fair to them to want them—or otherwise not to have them. It's all right not to want children and not to have them—but it is a pity not to want them and to go on having them.

But most people do want their babies, I thought as, after having tucked the money wrapped in domet flannel back in its envelope, I read the second letter in the morning mail. Here is part of it:

"We have been married for several years. How many times after reading your articles have I almost decided to adopt a child! But we decided to wait. And now the most wonderful thing has happened. We expect our first baby in ——. You can imagine how we feel.

"I want to prepare myself in every way, so will you send me—etc., etc."

It's the wanted baby who stands the best chance. The baby whose coming into the world is hailed with joy—the baby who is born into welcoming arms is the baby who stands the best chance for physical, mental, and spiritual well being. All the things to which he is entitled are more apt to come to the wanted baby.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Bird for Tubercular Children.

"A short time ago I interested a club of girls in purchasing a canary for a cottage of tubercular children. The youngsters were simply delighted with it, but a terrible calamity happened—the bird took a bath and died—and now the children are heartbroken. Do you know of some one who would donate another bird to this cause? L. M."

If you have a singing canary you can no longer keep, or have more than one, won't you give it to these afflicted children who found so much pleasure in their other pet? You could help so much to brighten up their cottage.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

Local muskmelon growing on comparatively small acreage often will prove profitable for supplying small markets or selling at roadside markets. The United States department of agriculture has concluded a survey of muskmelon growing and finds that where car lot shipments are not the usual rule, local growers can produce and sell advantageously.

Sandy loam and silt loam soils, warm and well drained, are best adapted to melon growing, says W. R. Beattie, horticulturist of the federal bureau of plant industry. Sandy river bottoms and rich clay loams, however, often produce some of the finest melons. An abundance of quickly available plant food is one of the most rigid requirements.

Insect pests and diseases hamper the industry and therefore mean that a rotation of crops must be exercised so that the melons do not appear on the same soil more than once in five or six years and with no related vine crops in the rotation. Seed treatment and dust or spraying also are necessary. One of the most urgent needs in established melon growing sections, says Mr. Beattie, is for improvement of quality and standardization of packs.

Bride's First Dinner.

At the first dinner I gave soon after I was married, I had veal roast and everything that goes with it. When I served the meat, I noticed that the face of the young man guest went all awry when he took his first bite. Just an instant later my husband coughed and sputtered. My girl friend's mouth went into the awfulest pucker. I was serving proudly and had not yet started eating but I watched each face with a growing sickness around my heart.

My husband blurted out, "Sweetheart, what in the name of all creation did you put on this meat!" By this time I had gone white. "Cracker crumbs, butter, salt, and pepper," I hastened to inform him. "Well it's soap—nothing else but!" he managed to say between coughs and gulps.

Quickly it dawned on me what I had done. I always kept my bread and cracker crumbs in a large glass on a shelf in the cupboard. One day my soap chips box was just about empty, so I emptied the remainder of the contents into a glass to save space. The glass was identical to the one I kept the crumbs in, and when preparing the veal I had taken the wrong glass and generously sprinkled my roast with the soap chips!

My company treated it as a huge joke, and luckily the rest of the dinner, excepting the gravy, was excellent. But it was an experience that embarrassed me beyond words.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Five Minute Cake.

The following recipe for a five minute cake is also called the "lazy wife cup cake." It is a cup cake put together in the easiest possible manner and we can use the regulation recipe or lessen some of the ingredients somewhat. Jocosely it has been said that this is a cake batter which it is a virtue to beat. The beating of batter is a pleasure that some people never discover, but once they discover how interesting it is they will have cakes of better composition; at any rate, cakes that are not crumbly.

This cake can be baked in individual portions in muffin tins and iced either on the top of the little cake or on the bottom and be as dainty as a bonbon. We can use these proportions: One cup sugar, one-fourth cup butter or other fat, one and one-half cups well sifted pastry flour, one teaspoon baking powder, two eggs, one teaspoon vanilla, two-thirds cup milk.

It is easy to see that this may be a rather thin batter; therefore, it must be put together as expertly as possible, even in this lazy wife way. The beating must be excellent. Put the flour, sugar, and butter into a mixing bowl, break the eggs into a measuring cup, fill up the cup with milk—it will be about two-thirds of a cup of milk—add the vanilla, pour this wet in with the dry ingredients and beat well for five minutes. If the batter for this cake is not vigorously beaten it will have fuanellike holes. It is easy to beat because the batter is thinner than that for regulation cup cake.

Of course, it is a delusion and a snare to say or think that any cake can be made in five minutes, even though the combining of ingredients can be done in that time. The oven must be lighted, the utensils got out, the ingredients collected, and then there is the baking and icing of the cake. Finally, there is the cleaning up, which is simple if done at once, but not so simple if left until the batter dries.

Betty Compton Smiles at Crowd on Her Way West

Betty Compton, an entirely different person from Betty Compson, smiled through a coat of Bermuda tan yesterday for a crowd at the La Salle street station. She was on her way from New York, where she appeared in "Fifty Million Frenchmen," to Hollywood, where she will act for Warner Bros. On the same train were John Wray of "All Quiet on the Western Front" fame, and Carl Laemmle Jr., who is 22 years old and a movie producer.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

There is a general tendency today for people to think that the more they pay for something, the better it must be.

While this may be true of merchandise, it is distinctly not true when applied to second mortgage financing. Financing of any type must stand or fall by whether or not it accomplishes its object at fair and reasonable cost.

It has been our constant effort to reduce second mortgage costs, without sacrificing any efficiency in handling transactions. Our rates on loans of this type are today the lowest in Chicago. We charge 7% accruing interest and a commission which works out as follows:

$65.00 per $1,000 for 2 years
$90.00 per $1,000 for 3 year.
